GAMEDAY TRADITION

Folsom Field was named "Football Field of the Year" in 2002 by Sports Turf Managers Association

Over 13 million fans have attended CU games in the last 60 years

With the Boulder Flatirons as a backdrop, Folsom Field provides one of the most scenic college football settings in the nation at 5,334 feet above sea level

There is quite possibly no more intimidating entrance in college football than when the Buffs run onto the field behind their thundering mascot, Ralphie, a live 1,200 lb. buffalo, in front of 50,000-plus black-and gold-clad screaming fans who reach a fever pitch

*Fight CU down the field, CU must win
Fight, fight for victory,
CU knows no defeat
We'll roll up a mighty score,
Never give in
Shoulder to shoulder
We will Fight! Fight!
Fight! Fight! Fight!*

CU AND NIKE

The University of Colorado and NIKE, Inc., have a contract which has the world's largest shoe manufacturer providing both equipment and financial support to the CU athletic department. Colorado's exclusive contract with NIKE calls for the manufacturer to supply all 16 varsity sport programs with practice gear and game uniforms.

CU has benefited from NIKE's foresight as the company lends its research for new products and designs to make things better for the student-athlete. This past summer CU unveiled a revolutionary new uniform design by NIKE, made exclusively for the Buffs.

The revolutionary changes involve new age fabrics and materials that will benefit the players during game conditions. From a design standpoint, incorporating one of the official school colors, silver, back into the uniform for the first time since 1981 was one of the main components of the makeover. Overall, it will make for a faster looking, modern design.

DENVER PRO SPORTS

A 2004 survey by Sports Business Journal ranked Denver's sports fans as the most loyal and enthusiastic of America's top 41 sports cities

Over six million fans attend sporting events in Metro Denver each year

Coors Field

Metro Denver is truly a "sports" city—with the fans and facilities to prove it. In the past 10 years, new facilities have been constructed for all of the city's eight major sports franchises

Colleges with Division I-A football within a half-hour drive of cities that boast a team in each of the five major sports leagues (NFL, NBA, MLB, NHL, MLS):

- Boston (Boston College)
- Baltimore/Washington D.C. (Maryland)
- Chicago (Northwestern)
- Dallas (Southern Methodist, TCU)
- Denver (Colorado)

INVESCO Field at Mile High ($400 million) - home to the two-time world champion Denver Broncos and Denver Outlaws (outdoor lacrosse)

Coors Field ($215 million) - home to the Colorado Rockies

Pepsi Center ($180 million) - home to the Denver Nuggets, two-time Stanley Cup champion Colorado Avalanche, and Metro Denver's newest teams, the Colorado Mammoth (indoor lacrosse), and the 2005 Arena Bowl Champion Colorado Crush (arena football)

Dick's Sporting Goods Field ($65 million) - new home to the Colorado Rapids soccer team

In recent years, Denver has hosted the MLB All-Star Game (1998), the NHL All-Star Game (2001), Game 7 of the Stanley Cup Finals (2001), the NBA All-Star Game (2005) and the AFC Championship Game (2006)

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

"A herd of buffaloes can only move as fast as the slowest buffalo. And when the herd is hunted, it is the slowest and weakest ones at the back that are killed first. This natural selection is good for the herd as a whole, because the general speed and health of the whole group keeps improving by the regular killing of the weakest members."

Assistant S&C Coach Jared Aurich,
Director of S&C Jeff Pitman and
Assistant S&C Coach/Dietician
Allison Maurer*

"The strength of the Buffalo lies not in the individual but in the herd."

Head Strength Coach Jeff Pitman is in his second year at Colorado from Boise State where he spent the previous seven years. At CU, Pitman supervises the training programs for all of the Buffs' 16 varsity sports

Colorado's Speed-Strength & Conditioning Center is home to over 300 varsity student-athletes, where each one is trained by certified staff in an individualized and sport-specific manner ◆Bowl Championship Series: The BCS is a five-game arrangement for postseason college football that is designed to match the two top-rated teams in a national championship game and to create competitive match-ups between eight other highly regarded teams in four other games. The following bowls have these conference champions serving as host/regional tie-in teams: Fiesta (Big 12), Orange (ACC), Rose (Big 10 and Pac-10) and Sugar (SEC). Should a BCS Bowl's regional tie-in be ranked No. 1 or 2 in the final BCS Standings, when such bowl is not hosting the national championship game, the No. 1 or 2 team shifts to the title game and the bowl shall select a replacement team from the pool of eligible BCS teams. That pool consists of any Division I-A team ranked in the top 14 in the final BCS Standings, or in the top 16 if ranked higher than a champion of a conference that has an automatic berth, provided it has won nine games. Notre Dame will receive a berth if it is in the top eight in the BCS.

In 2006, a new double-hosting system was instituted, as the four BCS bowls will rotate hosting two games a season, its traditional bowl a week before the national title game with the Sugar up in the rotation for 2007. The champions of the ACC, Big East, Big 10, Big 12, Pac 10 and SEC have automatic berths into the BCS in 2006 and 2007, with standards for annual automatic qualification for conference champions after the 2008 and 2009 seasons (though the conference-bowl tie-ins supercede). Criteria is also in place to allow for champions from Conference USA, MAC, MWC, Sun Belt and WAC, though no more than one team from those conferences will be eligible for BCS Selection. Since the original Bowl Alliance in 1993, which preceded the BCS, the Nos. 1 and 2 teams have met nine times in the postseason (14 seasons); it happened just eight times in the 57 seasons previous (1936-1992).

The BCS Standings are formulated from a statistical rating system calculated from the USA Today Coaches' and the Harris Interactive polls, and a composite of six nationally published computer rankings. The three polls are weighted and averaged to create a school's BCS average and ranking. The payouts for 2007 will again be between $14-18 million per school, depending on conference affiliation, with a second conference participant netting a minimum payout of $4.5 million. (Note: 6-6 teams are eligible for bowl participation if their conferences have agreements or if slots in at-large bowls remain unfilled.)

"The University of Colorado, and Boulder, is a town which stops where the Rocky Mountains begin. Normally in America such a superb site would be occupied by a golf course, but somebody goofed and instead they built what may be the most beautifully situated campus in the world... if anyone asks you to Boulder, I have one word of advice: 'Go.'"

From the London (England) Observer Magazine article, "Us and Them," by Simon Hoggart (April 23, 1989)

Often called the best of the United States' public universities by the Fiske Guide to Colleges, that belief was again strengthened when the University of Colorado received the largest donation ever given to an American public institution of higher learning. The quarter-billion dollar gift to run an institute for cognitive disabilities, it reinforced the fact that CU students not only have the minds to match its mountains, but they climb, and create, those mountains.

Founded in 1876 at the foot of the Flatirons, over 130 years has transformed the University of Colorado from a lone building on a bleak, windswept hill to one of the nation's leading public research institutions. Established in 1861, the University was formally founded in 1876, the year Colorado became a state. The doors of Old Main opened the following year with 44 students, an instructor and the President who taught and lived there with his family, pasturing his horse nearby.

The Boulder campus encompasses just under 800 acres on the main campus, east campus (which includes a research park), Williams Village and the Mountain Research Station north of nearby Nederland (which supports ecology, chemistry and geology). In 1996 the Board of Regents purchased 308 acres of land in unincorporated Boulder County, now informally known as the south campus, in an effort to insure the growth of the University well into this century.

While over 28,000 students are educated on the main campus, another 27,000 study at the University of Colorado at Denver and the Anschutz Medical Center, with 8,000 at the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs. Nine elected Regents and President Hank Brown who was named to the position in 2005, lead the three-campus system, while each campus has a Chancellor who serves as the chief academic and administrative officer. Dr. G. P. "Bud" Peterson is in his second year as chancellor of the Boulder campus.

Students can enter any of 10 schools and colleges offering more than 2,500 courses in 150 fields, representing a full range of disciplines in the humanities, social sciences, physical and biological sciences, the fine and performing arts, and the professions.

The largest University in the Centennial State is a big school, but its northern Italian architecture, named fourth in a ranking of the "most architecturally successful campuses in the country," in The Campus as a Work of Art, creates an intimate, visitor-friendly public space thanks to the varicolored sandstone and red-tiled roof facade of more than 200 buildings created by its rural Tuscany influence.

There are 20 residence halls that dot the campus, with more than 1,080 students enrolled in five residential academic programs, providing undergraduates with shared learning and living experiences. Colorado's Greek system, which is comprised of more than 2,000 students, became the first in the nation to ban alcohol from its houses.

Many of the high-tech companies located along the Front Range owe their origins to CU-Boulder's cutting-edge science.

CU has shown that RNA can act as a catalyst in biochemical reactions, developed the first classification system of human chromosomes, created the first national model to assess child development, successfully completed the first instance of human cloning, identified the battered child syndrome, discovered the process of aging is under direct genetic control, developed ways of dealing with natural hazards, created the coldest temperature on earth, and alerted the nation to heightened academic pressures on kindergarten children.

CU-Boulder has played a major role in NASA space programs, designing and building many scientific instruments flown in outer space, and graduated 17 men and women who became astronauts, including the late Jack Swigert, one of the three astronauts in the crippled Apollo 13 mission who made it dock to Earth safely from the moon. When the Hubble Space Telescope was launched in 1990, it was carrying seven major instruments, including a high-resolution spectrograph to study the evolution of stars and designed and built by an international science team led by astronomer Jack Brandt of CU-Boulder. Since Hubble has been up, CU-Boulder faculty and students have been among the top users of Hubble of any institution in the world. CU-Boulder is the only university in the country where undergraduate students have operated a NASA satellite.

The University has produced 19 Rhodes Scholars, five of which were former football student-athletes at CU, with Jim Hansen the most recent recipient in 1992. Faculty member Thomas Cech, a distinguished professor of chemistry and biochemistry, won the 1989 Nobel Prize in chemistry. Other notable alumni include former United States Supreme Court Justice

Byron “Whizzer” White, former big band leader Glenn Miller and actor Robert Redford.

A premier institution in and of itself, the Boulder campus is in good company with some of the finest campuses in the country:

- ◆ Colorado is one of the four most outstanding universities in the United States according to the 2007 Fiske Guide to Colleges (with Brown, Stanford and Virginia), based on academics, social life and quality of life.

- ◆ The U.S. News & World Report ranked CU-Boulder 34th among the nation’s Top 50 Public National Universities in its 2007 Best Colleges issue. The rankings were based on factors such as academic reputation, retention, faculty resources, student selectivity and financial resources.

- ◆ Three undergraduate specialty programs were ranked in the top 20 nationally in the 2007 U.S. World & News Report issue: business entrepreneurship (18th), aerospace engineering (18th) and civil engineering (19th). The publication ranked the academic programs overall for engineering (34th) and business (37th), and also cited 16 UCB graduate school programs in the nation’s top 50, led by atomic, molecular and optical physics, which it ranked No. 1.

- ◆ And in April 2004, The Economist of London ranked CU as the 11th best public university in the world, as well as one of the 50 best universities of any kind, based on criteria such as highly cited researchers and Nobel laureates in selected fields.

If the aphorism, “Somewhere between the Rockies and reality,” seems too good to believe, then come for a visit. Start with a walk on the historic Pearl Street Mall, a downtown pedestrian mall that is the ceremonial heart of the city actually that works despite the efforts of its street theatre.

Visitors may be so taken in by the scenery, the mall, Tudors and Victorians they may forget the University that put it all together. From Pearl Street, Broadway leads directly onto campus where the University of Colorado Museum and the CU Heritage Center, in the original Old Main building, which introduces the University’s past and present. Visitors can experience the University’s cosmopolitan atmosphere by visiting Fiske Planetarium, Sommers-Bausch Observatory, and Norlin Library. Lively performances are staged by the Artist Series, Department of Theatre and Dance, and the College of Music, and movie fans can relax with classic, contemporary, and avant garde films. Summer months bring the annual Shakespeare Festival to campus.

Take in the fresh mountain air on any part of 100 miles of trails and 30,000 acres of open space. Climb the Flatirons or in Eldorado Canyon State Park. Swim or board sail at the Boulder Reservoir while elite runners sprint around it.

Rest assured, like the prophesy of an Arapaho Indian Chief, “If you leave Boulder, you will return.”

MASCOT/NICKNAME

The University of Colorado has one of the more unique mascots in all of intercollegiate athletics, a real buffalo named Ralphie.

The live buffalo mascot leads the football team out on the field both at the start of the game and second half. It is truly one of the special sights that exist anywhere in college or professional sports, especially for opposing teams, who often stop in their tracks watching the massive buffalo round the end zone and head directly at their sideline.

The buffalo first appeared in 1934, three weeks after a contest to select an official school nickname by the Silver & Gold newspaper had come to an end and "Buffaloes" was the winning entry. For the final game of the '34 season, a group of students paid $25 to rent a buffalo calf along with a real cowboy as his keeper. The calf was the son of Killer, a famed bison at Trails End Ranch in Fort Collins. It took the cowboy and four students to keep the calf under control on the sidelines, a 7-0 win at the University of Denver on Thanksgiving Day.

Prior to 1934, CU athletic teams usually were referred to as the "Silver and Gold," but other nicknames teams were sometimes called included Silver Helmets, Yellow Jackets, Hornets, Arapahoes, Big Horns, Grizzlies and Frontiersmen. The student newspaper decided to sponsor a national contest in the summer of 1934, with a $5 prize to go to the author of the winning selection. Entries, over 1,000 in all, arrived from almost every state in the union. Athletic Director Harry Carlson, graduate manager Walter Franklin and Kenneth Bundy of the Silver and Gold were the judges.

Local articles first reported that Claude Bates of New Madrid, Mo., and James Proffitt of Cincinnati, Ohio, were co-winners for the prize as both submitted "Buffaloes" as their entry. But 10 days later, the newspaper declared Boulder resident Andrew Dickson the winner, after a follow-up revealed his submission of "Buffaloes" had actually arrived several days before those of the original winners. Through the years, synonyms which quickly came into use included "Bisons," "Bufs," "Thundering Herd," "Stampeding Herd," "Golden Avalanche," and "Golden Buffaloes."

Live buffaloes made appearances at CU games on and off through the years, usually in a pen on the field or sometimes driven around in a cage; in the 1940s, the school kept a baby buffalo in a special pen at the University Riding Academy. The first named buffalo was "Mr. Chips," who appeared for the first time at the 1957 CU Days kickoff rally, as supporter Mahlon White donated him to the school, and it was cared for by a men's honorary.

A few years passed between a live mascot on the sideline and the tradition Colorado fans have come to know so well. In 1966, John Lowery, the father of a CU freshman from Lubbock, Texas, donated to the school a six-month old buffalo calf from Sedgewick, Colo.

For a while, she was billed as "Rraalph," but the origin of the name is in some doubt. Some say it was given by the student body after sounds she allegedly made while running and snorting; others say it was named for Ralph Jay Wallace, the junior class president at the time; and the original handlers will tell a third version. Regardless, an astute fan soon discovered that the buffalo was in fact a female, thus the name alteration to Ralphie.

The initial tradition was for CU's five sophomore class officers to run the buffalo around the stadium in a full loop. They would pick her up from caretaker William "Bud" Hays at the Green Mountain Riding Stables, and would run her for two hours in the morning to tire her a bit to keep her under control by the time the game started. At the conclusion of the run, the fans would break into the "Buffalo Stomp," which would literally shake the stadium in deafening fashion as the team took the field. But CU officials soon had the tradition stopped because of the actual physical damage it was causing.

Around that same time, head coach Eddie Crowder was approached with the idea the charging buffalo running out on the field before the game with the team behind her.

A young Ralphie IV with John Parker

Crowder thought it was a great idea, and the debut of this great tradition took place on October 28, 1967, CU's homecoming game against Oklahoma State. Though OSU won the game, 10-7, the tradition was here to stay, though those who had some training in such an endeavor as working with a wild animal eventually replaced the sophomores. The five sophomores appointed themselves as the board of directors of a fundraising effort to bring Ralphie to the '67 Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston, raising the necessary money through selling stock.

Ralphie attended every CU home football game for 13 years (including all bowls), and retired at the end of the 1978 season. CU's first Ralphie achieved nationally celebrity status, and was even kidnapped in 1970 by some Air Force Academy students as well as being named the school's 1971 Homecoming Queen at the height of the anti-establishment era.

Ralphie's replacement on the sidelines was Ralphie II, making her first-ever appearance at CU's final home game of the 1978 season. The buffalo's original name was Moon, short for Moonshine, but the name Ralphie had become so popular and traditional that it was restored. The Bank of Boulder, a significant contributor through the years to the Ralphie program, purchased and donated Ralphie II to CU. At the age of 12, and after serving the Buffs for 10 years, Ralphie II passed away on September 19, 1987, following a 31-17 CU win over Stanford.

Ralphie III was pressed into action earlier than anticipated, as she had been in training for the 1988 season. Originally named "Tequila," she made her debut on November 7, 1987, when the Buffs beat Missouri, 27-10. After over 10 years of service, she passed away in January 1998, at the age of 13.

Colorado's latest mascot is Ralphie IV, donated to the university by media and sports entrepreneur Ted Turner.

Ralphie IV was born in April 1997 on the Flying D Ranch in Gallatin Gateway, Montana, which is a part of Turner Ranches, the largest ranch operation in the United States. Named "Rowdy" by ranch hands, she was separated from her mother when she was about a month old and was literally found in the jaws of a coyote with bite marks around her neck. She survived the attack and was bottle-fed by the hands for four months. She was released back to the herd but wouldn't bond with them, so the ranch hands took her back in and fed her grasses and grain. It was then that she was donated to CU as a yearling early in the spring of 1998. John Parker, who trained and housed both Ralphie II and III, brought her back to Colorado from Montana and supervised all of her early training.

Parker retired as Ralphie's caretaker in May 2000. Long-time CU supporters Dale and Lynn Johnson housed Ralphie for the following year, with Parker's assistant, Ted Davis, assuming the program duties for the 2000 season.

In the summer of 2001, two former Ralphie Handlers and CU graduates, Ben Frei and Kevin Priola, took over the program. Together they coordinate the selection and managing of up to 12 student handlers as well as all aspects of training.

Ralphie IV, now full grown and mature, weighs in at about 1,200 pounds, about three times her weight when she made her debut against Colorado State at Mile High Stadium in Denver on September 5, 1998. A strong and powerful animal, she can reach speeds of 25 miles per hour. Her home is an undisclosed ranch in nearby Henderson.

FOLSOM FIELD

Folsom Field, named after legendary University of Colorado Coach Frederick Folsom, opened for the 1924 season and has been the home of Buffs ever since. This will be the 84th season the Buffs will play their home games on the "hilltop." The 400th game in the stadium's history took place in 2002.

Colorado owns one of the nation's best all-time home records, and in the previous 83 seasons of play at Folsom, the Buffaloes are 282-136-10, a winning percentage of .671.

The stadium was dedicated on October 11, 1924, as Colorado defeated Regis College, 39-0. It actually was the second home game of the season, as CU closed out playing at Gamble Field the week before with a 31-0 win over Western State.

It originally was called Colorado Stadium, the name being changed to Folsom Field in 1944 following Folsom's death. In addition, old 24th Street was also changed to Folsom Street to honor the man who coached Colorado teams three different times totaling 15 years between 1895 and 1915. His 76.5 winning percentage (77-23-2) is still tops among all coaches ever at CU.

CU had played its games at Gamble Field for two decades, where seating was limited to temporary bleachers. In the winter of 1923-24, CU President George Norlin studied the possibility of a new stadium, as the approaching completion of a sparkling new gymnasium (Carlson Gym), the inadequate number of seats at Gamble Field (roughly 9,000) and the growing interest in physical education and intercollegiate athletics demanded that a remedy needed to take place soon.

Investigation of a natural ravine just east of the site of the gymnasium as a site for the new stadium, suggested by professor Whitney Huntington, was not only a convenient location, but by using it a great expense could be avoided. After a financing plan was worked out, CU's own construction department began moving dirt with a steam shovel on January 14, 1924.

The new structure had an original capacity of 26,000, featuring wooden bleacher seating over cement, and quarter-mile running track. A California red wood, dipped in creosote, was selected as the initial material, as estimates at the time put a lifetime of around 13 years for the wood. There were 22 sections divided by radial aisles installed, the same set-up in the lower bowl that still exists today.

Accounts at the time put the cost of the stadium at around $2.60 per seat, instead of $10 had concrete been used; the total cost was $65,000. By comparison, the cost to construct Carlson Gym was $350,000.

With expansion in mind when originally built, it was by design rather easy to add an upper deck. In 1956, Folsom Field's capacity was upped to 45,000 when a second deck was erected around two-thirds of the stadium. Some 6,000 more seats were added in 1967 when the running track was removed and the team dressing facilities were constructed at the north end of the field.

Improvements continued, as the gigantic six-level press box facility was added on the west side for the start of the 1968 season. It also serves as the home for CU's Flatirons Club, a group of donors who financially support the athletic program.

In the summer of 1976, Folsom Field had another face-lift, as the wooden bleacher seats were removed and replaced with silver and gold aluminum bleachers, expanding the stadium to a capacity of 52,005.

The renovation of CU's team house in the summer of 1979 took away a few seats, changing the capacity to 51,463. The construction of the magnificent Dal Ward Center in 1991 added new bleacher seating in the north end zone and increased the capacity to 51,748. In 1992, the addition of a yellow concourse wall on the southeast side took away a few hundred seats, and corporate boxes (in 1995) lowered the capacity to 51,655.

The removal of a set of old rickety bleachers in 2001 and a few other changes placed the stadium capacity at 50,942, but that figure stood for just two seasons. The addition of suites and club seating on the east side, completed in August 2003, has increased the capacity to 53,750, an all-time Folsom Field high.

Prior to the 1971 season, the playing surface at Folsom Field was natural grass. Monsanto of St. Louis, Mo., replaced the natural grass with Astroturf for the 1971 campaign, with the first game being played on the artificial surface against the University of Wyoming on September 18 (the Buffs won 56-13); it was a godsend, as that very morning, Boulder received a rare late summer snowstorm that blanketed the field with more than two feet of snow.

The original Astroturf surface was replaced with a “new rug” for the start of the 1978 season, and in the summer of 1989, “Astroturf-8” was installed, the third artificial surfacing in the school’s history. Folsom was covered with artificial surfaces for 28 seasons (168 games), and it was fairly friendly for the Buffs, which posted a 110-56-2 record in those games.

In the spring of 1999, Folsom Field returned to natural grass, as “SportGrass” was installed on the stadium floor. The project, which included bio-thermal heating, drainage and a sub-air system, cost $1.2 million. Video display boards, known as “BuffVision” were also added in the summer of 1999 at a cost of $3.6 million.

DAL WARD ATHLETIC CENTER

The 1990-91 athletic season was a landmark one for the University of Colorado in two areas. The year produced national championships in football (its first) and skiing (its 14th at the time), and the men’s basketball team reached the NIT Final Four.

That was also the year that the magnificent Dal Ward Athletic Center became a reality. The entire construction process was completed in less than nine months, from ground-breaking in December 1990, to completion the following August.

The $14 million building was completely funded through private donations. This multi-functional, state-of-the-art structure is one of the top facilities anywhere in college athletics.

The Dal Ward Center boasts 92,000 square feet that includes academic and computer centers, sports medicine and weight training centers, a full-service kitchen and dining area, an auditorium, men’s and women’s lockerrooms, a player’s lounge and offices for athletic administration and coaches.

Construction on the project actually began in November, 1990, with the demolition of the old team house building, which had stood in the north end of Folsom Field since its erection in 1967. The foundation was dug and concrete poured over the next couple of months, with construction of the actual building starting in February, 1991. The structure was available for the football team’s use by mid-August, with the remainder of the building completed later that fall.

The building is named for Dallas Ward, the football coach who led CU into the Big Seven Conference in 1948. Ward was the head coach for the Buffaloes for 11 seasons (1948-1958), compiling a 63-41-6 record, with his teams noted for the single wing offense.

The facility has several outstanding attributes, which benefit both the athletic department and the entire CU-Boulder campus. The tile roof, native stone walls and traditional Italianate architecture were selected to complement the style of the Boulder campus. The Center also establishes a new sense of entry to the campus coming from the north. The building features a dramatic two-story entry and lobby space with a grand staircase.

In 2007, several areas of the building were updated, courtesy the financial contributions of several donors. The varsity room, football lockerroom and the head coach’s office received complete makeovers and are among the best in the nation.

PRESIDENT HANK BROWN

Hank Brown was named the 21st president of the University of Colorado in June 2005, as he was advanced as the sole finalist for the position on an interim basis two months earlier and took over the reins of the university system on August 1, 2005.

Brown, 67, served in that interim capacity until May 12, 2006, when CU's Board of Regents officially named him as the permanent choice for the position. A national search produced Brown as the most qualified candidate to lead the university's three campuses in Boulder, Denver and Colorado Springs.

Since taking the helm at the University, among an impressive list of first year accomplishments, Brown freed up $1 million by restructuring and reorganizing the system office, including eliminating 11 positions, appointing a treasurer, prohibited the use of state funds for alcohol purchases, revamped the University's accounting procedures, established "open hours" meetings, reinvested $1 million from savings from the president's office into critical areas such as compliance and IT security and created a Blue Ribbon Commission on diversity.

Restoring trust by revitalizing a culture of openness, transparency and accountability has become a hallmark of his presidency, and he has led this cultural shift by example.

Additionally, the University has seen an upswing in several areas during his tenure. Out-of-state applications and fundraising both increased, and research funds increased by more than $40 million from the previous year before he took over. He also launched a successful $7.5 million Pioneer Fund campaign to raise matching funds for Pre-Collegiate graduate scholarships.

Brown returned to his alma mater from the Daniels Fund, where he had served as president and Chief executive officer since July 1, 2002. The Daniels Fund is a billion dollar foundation left by the late cable entrepreneur, Bill Daniels, and in his first two years there, he reduced overhead by 35% and shifted $2 million a year to increase grants and scholarships.

Prior to his employment with the Daniels Fund, Brown served as the 11th president at the University of Northern Colorado.

Before Brown entered higher education, he spent several years in public service as one of the state's most popular politicians. A republican, he served one term in the United States Senate, representing Colorado from 1991-97. That followed five consecutive terms (1981-91) in the U.S. House as Colorado's representative from the 4th Congressional District. He also served in the Colorado Senate from 1972-76. Brown was elected and re-elected to the House of Representatives by margins ranging from 69 to 74 percent, the highest in the history of the District. He was elected to the U.S. Senate by a 13 percent victory margin.

Brown was also vice president with Monfort of Colorado (Greeley) from 1969 to 1980. He is both an attorney and a certified public accountant.

He earned his Bachelor's degree in Accounting from the University of Colorado-Boulder in 1961. As an undergraduate, he participated for three years in wrestling and was also a member of the freshman football team in addition to serving as CU's student body president.

He earned a Juris Doctorate degree from the University of Colorado Law School in 1969. While in Washington, Brown earned a Master of Law Degree in 1986 from George Washington University. In 1988, he passed the exam to become a C.P.A.

Brown also served his country, as he was in the United State Navy from 1962-66, achieving the rank of lieutenant. He volunteered for service in Vietnam and was decorated for his combat service as a forward air controller.

Brown was born February 12, 1940 in Denver and moved with his family to northern California, graduating from Menlo-Atherton High School where he lettered in football, wrestling and tennis. He starred as a prep wrestler, as he was the state runner-up as a junior and the state champion as a senior in the 191-pound classification. His father, Harry, was also an accomplished wrestler, as he was the national runner-up at Iowa State in the late 1930s.

He and his wife Nan live in Denver and they have three adult children, Harry, Christy, and Lori; and two grandchildren, Lilly and Hank.

CHANCELLOR G.P. "BUD" PETERSON

George P. "Bud" Peterson is in his second year as Chancellor of the University of Colorado at Boulder, assuming the position on July 15, 2006.

Peterson, 54, came to CU from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute (RPI) in Troy, N.Y., where he had served as provost for the previous six years.

As Chancellor, Dr. Peterson is the chief academic and administrative officer of the CU-Boulder campus. Throughout his career, he has played an active role in helping to establish the national education and research agendas, serving on numerous industry, government and academic task forces and committees.

Dr. Peterson attended Kansas State University and earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering in 1975 and a second Bachelor's degree in Mathematics in 1977. In 1980, he earned his third degree from the school, as he received his Master of Science in Engineering.

In 1985 he received a Doctorate in Mechanical Engineering from Texas A&M University. He served as a Visiting Research Scientist at the NASA Johnson Space Center before returning to Texas A&M as a faculty member in the Mechanical Engineering Department, where he conducted research and taught courses in thermodynamics and heat transfer. He was later named the Halliburton Professor of Mechanical Engineering and the College of Engineering's Tenneco Professor. While at Texas A&M, he held leadership positions as Head of the Mechanical Engineering Department, Executive Associate Dean of the College of Engineering, and Associate Vice Chancellor for the Texas A&M University System. In 1993-94, he served as Program Director for the Thermal Transport and Thermal Processing Division of the National Science Foundation.

A Fellow of both the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, Dr. Peterson is the author or co-author of 12 books or book chapters, 150 refereed journal articles, more than 150 conference publications and holds eight patents. He is a member of several professional organizations and the recipient of numerous national and international honors and awards for both teaching and research.

A student-athlete as an undergraduate at Kansas State, he earned three letters in football, playing wide receiver between 1972-74, starting as a junior and senior. He caught 30 passes for 359 yards in his career and was considered the best blocker among all of the Wildcat receivers.

Peterson was born September 1, 1952 in Prairie Village, Kansas, a suburb of Kansas City. He lettered in football, basketball and track at Shawnee Mission East High School and joined the KSU football team as a walk-on. He and his wife, Valerie, have four grown children, Keith, Emily, Brennan and Sean.

PROVOST PHIL DISTEFANO

Dr. Philip DiStefano returned to his role at provost the University of Colorado at Boulder campus in August 2006 after serving the school well for 19 months as interim chancellor.

He was promoted in December 2004 to chancellor, and guided the campus through some of its toughest times in history, helping to restore transparency and public trust in the school. He made several key hires, including that of current CU athletic director Mike Bohn.

In the role of provost, which he initially held for five years as "second-in-command" to the chancellor, he serves as the chief operating officer for most campus academic matters.

In a campus reorganization of oversight of intercollegiate athletics, which went into effect July 1, 2004, the athletic director reported to him. But DiStefano was no stranger to CU athletics, or intercollegiate athletics for that matter.

He served five years as the University of Colorado's faculty representative to the Big 12 Conference, as he assumed the role on June 1, 2000, and held it until appointing Dr. David Clough to the position in the spring of 2005.

DiStefano, 60, was just the fifth faculty representative to serve in that capacity for CU since 1947, as he replaced Dr. Jim Corbridge, who held the position from 1989 until his retirement in the spring of 2000. He was also the vice chancellor of academic affairs, as he was promoted to that position in July 1998, after serving on an interim basis for 10 months.

He came to CU in 1974 from the Ohio State University, where he earned his Doctorate in Philosophy in Humanities Education in June of that year. While at OSU, he spent three years as a teaching and research associate in humanities education.

DiStefano's first position at CU was that of an assistant professor for curriculum and instruction. He held that appointment for six years, and was promoted to associate professor with tenure in 1981. In June 1986, he was named professor of curriculum and instruction, a position he has maintained as vice chancellor. Also within that time frame, he served as an associate dean (1984-85) and as the director of graduate studies (1985-86).

In July 1986, he was named the Dean for the School of Education, a post he would hold for the next 10 years. In September 1996, he was appointed as the associate vice chancellor for academic affairs, serving in that role for one year until assuming his vice chancellor duties on an interim basis in September 1997.

He earned his bachelor's degree from Ohio State in humanities education in 1968, and received his master's in secondary education (English) from West Virginia University in 1971.

He was born September 21, 1946 in Steubenville, Ohio, and graduated from Steubenville Catholic Central High School. He is married to the former Yvonne Pasquarella, and the couple has three daughters, Gia, Nicole and Jennifer.

A life long sports enthusiast, one of his childhood and life-long friends is former major league baseball player Rich Donnelly, who is currently the third base coach for the Los Angeles Dodgers (and served the Colorado Rockies in a similar capacity for three-plus seasons).

He is very active in the Boulder community, serving on the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce as well as the Rotary Club. His hobbies include reading mysteries and biographies.

FACULTY REP DAVID CLOUGH

David Clough, professor of chemical and biological engineering, is in his third year as the University of Colorado's Faculty Athletic Representative (FAR) to the Big 12 Conference, as he was named to the position in March 2005.

Dr. Clough, 61, replaced Phil DiStefano, who had served in the role from June 1, 2000 until just shortly after his appointment as interim chancellor for the Boulder campus in 2005. Clough is only the sixth FAR in CU history, joining a very prestigious list: Walter Franklin (1947-1948), Warren Thompson (1949-1966), William Baughn (1967-1989), James Corbridge (1989-2000) and DiStefano (2000-2005).

Dr. Clough has had a significant impact on engineering education at CU-Boulder and beyond through career-long efforts to enhance the learning of engineering students. He has pioneered active- and cooperative-learning techniques in the College of Engineering and Applied Science, and in 1989 he originated the concept of the Integrated Teaching and Learning Laboratory (ITLL).

He also has been involved with student-athletes for a long time, as he's had a relationship with the CU athletic department for over 25 years. He played an integral role in Rhodes Scholarship candidacy of former football player Jim Hansen, an Academic All-American who was awarded the Rhodes in 1993; he is now teaching at M.I.T. and the two remain best of friends.

Dr. Clough received his bachelor's degree from the Case Institute of Technology (now Case Western Reserve University) in 1968 and his master's from CU-Boulder in 1969, both in chemical engineering. He worked as an engineer for E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Inc., from 1969 to 1972 before returning to CU-Boulder to earn his doctorate in 1975. He joined the faculty of the Department of Chemical Engineering at that time.

From 1986 to 1992 he served as the college's associate dean for academic affairs, playing a role in a number of important initiatives, including the Gemmill Engineering Library, the Herbst Humanities Program, and the ITLL. From 1993 through 1999, he was associate chair of the Department of Chemical Engineering and was responsible for significant improvements to the department's undergraduate advising program.

Known for his willingness to experiment with new educational concepts and technology, Dr. Clough has worked to reform traditional lecture classes into an interactive workshop format that greatly enhances the learning of students. Through these efforts, he has helped to reshape the way engineering is taught. The student-run Engineering Excellence Fund unanimously chose Dr. Clough as the first recipient of the Sullivan-Carlson Inspiration in Teaching Award in 1998. His students honored him with the AIChE Undergraduate Teaching Award three times (1996, 1997, 1998) and the college's Outstanding Advisor Award in 1993. He also has been given the college's Hutchinson Teaching Award and Peters Service Award. He received the first Boulder Faculty Assembly Teaching Award in 1980 and the Boulder Campus Outstanding Advisor Award in 1996. His merit as an educator has also been recognized outside CU, as in 1995, the American Society for Engineering Education (Rocky Mountain Section) presented him with its first Outstanding Educator Award.

In April 2000, he received the college's Distinguished Engineering Alumnus Award in the Education category. It recognized his significant impact on engineering education through pioneering the active learning concept for the ITLL, and in leading the college in changing traditional lecture courses to an active learning format.

He and his wife, Sydney, have four grown children, Astrid, William, Rodney and Damon. Dr. Clough's father, John W. Clough, was a chemical engineer, and his two brothers are retired engineers. The Clough family established a scholarship endowment in engineering at CU in honor of John Clough, who died in 1994.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR MIKE BOHN

Mike Bohn was introduced as just the sixth athletic director in University of Colorado history on April 13, 2005, returning to the surroundings where he starred as a prep athlete before embarking on a journey that would take him all over the western half of the United States and finally back home.

Bohn, 46, came to Colorado from San Diego State University, where he left an indelible imprint in just 18 months as the Aztecs' director of athletics. He agreed to a 5-year contract with the Buffaloes.

He replaced Jack Lengyel, who served as interim athletic director for five months after Dick Tharp stepped down in November 2004 after holding the position since 1996. Tharp had followed three legendary men in CU athletic history, Harry Carlson (1927-65), Eddie Crowder (1965-84) and Bill Marolt (1984-96).

Aside from Lengyel, who came out of retirement to serve in an interim capacity, Bohn is the first person to be named CU athletic director without having previously worked within the CU system. Carlson and Crowder were coaches upon being named, Marolt returned to CU where he coached for 10 years before leaving for the U.S. Olympic ski team, and Tharp was a university attorney with strong CU-Boulder campus ties.

He accomplished a lot in his first 100 days on the job, from branching out into the community with Chancellor Phil DiStefano at town meetings, to implementing the YOUR TEAM campaign to raise significant funds for immediate scholarship and capital project needs. Several other creative ideas, especially in marketing including Ralphies' Kids Roundup, were established to create better ties with CU and area communities.

Those first 100 days were just the beginning, and just two years into his service to CU, he has made major improvements in fundraising, including the establishment of the Buff Club Cabinet, huge in-roads in community relations, and has worked to balance a budget by making tough but necessary cuts, guaranteeing the future success of Colorado's 16 intercollegiate sports. He already has overseen the hiring of four head coaches, including Dan Hawkins (football), Jeff Bzdelik (men's basketball), Kathy McConnell-Miller (women's basketball) and Roy Edwards (men's golf).

Mile High Sports Magazine selected Bohn as its Sports Person of the Year for 2006, as the publication recognized his efforts in his first year on the job.

Bohn's brief tenure at San Diego State featured many remarkable accomplishments, including the instilling of energy, enthusiasm, accountability and determination into the Aztec staff. Officially named SDSU athletic director on October 6, 2003, his immediate task was to unify the athletic department, the campus and the community of San Diego.

Bohn strategically and steadily restructured the SDSU athletic department with emphasis on fund raising, fiscal responsibility, compliance and academics.

Under his watch, San Diego State set a new single-game attendance record in football when more than 57,000 fans watched the Aztecs' win over Idaho State in the 2004 season opener. The average football attendance of 35,995 in 2004 was the best at the school since 1993, with the increase of 14,369 fans per game marking the third largest attendance jump in the country.

The enthusiasm spread to other sports. SDSU blanked Houston, 4-0, and set a college baseball record with a crowd of 40,106 on hand in the opener of San Diego's PETCO Park. When the Aztecs hosted Colorado State in a 2005 Big Monday basketball battle, SDSU set a school record with nearly 4,000 students crammed into Cox Arena for the event.

He landed the San Diego State position after serving five years as athletic director at the University of Idaho (1999-2003), where he first made his mark as a lead administrator in the area of transformation.

At Idaho, he developed projects for new facilities, increased community and corporate support, and produced balanced budgets for the department after inheriting an operation that had accumulated a deficit of over $1 million.

During his five years in Moscow, he oversaw the transition of the Vandals to the Division I-A ranks from the Big Sky Conference. Under Bohn, Idaho began construction on the Vandal Athletics Center, the first facilities improvement for UI athletics in two decades. He was also the driving force behind a 20-percent increase in the Vandal Scholarship Fund and a $350,000 surge in annual corporate support.

Between Idaho and San Diego State, Bohn hired 12 head coaches in all as well as several administrators.

Bohn prepared for his career goal of becoming a Division I athletic director entirely in the state of Colorado, his adopted "native" state despite being born in Illinois; he moved to Colorado with his family when he was 1-year old.

His first job in athletic administration came at the Air Force Academy, where he worked for the better part of nine years (1984-92). During his tenure in Colorado Springs, Bohn advanced from an intern to assistant athletic director. He served as executive director of the Blue and Silver Club, as well as other external operations throughout his stay at the academy. He played a major role in the increase of football season ticket sales from 6,000 to 20,000 and implemented a fundraising campaign that generated $16 million for stadium improvements.

From 1992 to 1995, Bohn served as Director of Marketing for the College Football Association, where he worked for one of the most respected people in the history of college athletics, Chuck Neinas (the one-time Big Eight Conference commissioner). The CFA, the precursor to the current Bowl Championship Series, consisted of six major football conferences encompassing 67 universities. He created and developed the CFA "Good Works Team" which recognized significant off-the-field accomplishments in the area of community relations of 11 football student-athletes nationally (a team that is still selected today by the American Football Coaches Association).

Bohn was involved in many facets of the organization's operations, including the administration of a $67 million television package involving ABC, ESPN and ESPN2. He also formulated a blueprint for the promotion and development of the image of college football as a whole.

He then moved on to Colorado State University, where he spent the next three years (1996-98) as an associate athletic director for the Rams. At CSU, he was responsible for all external revenue-producing operations, including ticket sales, fund raising through the Greater Ram Club, licensing, corporate sales, signage, capital campaigns and broadcasting rights fees, as well as special events.

Along with increasing revenue on several fronts, Bohn helped escalate student interest in CSU athletics while working with the Associated Students of Colorado State University.

He earned his bachelor's of arts degree from the University of Kansas in 1983, where he was recruited as a quarterback and also played baseball. He then graduated with a master's degree in sports administration from Ohio University in 1984. While earning his master's, he worked as a graduate assistant football coach for the Bobcats.

Bohn is a former member of the NCAA Championships Cabinet and the Division I-A Athletics Directors Association Executive Council. During his stay at Idaho, he was a member of the Big West Conference executive committee and served on the University of Idaho executive council.

Born November 16, 1960 in Hinsdale, Ill., he graduated from Boulder High School where he lettered in football, basketball and baseball. He is married to the former Kim Zeren, and the couple has two grown children, Michaelyn and Brandon.

DID YOU KNOW?... Mike Bohn is the first athletic administrator to work at three of the state's Division I-A colleges (CU, Air Force, Colorado State and Denver). Only one coach is thought to have spent time at three schools: Terry Dunn served as assistant basketball coach at AFA (1991-94), CSU (1994-96) and CU (1996-2004). Several high profile people have logged time in at two of the schools; those who spent time at CU and one other include assistant football coaches Kay Dalton (CU/CSU), Chuck Heater (CU/CSU), Tom McMahon (CU/CSU) and Dan Stavely (CU/DU); track coaches Don Meyers (CU/CSU) and Jerry Quiller (CU/CSU); sports information directors Steve Hatchell (CU/CSU) and Tim Simmons (CU/CSU); gymnastics coach Dan Garcia (CU/DU), golf coaches Eric Hoos and Sammie Chergo (both assistants at CU and then head coaches at DU); assistant women's basketball coach Tanya Haave (CU/DU); trainers Eric Fry (DU/CU), Ed Lochrie (CU/DU) and Nicole Makris (DU/CU); and fundraiser Chris Kiser (CU/CSU).

HEAD COACH DAN HAWKINS

Dan Hawkins was named the 23rd head football coach in University of Colorado history on December 16, 2005, officially taking over the reins of the program on New Year's Day 2006.

He is entering his seventh season as a head coach on the Division I-A level, owning a record of 55-21. He is the 11th active winningest head coach with an overall career mark of 94-

33-1 (73.8 winning percentage) in 11 seasons, which is the eighth best mark for those coaches with at least 100 games under their belts.

Hawkins, 46, came to Colorado from Boise State, where he compiled a 53-11 record in five seasons as head coach. That included three 11-plus win seasons, and 31-game winning streaks in both Western Athletic Conference play as well as at home on Boise State's famous blue artificial turf field. His teams won or shared four WAC titles, including three outright under his direction.

In the modern history of Division I-A football, only Bob Pruett (Marshall, 58-9), Bob Stoops (Oklahoma, 55-11) and Pete Carroll (Southern California, 54-10) won more games in their first five seasons than Hawkins' 53 at Boise State (a number also matched by Miami's Larry Coker).

"Coach Hawkins represents a level of competitive spirit, integrity, work ethic and passion that will serve this institution, football program and entire athletic department well for many years to come," CU athletic director Mike Bohn said at the press conference announcement of Hawkins' hiring. "This is an exciting time at the University of Colorado and he is the perfect fit for what we were looking for."

In his first year at Colorado, the Buffaloes posted a 2-10 record, his first losing season as a head coach. Offensive struggles were the biggest contributor to the mark, as CU finished 102nd nationally averaging just 291.4 yards per game. Defensively, CU fared a bit better, allowing 340.9 yards per game and ranked 66th overall, though were stingy against the run, as opponents averaged just 112.4 per outing (30th nationally). And there were other positives, most notably the fact that his Buffaloes were in every game, fighting until the end despite being outmanned at several positions. Evidence of that was the fact that CU was plus-8 in turnover margin, a rarity for a team eight games under .500. CU played turnover-free in a school record four games on the season, and cut its penalties nearly in half from the previous year.

His overall record includes a 39-12-1 mark in five seasons as the head coach of Willamette University (Salem, Ore.), where he won or shared three conference titles between 1993 and 1997. Thus in 10 years of combined conference play between Boise State and Willamette, Hawkins' teams won or shared seven league championships while going a remarkable 58-6-1, including six undefeated seasons, in league play (a 90.0 winning percentage).

At Boise State, he was 37-3 in WAC conference games, leading the Broncos to outright championships in 2002, 2003 and 2004 with 8-0 league marks, and the co-title in 2005 with a 7-1 record. At one point Hawkins guided the Broncos to a league record 31 consecutive victories, a streak that began late in his first year and continued well into his fifth campaign. His winning percentage for overall and league games stands as the highest in WAC history.

In 128 career games as a head coach, his teams have never been shut out, scoring at least one touchdown in all but two games while being held below 13 points just nine times (four times at CU, and only once at Boise State). The Broncos scored 40 or more points in 37 of his 64 games, as BSU averaged 41.6 points per game in his time there, the top figure in the nation for the five-year period between 2001 and 2005 (ahead of Texas and Texas Tech, who averaged 40.3 and 38.4, respectively). That included 50 or more points 19 times and 20-plus on an amazing 59 occasions.

Boise State also won 28 games by 25 or more points under Hawkins, and 43 by double-digits; however, his teams also excelled in close contests, as the Broncos were 10-5 in games decided by seven points or less. His teams were well balanced across the board, as evidenced by the Broncos owning top 10 marks for five-year NCAA numbers in his tenure not only in scoring, but also in total offense (3rd, 465.7 yards per game), passing offense (10th, 274.6), rushing defense (6th, 107.8) and kickoff returns (1st, 23.5 average for 245 total returns).

At Boise State, Hawkins had a knack for molding a talented group of players and coaches into a dominating force, part of the reason he was named the WAC Coach of the Year on two occasions (2002, 2004) and was a finalist for the 2004 Paul "Bear" Bryant College Football Coach of the Year Award.

Hawkins took over the Boise State program on December 2, 2000, replacing Dirk Koetter, whom he had served as assistant head coach, after he took the head coach position at Arizona State. Hawkins had joined the BSU staff in 1998, and coached the tight ends and special teams in addition to assistant head coach and recruiting coordinator duties. Hawkins also oversaw a highly successful community service and public involvement program for the Bronco football team during this time.

Before ascending to Boise State's head man, as tight ends coach Hawkins helped developed a wealth of Bronco talent. In each of his first four seasons on the Bronco staff, a Boise State tight end earned either first or second team all-conference honors. Twice Bronco tight ends were drafted into the National Football League, most notably Jeb Putzier, who earned first-team All-WAC honors in 2001 after putting together the most productive season by a tight end in school history and would be a sixth round draft pick by the Denver Broncos. Special teams also blossomed under his direction, with top national rankings by teams or individuals in kickoff returns, placekicking and punting.

Koetter would serve as head coach in his final game, the 2000 Crucial.com Humanitarian Bowl, but Hawkins took over leading the team in practice and preparation for the game, which Boise State defeated UTEP, 38-23. Though Hawkins served in his assistant coaching role in that game, his work as head coach was already evident to close observers of the program.

As just the eighth head coach in the school's 33-year history, on the surface, Boise State went 8-4 in his first season in 2001. But the Broncos were transitioning from the old Big West Conference, in which they had claimed back-to-back titles, into the stronger Western Athletic Conference. Hawkins met the challenge by posting a 6-2 league mark, tying for second overall, doing so after opening with losses to No. 21 South Carolina and Washington State, who would appear in the national rankings some three weeks later.

His biggest win that season came on October 20, and had an indirect link to his future school, Colorado, at the time. He took his Bronco team on the road where it would defeat Fresno State, 35-30, ranked eighth in the nation with a 6-0 mark at the time. Fresno State began its season with a 24-22 win over the Buffaloes in Boulder and had designs on crashing the BCS (Bowl Championship Series) until being derailed by Hawkins' Broncos, the school's first-ever over a ranked opponent.

That set the stage for the next three seasons, when the Broncos strung together consecutive records of 12-1, 13-1 and 11-1 in posting a 24-0 record in WAC conference play in 2002, 2003 and 2004.

The WAC championship won in 2002 came in just the school's second year in the league and was the first to go undefeated in league play since BYU did so in 1996. Along the way, BSU overwhelmed its eight league opponents, scoring an average of 51.1 points per game while owning a victory margin of 37.2 points, which broke BYU's league mark of 34.0 set in 1979. Boise State led the nation in scoring (45.6), total offense (501.5) and passing efficiency (169.4) and led the WAC in five defensive categories, with Hawkins' success recognized at the conference and regional levels as he was selected the WAC Coach of Year, and the Co-Coach of the Year for Region 4 by the American Football Coaches Association (the latter with Oklahoma's Stoops).

The Broncos appeared in the nation's top 25 late in the year, and following a 34-16 win over Iowa State in the Humanitarian Bowl, Boise State was ranked No. 12 in the final USA Today Coaches Poll (and No. 15 in the Associated Press ballot).

It was more of the same in 2003, as the 13-1 Broncos again appeared in the rankings in November and ended the year ranked 15th by the coaches and 16th by the Associated Press. The only setback came at Oregon State (a 26-24 defeat) in the third week of the season; the Broncos would end the year with 11 straight wins (which started a 22-game winning streak, the longest in the nation by the end of the 2004 regular season). The season was culminated by a 34-31 win over No. 19 TCU in the Fort Worth Bowl on the Horned Frogs' home turf.

Hawkins' 2003 team again produced the top offense in the nation averaging 43.0 points per game, and in the five major offensive categories in football, Boise State was ranked among the top 10 in four of them. The defense was no slouch either, as the Broncos was ranked among the top 12 in three categories (rushing defense, pass efficiency and scoring defense). Quarterback Ryan Dinwiddie was the league's Offensive Player of the Year and was one of five Broncos to be named first-team All-WAC.

Despite all those accomplishments, Boise State entered 2004 unranked, but at least on the national radar. After a 53-34 win over Oregon State in the second game of the year, the Broncos entered the rankings at No. 23 and were a regular from that point on. BSU survived scares from BYU, Tulsa and San Jose State (winning the latter 56-49 in two overtimes) to finish the regular season undefeated at 11-0 and ranked its highest ever — 10th — in both major polls (and ninth in the final BCS Standings). In one of the season's most anticipated bowl games, and arguably the most intriguing non-BCS bowl since the creation of the system some seven years earlier, Boise State dropped a 44-40 thriller to 10-1 and No. 7 Louisville in the Liberty Bowl.

That 2004 team prided itself on all-around excellence, with top rankings in all three phases of the game, placing in the top 21 nationally in nine major statistical categories including scoring (second), punt returns (third), total offense (fourth) and rushing defense (10th). BSU was ranked either first or second in 16 conference categories and had 16 players earn some kind of All-WAC recognition for a second straight year.

Important to note about the 2004 season was that it might have been Hawkins' best coaching job to date in his illustrious career. Despite returning just 10 starters from the '03 team, he guided the Broncos to their first perfect regular season since the school moved to four-year status in the 1960s. The team spent a school record 13 consecutive weeks in the national rankings and peaked at No. 7 in the BCS Standings in early November.

His final team there in 2005 went 9-4, but had only four senior starters, the lowest total among all 119 I-A schools while also playing one of the toughest schedules in school history. That squad rallied from a 0-2 start, winning nine of the final 10 games in earning a fourth straight bowl berth. Three of the four losses came at the hands of ranked teams, including Hawkins' finale in the MPC Computers Bowl, a 27-21 setback to No. 19 Boston College; the Broncos spotted BC a 27-0 lead in that game, only to see a fourth quarter rally come up just short. Despite some inexperience at the onset, the team of largely underclassmen finished in the top 25 in eight statistical categories including scoring (ninth), sacks (17th) and rushing offense (19th).

Overall, 20 of his players at Boise State earned first-team all-WAC honors, with three earning some kind of All-American mention and 10 either being drafted or signing as free agents with National Football League teams. Including his three years as an assistant coach, Hawkins helped the Broncos to an overall record of 79-21 and six conference championships in eight years, including Big West titles in 1999 and 2000.

Hawkins' first collegiate head coaching position was at Willamette University in Salem, Ore. He took over the program in 1993 after Willamette suffered two straight losing seasons, including a 1-8 campaign the year before his arrival. He would guide the Bearcats to five straight winning seasons between 1993-97, including two appearances in the NAIA playoffs.

Under his guidance, Willamette was 39-12-1, including a 13-1 record and a runner-up finish for the NAIA National Championship in 1997. The Bearcats had finished the regular season with a No. 7 national ranking and won three playoff games, including one in overtime, to reach the title game before succumbing to Findlay (Ohio), 14-7.

He was named the 1997 District Five Coach of the Year by the American Football Coaches Association, and was selected three times as the Mount Hood League (Columbia Football Association) coach of the year. Those accolades came in 1995 when Willamette was co-conference champion, and 1996 and 1997 when the Bearcats won the outright conference title with undefeated records in league play.

Hawkins spent time as both an offensive and defensive coordinator before taking over as head coach at Willamette. In 1992, he was in charge of the Sonoma State University defense. From 1988-91, Hawkins was the offensive coordinator at the College of the Siskiyous (Calif.), helping lead the team to the Golden Valley Conference championship in 1991.

A 1984 graduate of the University of California-Davis, Hawkins earned a bachelor's degree in physical education. In 1993, he earned a master's degree in educational administration from St. Mary's (Calif.) College. He's the third head football coach in CU history, all in succession, to hold two degrees.

Hawkins began his coaching career with his alma mater, serving as the head freshman coach as well as the linebacker coach for the varsity in 1984. After three years at UC-Davis, he served as head coach at Christian Brothers High School in Sacramento in 1986 and 1987.

He agreed to a five-year, $4.25 million contract with the Buffaloes, effective January 1, 2006 through December 31, 2010, not including incentive compensation for academic progress, student citizenship and community outreach and various performance incentives ranging from rewarding bowl appearances to winning a national championship.

He was born November 10, 1960 in Fall River Mills, Calif., and graduated from Big Valley High School in Bieber, Calif., where he lettered in football, basketball, baseball and track. At UC-Davis, he lettered four times at fullback for coach Jim Sochor; as a junior, he was a member of UCD's NCAA Division II runner-up team.

He is married to the former Misti Rae Ann Hokanson, a registered nurse. They are the parents of four children, Ashley (23), Brittany (20), Cody (19, a redshirt freshman quarterback at Colorado) and Drew (17). His interests range from doing things with his family, such as skydiving with his daughters the spring after signing on with Colorado, to reading (he owns quite a collection of books), to studying game video while listening to jazz music.

JEFF GRIMES

Assistant Head Coach Running Game Coordinator/Offensive Line

Jeff Grimes is in first year as assistant head coach, running game coordinator and offensive line coach at Colorado, as he joined Dan Hawkins' staff on February 22, 2007. He assists Hawkins on administrative issues in addition to his on-field coaching duties.

Grimes, 38, came to CU from Brigham Young University, where he coached the offensive line for the 2004 through 2006 seasons. It is a reunion of sorts with several CU assistants, as he was on the 2000 Boise State staff when Hawkins was an assistant. He was the offensive line coach that season, before moving on to Arizona State where he worked the next three years (2001-03) as the O-line coach in addition to serving as running game coordinator. At ASU, he worked closely with current CU offensive coordinator Mark Helfrich, who spent five years on the Sun Devil staff before joining Hawkins in Boulder last season.

His 2006 BYU linemen were a big part of the Cougars' Mountain West Conference championship team, which drilled Oregon 38-8 in the Las Vegas Bowl to finish 11-2 for the season. BYU averaged 465.5 yards per game on offense, 323.5 through the air, both figures fourth in the nation, averaged a healthy 141.9 on the ground and allowed just 15 quarterback sacks in 13 games, or just one for every 30.1 passing attempts. The Cougars also boasted a 1,000-yard rusher in Curtis Brown (1,010 yards).

His players achieved great success in his three seasons at Arizona State, and with four of his 2001 seniors drafted into the NFL, it marked just the second time that had been done at any school since the NFL adopted the seven-round draft format in 1993. He then assembled a new offensive line in 2002 that protected the ninth-rated passing offense in the country, the core of the same group that a year later helped Loren Wade break the ASU freshman rushing record and lead the Pac-10 in yards per carry.

In his one season at Boise State, Grimes' offensive line helped the Broncos lead the nation in scoring offense and accumulate 175 rushing yards per game.

Overall, he brought 14 years of previous coaching experience to Colorado, beginning in 1993 as a high school coach in his native Texas (Riverside in El Paso). After two years as the offensive coordinator and line coach there, he moved on to the college ranks, first working as a graduate assistant at Rice (1995) and then at Texas A&M (1996-97). He coached against the Buffaloes with the Aggies, as the two met in the first two years of existence of the Big 12 Conference.

His first full-time position was serving as offensive line coach at Hardin Simmons, a position he held for two years (1998-99) before moving on to the Division I-A level at Boise State. The Cowboys were 21-2 in his two seasons there, reaching the national semifinals in 1999; HSC was a scoring machine, averaging 39.4 points per game during his tenure, eclipsing 50 on six occasions.

Grimes graduated from the University of Texas-El Paso in 1991 with a bachelor's degree in education after earning four letters as an offensive tackle for the Miners between 1987 and 1990, including three years under former BSU and ASU head coach Dirk Koetter when he was UTEP's offensive coordinator and two years under current Philadelphia Eagles' head coach Andy Reid. He earned his master's in education administration from Texas A & M in 1997 while serving as a grad assistant.

He was in training camp with both the Los Angeles Raiders of the NFL and the San Antonio Riders of the World Football League before entering coaching.

Grimes was born September 23, 1968 in Garland, Texas, where he graduated Lakeview Centennial High School, lettering in football as a prep. His hobbies include reading, fishing, hiking and participating in church activities. He is married to the former Sheri Hermesmyer, who was a volleyball player at Texas A & M and is now a physical therapist. They have three children, daughter Bailey (7), and sons Garrison (5) and Greydon (2).

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Pacific 10 (6): Andrew Carnahan, Drew Hodgdon, Levi Jones, Kyle Kosier, Scott Peters, Travis Scott. All-Mountain West (2): Jake Kuresa, Scott Young. All-Big West (1): Matt Hill. NFL Players/Draft Picks (10): Carnahan, Hodgdon, Hill, Jones (the 10th overall pick of the 2002 draft), Eddie Keele, Kosier, Kuresa, Peters, Scott, Young.

RECORD—He has coached in 85 Division I-A games as a full-time coach, owning a record of 49-36 (22-14 at Brigham Young, 17-20 at Arizona State, 10-2 at Boise State); he has coached in four bowl games. He was a part of 36 I-A games as a graduate assistant (Texas A&M, Rice).

RON COLLINS

Defensive Coordinator

Ron Collins is in his second year as defensive coordinator at Colorado, as he was one of four assistant coaches to join Boise State head coach Dan Hawkins when he accepted the Colorado position in December 2005. He oversees all phases of the defense for the Buffaloes, but does not coach a specific position.

Collins, 43, served as Boise State's defensive coordinator for four seasons, while coaching the linebackers all five years he spent on the BSU staff under Hawkins. Under his guidance, the Boise State defense developed into one of the top defenses nationally and as the best in the Western Athletic Conference. All together, Collins had 26 players earn All-WAC recognition during his four seasons as defensive coordinator.

His first Colorado defense was solid against the run (fourth in the Big 12, 30th in the NCAA at 112.4 yards per game) and allowed 341 yards per game overall in limiting five opponents to fewer than 20 points in a game while forcing 24 turnovers.

The 2005 Boise State defense ranked 15th nationally against the run (107.9 ypg), a figure that also topped the WAC; it was also among the best in the nation in forcing turnovers with 26. Collins also had one of his players, linebacker Korey Hall, repeat as a first-team all-WAC performer.

His 2004 unit may have been his best. That year, the Broncos ranked in the top 10 nationally in three categories: interceptions (second), turnovers gained (fifth) and rushing defense (10th), while also finishing 13th in turnover margin.

That same team also ranked first in the WAC in five different categories, including rushing defense (103.9 yards per game), turnover margin (0.83) and interceptions (23), and was also second in total defense (357.8 ypg). Seven of BSU's starters selected were selected either first or second-team or honorable mention All-WAC in 2004, including first-team linebackers Hall and Andy Avalos and cornerback Gabe Franklin.

Those accomplishments followed up on a solid 2003, when BSU ranked in the top 20 nationally in interceptions (sixth), pass efficiency defense (seventh), rushing defense (11th), scoring defense (12th), turnovers gained (14th) and turnover margin (17th). Boise State was also 37th in total defense, and ranked first in the WAC in seven of the nine major categories, including scoring defense (17.1 points per game), rushing defense (100.5 ypg), total defense (348.4 ypg), pass efficiency defense (99.0), interceptions (21) and third down conversion defense (31.3 percent). Boise State allowed just three points on two occasions and also had a shutout and had nine players earn assorted all-WAC honors that season, with all three of Collins' linebackers earning all-league recognition. Avalos was first-team, while Travis Burgher was second-team and Hall an honorable mention selection.

In 2002, Boise State led the WAC in eight defensive categories, and finished 16th in the nation in rushing defense and 17th in scoring defense. One of his linebackers also garnered postseason recognition, as Chauncey Ako was named second-team All-WAC.

During his first year at BSU, he helped develop a young linebacker corps into a solid and deep group. He had one player, Greg Sasser, named second-team All-WAC.

He spent 13 seasons at Washington University in St. Louis, Mo., the first full-time position of his career, as he joined the Bear staff under coach Ken Woody as secondary coach for the 1988 season. He was elevated to defensive coordinator a year later under new coach Larry Kindbom, a position he would hold through the 2000 season. In addition to his defensive coordinator duties, Collins also served as the special teams co-coordinator during the 1999 and 2000 seasons, and worked as the school's strength and conditioning coach for his entire 13-year stay.

With Collins at the helm of the defense, Washington University had one of the school's top football decades during the 1990s. In producing a 68-33 record from 1990-2000, Washington University shared three University Athletic Association (UAA) titles and won seven or more games on five occasions. In 1999, Collins coached the top ranked Division III defense in the country, as Washington allowed just 192 yards of total offense per game and a school record 49.8 rushing yards per game in making the NCAA playoffs for the first time in school history.

Prior to joining the Washington University staff, Collins was a graduate assistant at Iowa State University during the 1987 season. He started his coaching career as a volunteer assistant at his alma mater, Washington State, in the spring of 1987.

Collins is a 1987 graduate of Washington State, earning a bachelor's degree in physical education. The defensive team captain as a senior, he lettered four years for WSU at strong safety for coach Jim Walden. He started three seasons (1984-86) and once had three interceptions in a game (versus Stanford as a sophomore in 1984). He received a master's degree in education administration from the University of Missouri-St. Louis in 1991.

He was born January 30, 1964 in Wenatchee, Wash., and graduated from Cashmere (Wash.) High School, where he earned a total of 10 letters in football, wrestling and track. He is married to the former Sharon Arthalony, and the couple has two daughters, Taylor Rae (8) and Alexandra (6).

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Western Athletic Conference Performers (4): Chauncey Ako, Andy Avalos, Korey Hall, Greg Sasser.

RECORD—He has coached in 76 Division I-A games as a full-time coach, owning a record of 55-21 (53-11 at Boise State, 2-10 at Colorado); he has coached in four bowl games. He coached in 120 Division III games (76-44 record), including one playoff game, at Washington University.

MARK HELFRICH

Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks

Mark Helfrich is in his second year as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Colorado, as he joined the Buffaloes as a member of the coaching staff assembled by new head coach Dan Hawkins when he accepted the Colorado position in December 2005.

Helfrich, 33, is the third youngest offensive coordinator in the nation (119 Division I-A schools), the second youngest at a BCS school, behind only Alabama's Major Applewhite (who is 28).

He came to CU from the Arizona State University, where he coached the quarterbacks for five seasons (2001-05), also serving as the Sun Devils' passing game coordinator the last three of those years under head coach Dirk Koetter.

His first Colorado offense had its struggles, but showed explosiveness at times. CU averaged 4.5 yards per rush and marked just the 10th time in school history that three different players ran for 500 or more yards.

Under the guidance of Helfrich, Arizona State blossomed into one of the top passing teams in the country during his tenure in Tempe. In 2005, his final season there, the Sun Devils finished third in the NCAA and easily led the Pac-10 with 373.9 passing yards per game (over 50 better than runner-up USC). The school record 4,481 yards passing put the total number for Helfrich's time as quarterbacks coach at ASU at 18,686 in 61 games, or an average of 306.3 yards per game. And that number increased to 321.7 in his 36 games as passing coordinator.

His quarterbacks put up numbers that ranked in the top three of the Pac-10 all five years he was there, leading the league twice (2004, 2005) and finishing second in 2001. His units also finished among the top 10 in the NCAA on three different occasions, as ASU was ranked fifth nationally in 2004 and ninth in 2002 before the school's highest ever finish with the third place effort in '05.

He developed quarterback Andrew Walter, the key player in ASU's maturation as a passing team, as he set school records for both career (85) and single-season touchdowns (30) in addition to shattering the previous Pac-10 record for career touchdown passes, set by John Elway at Stanford (77). The only player in ASU history to tally 3,000 passing yards in a season, Walter did it for a third time in 2004 with a season total of 3,150 yards.

Coached by Helfrich for all three years as ASU's starter, Walter was selected in the third round of the NFL draft by the Oakland Raiders. A second-team All-Pac-10 selection and a nominee for both the Johnny Unitas and Davey O'Brien Awards, Walter finished his Sun Devil career as ASU's career record holder in nearly every passing category, including yards, completions, attempts, touchdowns, interception percentage, and total offense. And when Walter missed the Sun Bowl against Purdue with an injury, Helfrich coached sophomore understudy Sam Keller to MVP honors. Finishing with 370 yards and three touchdowns on 25-of-45 passing, Keller directed the ASU offense to a fourth-quarter comeback in his first career start. Responsible for the entire passing game, Helfrich also saw freshman Zach Miller and junior Derek Hagan set school receiving marks in 2004.

In 2002, ASU's passing game finished as one of the most prolific offensive units in school history, demolishing school and conference records along the way. That was evidenced by the Sun Devil record for season passing yards being utterly destroyed by Helfrich's quarterbacks, as they totaled 4,254 yards to better the previous mark by over 1,000 yards. Four other school records fell by the wayside as well. That followed a tremendous beginning in 2001, as the Sun Devils finished second in the Pac-10 in passing offense with an average of 259.3 yards per game, the second-best season passing average in school history at the time.

Helfrich first teamed with Koetter in 1997 at the University of Oregon, where he was an offensive graduate assistant when Koetter was the offensive coordinator for the Ducks. When Koetter was named head coach at Boise State in 1998, he made the transition with him to the Idaho state capital. Working three years as the quarterback coach, he tutored one of BSU's all-time bests in Bart Hendricks, the 1999 and 2000 Big West Player of the Year. His last year there, 2000, he guided the Broncos to the country's fourth-best passing offense with 321.5 yards per game.

He graduated with a bachelor's degree in biology from Southern Oregon University in 1996, where he lettered four years at quarterback. He was an NAIA Scholar-Athlete in 1993, his sophomore season. When he led the nation in total offense, earning NAIA honorable mention All-America accolades and first-team Columbia Football Association honors in the process. That season, he had 3,196 yards of total offense, including 2,712 passing (23 touchdowns) and 484 rushing (three scores), topping the 400-yard mark in single-game total offense three times. It was that same year that Helfrich would first catch the eye of Hawkins, who was in his first year as head coach at Willamette; he watched as Helfrich had 410 yards of offense and a school record six touchdowns to lead SOU to a 61-48 win.

Helfrich began his coaching career as running backs coach at his alma mater for the 1996 season, and then both played and coached (offensive coordinator) in Europe for a year with the Vienna (Austria) Vikings, in 1997, before landing his first position at a Division I-A school.

He was born October 28, 1973 in Medford, Ore., and graduated from Marshfield High School in Coos Bay (Ore.), where he lettered in football (for coach Kent Wigle), basketball, track and golf. He is married to the former Megan Kelly, and the couple has a son Max (born last January).

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Pacific 10 Conference Performers (1): Andrew Walter (second-team). NFL Players/Draft Picks (3): Ryan Dinwiddie, Bart Hendricks, Walter.

RECORD—He has coached in 109 Division I-A games as a full-time coach, owning a record of 61-48 (26-10 at Boise State, 33-28 at Arizona State, 2-10 at Colorado); he has coached in six bowl games (on the winning end five times).

GREG BROWN

Defensive Passing Game Coordinator / Secondary

Greg Brown is in his second year as secondary coach and his first as CU's defensive passing game coordinator, as he has returned to the state of Colorado for the third time in his professional career, the second time as a member of the Buffalo coaching staff.

Brown, 49, returned to CU in January 2006, named to the staff of new Colorado head coach Dan Hawkins following the completion of the 2005 National Football League season. He wrapped up his fourth and final season as a defensive assistant with the NFL's New Orleans Saints under coach Jim Haslett. In that 2005 season, the Saints' pass defense ranked third in the entire NFL, allowing a paltry 178 yards per game.

A 15-year NFL coaching veteran, developing top notch defensive backs became his specialty as he was often sought after for new coaching staffs around the league, working with six different teams in his professional career.

He coached the secondary for three years (1991-93) at Colorado under coach Bill McCartney, tutoring a pair of Jim Thorpe Award winners during his first days at CU: cornerbacks Deon Figures (the 1992 winner) and Chris Hudson (the '94 winner). Colorado led the nation in pass completion defense and the Big Eight in pass defense in 1992; he also coached the kickoff coverage unit on special teams for the Buffs. He joined the CU staff days after the Buffs won their first national championship (January 7, 1991), and returned to the NFL in 1994, joining the Atlanta staff as defensive backs coach; the Falcons finished second that season in the league with 23 interceptions.

He spent the 1995-96 seasons as the secondary coach for San Diego, with the Chargers finishing in the top five both years in fewest yards allowed per completion. He also coached Rodney Harrison, who eventually would become one of the league's top safeties. He moved on to the Tennessee Oilers, coaching the secondary in both 1997 and 1998; he again coached three of the top defensive backs in the game, cornerback Samari Rolle and safeties Blaine Bishop and All-Pro Marcus Robertson.

In 1999, he served as the defensive backs coach for the San Francisco 49ers; a twist with this was that had he not received an NFL offer, he was set to return to Colorado as a member of Gary Barnett's staff when he replaced Rick Neuheisel in January of that year. He rejoined the Atlanta Falcons as secondary coach for the 2000 and 2001 seasons before moving on to New Orleans, where he was a defensive assistant for quality control in 2002 before being promoted to defensive assistant/cornerbacks coach in 2003, a position he held for three seasons with the Saints.

He began his coaching career in 1981 as a graduate assistant at the University of Texas-El Paso, his alma mater, where he worked with the secondary. The following year, 1982, he came back to Colorado, working that fall as a defensive coach at Green Mountain High School in Lakewood.

He made his first move to the professional ranks the following spring, joining the staff of the Denver Gold of the United States Football League (USFL). He coached the secondary for the Gold for two seasons (1983, 1984) before moving on to the National Football League for the first time in the summer of 1984, joining the Tampa Bay Buccaneers Staff. For the Bucs, he coached three different positions: defensive quality control (1984), offensive quality control (1985) and the U-backs/tight ends (1986).

Brown returned to the college game in 1987, coaching the defensive backs for two seasons at the University of Wyoming before doing the same at Purdue University for the 1989 and 1990 campaigns. He then returned home to Colorado for a second time in joining McCartney's staff in 1991.

He graduated from the UTEP in 1980 with a bachelor's degree in education (history/physical education). At UTEP, he lettered twice at cornerback under Bill Michael, and received the Coca-Cola Hold Helmet Award for his play against San Diego State in September 1979. He earned his A.A. degree from Glendale (Ariz.) Junior College in 1978.

He was born October 10, 1957 in Denver, and graduated from Arvada (Colo.) High School, where he lettered in both football and track. His father, Irv, is Denver radio (KKFN) personality and the former head baseball coach and one-time assistant football coach at the University of Colorado. He is married to the former Stacie Bible, and the couple has two daughters, Hannah (6) and Grace (4).

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Americans (2): Deon Figures (Thorpe Award winner), Chris Hudson (Thorpe Award winner). All-Big Eight Performers (4): Ronnie Bradford, Figures, Eric Hamilton, Hudson. All-Big 12 Performers (1): Terrence Wheatley. NFL Players/Draft Picks (5): Ronnie Bradford, Dennis Collier, Figures, Hudson, Steve Rosga. NFL All-Pro Performers (15): Ashley Ambrose, Blaine Bishop, Fakhir Brown, Ray Buchanan, Dale Carter, Scott Case, Rodney Harrison, Darrell Lewis, Tim McDonald, Mike McKenzie, Marcus Robertson, Samari Rolle, Kevin Ross, Lance Schulters, Fred Thomas.

RECORD—He has coached in 95 Division I-A games as a full-time coach, owning a record of 53-40-3 (27-18-3 at Colorado, 21-5 at Wyoming and 5-17 with Purdue); he has coached in five bowl games, including one New Year's Day. Professionally, he coached in 241 National Football League games, including one playoff game, with six different teams (Atlanta twice, New Orleans, San Diego, San Francisco, Tampa Bay, Tennessee), as well as in 36 United States Football League games with the Denver Gold.

ERIC KIESAU

Passing Game Coordinator/Receivers

Eric Kiesau is in his second year as passing game coordinator and receivers coach at Colorado, as he joined the Buffaloes as a member of the coaching staff assembled by head coach Dan Hawkins when he accepted the Colorado position in December 2005.

Kiesau, 34, came to CU from the University of California at Berkeley, where he coached the receivers for four seasons (2002-05). He was a significant contributor to the Bears' high-powered passing attack in his four years at the "other" UCB.

Though Kiesau had only six years as a collegiate assistant coach under his belt prior to arriving at Colorado, he seemingly mastered the art of both tutoring the accomplished performer as well as molding walk-ons into top-notch players, doing so at his previous two institutions before coming to Boulder. He personally thrives on the teaching and developmental relationship with his players, working on the total person concept in academics, athletics and character.

In 2005, his receiving corps produced four 100-yard receiving games. Robert Jordan and DeSean Jackson were his stars at the starting positions, with Jackson having two of the century games, 128 versus UCLA and 130 at New Mexico State, the latter being the most yards ever by a Cal freshman. Jordan's top performance came at Washington, when he caught 11 passes for 192-yards, the sixth-best single game total in school history; he also had three touchdowns, all in the first half, tying a school record. And with Jackson and Jordan sidelined due to injury, former walk-on LaReyelle Cunningham caught five balls for 112 yards and a score in his first career start.

Though injuries sidelined four of his top five receivers for much of 2004, the Bears continued to field first-rate pass catchers in a Cal offense triggered by quarterback Aaron Rodgers. Second-team All-American Geoff McArthur set school career marks for receptions (202) and receiving yards (3,188). In 2003, McArthur ranked second nationally and set a school season receiving record with 1,504 yards on 85 catches. That same year, Kiesau developed two walk-ons, Burl Toler and Vincent Strang, as the pair combined for 65 receptions for 814 yards and eight touchdowns, as both blossomed as they emerged in the regular rotation of receivers.

In 2002, his first campaign at Cal, he developed a wide receiving corps that featured Jonathan Makonnen (54-682, 7 TDs), LaShaun Ward (39-709, 9 TDs) and McArthur (36-454, 1 TD), a trio that combined for 129 receptions, 1,845 yards and 17 TDs.

Kiesau earned his bachelor's degree in business communications at Portland State in 1996, where he lettered at quarterback (he was PSU's starter as a senior in 1995). He was an All-American junior college quarterback as a sophomore in 1992, as selected by JC Gridwire, at Glendale Community College in southern California.

Upon graduation from PSU, he worked the better part of five years in private business, for Corporate America in Portland, and then for Eclipse Specialties, Inc., a family-owned and operated company, in North Hollywood, Calif. He first entered coaching while employed by his JUCO alma mater, Glendale Community College. He then made a brief four-month stop at the University of Oregon as head coach Mike Bellotti's teamwork coordinator in the winter and spring of 2000.

His first full-time collegiate coaching position followed later that year, when he was named running backs and receivers coach at Utah State University under Mick Dennehy. In 2000, he tutored Emmett White, Utah State's third team All-American who led the nation in all-purpose yards and ranked 13th in NCAA rushing, including a school-record 322-yard effort against New Mexico State in 2001. In his second year at USU, he coached wide receiver Kevin Curtis, who would earn Associated Press All-American honors that season with an NCAA-high 100 passes (while ranking third in yards per game and eighth in all-purpose yards). He was a semifinalist for the Biletnikoff Award, accomplished after walking on at Utah State the previous year.

He was born November 24, 1972 in Pasadena, Calif., and graduated from Glendale (Calif.) High School, where he lettered in football and baseball. He is married to the former Wendy Kanan, and they have a daughter, Tayler (9) and a son, Blake (3). (His last name is pronounced key-saw.)

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Americans (3): Kevin Curtis, Geoff McArthur, Emmett White. All-Pac-10 Performers (1): McArthur. All-Big West Performers (1): White. NFL Players/Draft Picks (2): Curtis, Chase Lyman.

RECORD—He has coached in 84 Division I-A games as a full-time coach, owning a record of 44-40 (2-10 in one season at Colorado, 33-17 in four seasons at Cal and 9-13 in two years at Utah State); he has coached in three bowl games.

ROMEO BANDISON

Defensive Line

Romeo Bandison is in his second year as defensive line coach at Colorado, as he was one of four assistants to join Boise State head coach Dan Hawkins when he accepted the Colorado position in December 2005.

Bandison, 36, was Boise State's defensive line coach for five seasons. Under Bandison, the Bronco defensive line anchored one of the top rushing defenses in the country for four seasons (2002-05), as the Broncos ranked in the top 16 in rushing defense all four of those years: 15th in 2005, 10th in 2004, 11th in 2003 and 16th in 2002.

He had an immediate impact at Colorado, tutoring All-Big 12 Conference defensive end Abraham Wright, who with 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ quarterback sacks, registered the most in that category by a Buffalo in 13 seasons. His defensive line was a key component in limiting opponents to just 112.4 rushing yards per game.

In 2005, two of his players garnered All-Western Athletic Conference honors, Alex Guerrero (first-team) and Andrew Browning (second-team); both were honorable mention performers the previous year. In fact, in his final four years in Boise, he had two linemen recognized with postseason honors each of those seasons, as defensive end Julius Roberts earned first-team All-WAC honors, while Dane Oldham was an honorable mention All-WAC selection in 2003, and in 2002, both Ryan Nelson and Oldham were named to All-WAC teams.

Bandison began his coaching career at his alma mater, the University of Oregon, where he was a standout player for the Ducks before joining the coaching staff. During the 1999 and 2000 seasons, he served as a graduate assistant for the Ducks, working with the defensive line and coordinating the defensive scout team. Oregon made consecutive postseason bowl appearances in those two seasons, winning both the Sun Bowl (1999) and Holiday Bowl (2000).

He also served a two-week internship with the Oakland Raiders in the National Football League prior to the 2002 season.

Bandison earned his bachelor's degree in economics in 1994 from the University of Oregon, where he lettered as a defensive end and nose guard for the Ducks from 1990-93. Oregon advanced to two bowl games during his playing career, the Freedom Bowl in 1990 and the Independence Bowl in 1992.

Following his senior season, Bandison played in the Hula Bowl and East-West Shrine Classic all-star games before being selected in the third round of the 1994 NFL Draft by the Cleveland Browns. Bandison continued his NFL career the next three years (1995-97) as a defensive tackle with the Washington Redskins. He completed his professional playing career in 1998 with the Amsterdam Admirals of the World Football League.

He was born February 12, 1971 in The Hague, The Netherlands, and moved to the United States as a youth and would graduate from Tamalpais High School (Mill Valley, Calif.), where he lettered in football. He is married to the former Amy Kowalewski, and the couple has 1-year old fraternal twins, Dominic and Olivia. (His first name is pronounced row-may-oh.)

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Big 12 Conference Performers (1): Abraham Wright. All-Western Athletic Conference Performers (2): Alex Guerrero, Julius Roberts. NFL Players/Draft Picks (1): Wright.

RECORD—He has coached in 76 Division I-A games as a full-time coach, owning a record of 63-21 (53-11 at Boise State, 2-10 at Colorado); he has coached in four bowl games. Oregon was 19-5 in his two seasons as a graduate assistant coach.

BRIAN CABRAL

Linebackers

Brian Cabral is in his 19th season at the University of Colorado, his 18th as a full time assistant coach, as he joined the Buffalo staff as graduate assistant in 1989.

His 18 years as a full-time assistant rank are tied for the most in CU history (all sports), as he trails two legendary Franks: Potts and Prentup, both of whom assisted Buff head football coaches for 18 years. Since he joined the staff, he has always coached the inside linebackers, and occasionally has had the outside players under his direction as well. From 1999 through 2005, he also coached the punt return unit on special teams. He also served as the director of CU's summer football camps from 1995 through 2005 and as a brief time as recruiting coordinator.

Cabral has worked for four head coaches during his tenure, Bill McCartney, Rick Neuheisel, Gary Barnett and now Dan Hawkins. For all seven seasons under Barnett, Cabral also served as assistant head coach, which included a three-month period in 2004 as interim head coach when Barnett was on paid administrative leave. In that role, he continued to coach his position players but also took care of day-to-day operational details of the program.

You could also call him an ambassador for his native Hawai'i, as he has worked youth camps in the state as well as all-Polynesian camps in the states.

In the summer of 2002, he was one of 500 nationwide recipients of the AFLAC National Assistant Coach-of-the-Year Award. Coaches on all levels were honored, from youth to professional, and he was one of 10 selected regionally to receive the award.

Cabral, 51, tutored the inside linebackers his first year in Boulder as a grad assistant, and assumed full-time duties in the same capacity in 1990 and has coached the position at CU to this day. He returned to Colorado, his alma mater, from Purdue, where he coached the inside linebackers for two seasons (1987-88).

Known as one of the top linebacker coaches in the nation, his students have included Matt Russell, the 1996 Butkus Award winner, and all-Big Eight performers Greg Biekert, Chad Brown and Ted Johnson, all of whom went on to stardom in the National Football League. He also recruited Rashaan Salaam, the 1994 Heisman trophy winner, and Chris Naeole, a 1996 All-American.

His 2001 punt return team led the nation with a 17.4 average, and also boasted the nation's top individual return man in Roman Hollowell, who averaged 18.0 per return and scored two touchdowns. In 2002, Jeremy Bloom averaged 15.0 yards per return and was 13th in the nation as a freshman (ranking 21st as a sophomore in '03). Cabral prided himself on the team being composed largely of non-starters, drawing comparison to his roots when he was special teams captain of the Chicago Bears.

He is a 1978 CU graduate, as he earned a B.S. degree in therapeutic recreation. He lettered three seasons for the Buffs at linebacker from 1975 to 1977 under Coach Bill Mallory, as he was a captain and played a big role on CU's Big Eight champion team in 1976. He led CU with 13 tackles (12 solo) in the 1977 Orange Bowl against Ohio State. As a senior, he was honored as the Big Eight Conference's player of the week for a monster 25 tackles in a CU 27-21 win over Stanford and shared the team's Sure Tackler Award with Mark Haynes. That 25-tackle game included 13 solo stops and is still tied for the fourth most in a single game in CU history.

Cabral had 297 tackles in his CU career (120 solo, 177 assisted), a number that still has him tied for 14th on Colorado's all-time list. A unique fact is that he has coached seven of the players on the list ahead of him: Matt Russell, Greg Biekert, Ted Johnson, Chad Brown, Michael Jones, Jashon Sykes and Thaddeaus Washington.

He was a nine-year NFL veteran, as Atlanta drafted him in the fourth round in 1978. He played two seasons with Atlanta, one with Green Bay and six with Chicago. As the captain of the Bears' special teams, he was a member of Chicago's Super Bowl XX champion team in 1985. He was selected as the Frito-Lay Unsung Hero in the Bears' win over New England, as he had two solo and two assisted tackles on special teams.

He was born June 23, 1956, in Fort Benning, Ga, but grew up in Kailua, Hawaii. He is married to the former Becky Lucas, and they have three grown children, son Kyle and daughters Maile and Mele. He is an active member in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. He has authored a book ("Second String Champion"), and his hobbies include surfing, skateboarding and snowboarding.

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Americans (2): Roman Hollowell (punt returner), Matt Russell (Butkus Award winner). All-Big Eight/12 Performers (6): Greg Biekert, Chad Brown, Hollowell, Ted Johnson (Butkus Award runner-up), Michael Jones, Russell. Big 12 Defensive Newcomers-of-the-Year (1): Jordon Dizon. NFL Players/Draft Picks (8): Biekert, Brown, Johnson, Ron Merckerson, Hannibal Navies, Russell, Sean Tufts, Drew Wahlroos.

RECORD—He has coached in 230 Division I-A games as a full-time coach, owning a record of 131-73-4 at Colorado (142-74-4 including his graduate assistant year); Purdue was 7-14-1 when he was on the Boilermaker staff. He has coached in 13 bowl games (six New Year's Day).

DARIAN HAGAN

Running Backs

Darian Hagan, one of the names synonymous with Colorado's rise to glory in the late 1980s, is in his second season as running backs coach, as he was one of two assistant coaches retained by new CU head coach Dan Hawkins when he was named to the position in December 2005.

Hagan, 37, was named an offensive assistant coach on Gary Barnett's staff on February 9, 2005, and worked with the skill position players on offense in the spring and fall in his first year as a full-time collegiate assistant.

He had a brief taste of coaching in the spring of 2004 as he subbed as secondary coach when the staff was minus a full-time assistant. Otherwise, he was the defensive technical intern for the '04 season, assuming that role in February of that year. It marked the third time he has made the University of Colorado his destination of choice.

Hagan made a difference in his first season mentoring the running backs, as CU had three 500-plus yard rushers for just the 10th time in its history. He also played a role in the development of quarterback Bernard Jackson, as Hagan's own skills of blending the run and the pass rubbed off on the Buff junior in his first year as a starter.

He starred at quarterback for the Buffaloes between 1988 and 1991, leading the school to its first national championship, and following his professional playing career, returned in the mid-1990s to work as CU's Alumni C Club Director.

Hagan left CU in the spring of 1998 to work as an area sales manager for the Transit Marketing Group. Three months into his new position, he was promoted to Southeast Regional Sales Manager. He remained in that position for over five years until deciding to pursue his dream as a coach and return to his alma mater for the third time. By working as a technical intern, he learned the intricacies of the profession in a hands-on role in his desire to coach; when a temporary vacancy opened on the staff, he was "activated" as a coach to work with the defensive backs and it added to his penchant for the profession.

Arguably the best all-around athlete in the history of the CU football program, he was an integral part of CU's run at two national championships in 1989 and 1990. The Buffs were 11-1 in 1989, losing to Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl, but went 11-1-1 in 1990 with a win over the Irish in an Orange Bowl rematch to give CU its first national title in football. CU was 28-5-2 with him as the starting quarterback for three seasons, including a 20-0-1 mark in Big Eight Conference games as he led the Buffs to three straight league titles in 1989, 1990 and 1991.

In 1989, he became just the sixth player in NCAA history at the time to run and pass for over 1,000 yards in the same season, finishing, as just a sophomore, fifth in the balloting for the Heisman Trophy. He established the school record for total offense with 5,808 yards (broken three years later by Kordell Stewart), and is one of two players ever at CU to amass over 2,000 yards both rushing and passing along with Bobby Anderson. He was a two-time all-Big Eight performer, and the league's offensive player of the year for 1989 when he also was afforded various All-America honors. He still holds several CU records and was the school's male athlete-of-the-year for the 1991-92 academic year.

In 2002, he was a member of the fourth class to be inducted into CU's Athletic Hall of Fame, and his jersey (No. 3) is one of several to have been honored.

Hagan played for Toronto, Las Vegas and Edmonton over the course of five seasons in the Canadian Football League, mostly as a defensive back and special teams performer. He returned to CU to earn his diploma just prior to his last professional season, and graduated with a bachelor's degree in sociology in May 1996. He was hired later that year (December 1) as the Alumni C Club Director, a position he held for 16 months until leaving for an incredible opportunity in private business.

He was born February 1, 1970 in Lynwood, Calif., and graduated from Los Angeles' Locke High School in 1988, where he lettered in football, basketball, baseball and track. He was drafted in two sports, football (by San Francisco in the fourth round in the 1992 NFL Draft) and baseball (selected as a shortstop by both Seattle and Toronto). He is the father of two sons, Darian, Jr. (18) and DeVaughn (15), and a daughter, Danielle (11).

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—N/A (one season).

RECORD— He has coached in 25 Division I-A games as a full-time coach, all at Colorado, with a record of 9-16.

KENT RIDDLE

Tight Ends/Special Teams

Kent Riddle is in his second year as tight ends coach and special teams coordinator at Colorado, as he was one of four assistants to join Boise State head coach Dan Hawkins when he accepted the Colorado position in December 2005.

Riddle, 38, was Boise State's running backs and special teams coach for five seasons, all under Hawkins. Many of his special team units finished regularly in the NCAA top 25, as the kickoff return team was in the top 21 all five years and the punt return team placed in the top 18 the last four seasons. And over the course of his five years, precision reigned in the kicking game, as BSU kickers converted 96.8 percent of their PAT kicks (330-of-341) and 73.1 percent of their field goal tries (68-of-93).

While his units didn't rank as high as he is accustomed to in his first season at Colorado, he coached two All-Americans: senior placekicker Mason Crosby was a repeat first-team selection, while punter Matt DiLallo was the unanimous first-team Freshman All-America performer.

In 2005, Boise State ranked 12th in the nation in kickoff returns (24.2), anchored by Lee Marks, who was 10th nationally as an individual (27.9, 1 TD). The Broncos were also 18th in punt returns (12.8), with Quinton Jones second in the country with a gaudy 20.9 yards per return, including three scores. The coverage units were exceptional as well; BSU was 17th in punt return defense (5.9) and 29th in kickoff return defense (18.7).

Riddle coached placekicker Tyler Jones to an All-American season and a spot as one of three finalists for the Lou Groza Award in 2004. Overall, BSU's special teams proved to be as good as any unit in the country. In addition to Jones, punter Kyle Stringer was named second-team all-WAC, averaging 43.9 yards per punt. The Broncos finished third in the nation in punt returns (16.6), 21st in kickoff returns (23.0) and 29th in net punting (37.3 yards). The Broncos also blocked four kicks for the second straight season, including a possible game winning field goal by San Jose State. Following the 2004 season, he spoke at the American Football Coaches Association convention on special teams, one of his many personal highlights.

In 2003, the Broncos ranked 15th in the country in both kickoff and punt returns, following up a 2002 campaign when both finished 13th in the NCAA. The Broncos also led the WAC in punt returns and kickoff coverage, allowing just 17.0 yards per return. In 2001, David Mikell was seventh in the nation in kickoff returns (28.4, 1 TD), leading the team to a 19th place national ranking.

He achieved significant success as the Broncos running back coach as well. Though the perception is out there that Boise State makes its bones as a passing team, the 2005 edition under Riddle's tutelage finished 19th in the NCAA, averaging 202.5 yards per game. That followed up a 2004 effort which saw the Broncos finish 14th nationally (229.8 per game), which was good for second in the WAC, as the "tail-back-by-committee" scheme that featured six different players scored a school record 49 touchdowns.

In his first three seasons at Boise State, the Broncos produced a 1,000-yard rusher every year. In 2003, David Mikell earned honorable mention all-WAC honors after rushing for 1,142 yards and 13 touchdowns. In 2002, Brock Forsey was named the WAC Offensive Player of the Year, as he rushed for 1,611 yards (11th in the NCAA), and led the nation in scoring with 26 touchdowns. In his first year, 2001, Forsey was a first-team all-WAC performer after gaining 1,207 yards.

Riddle had moved on to Boise State after serving as an assistant coach at the United States Military Academy for six seasons. At Army, his first full-time coaching position, he coached the fullbacks for his four seasons there (1995-98), and then switched to special teams coach and recruiting coordinator for the 1999 and 2000 seasons. He worked his first five years there under head coach Bob Sutton, and was retained when Todd Berry was named coach in 2000. Additionally, he worked as Army's junior varsity head coach and offensive coordinator, while also overseeing the program's summer camp. In 1996, he helped coach Army to its only 10-win season in history, as the Black Knights went 10-2, including a loss to Auburn in the Independence Bowl.

Prior to joining the Army staff, Riddle began his coaching career in 1991 as a student assistant football coach at Oregon State University. In 1992, he was promoted to a graduate assistant position with the Beavers, first working one year as the video G.A. before working as the offensive grad assistant in both 1993 and 1994, helping tutor the running backs while also being in charge of preparation for the defensive scout team.

He earned his bachelor's degree in hotel, restaurant and tourism management from Oregon State in 1992, after completing his playing career for the Beavers, as he played quarterback for coach Dave Kragthorpe.

He was born June 25, 1969 in Iowa City, Iowa, and graduated from City High School in Iowa City, where he lettered in football, basketball and track. His grandfather, Bucky O'Connor, was the legendary men's basketball coach at Iowa, where he led the Hawkeyes to a 108-54 record in seven seasons; he coached the '54-55 Hawkeye team that lost to Colorado in the national third place game. He is married to the former Camaren Matlock, and the couple has a son, Connor (7) and daughter Kayleigh (1).

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Americans (3): Mason Crosby, Quinton Jones, Tyler Jones (Lou Groza Award finalist). All-Big 12 Performers (1): Crosby. All-WAC Performers (6): Chris Carr, Brock Forsey, Tim Gilligan, Q.Jones, T.Jones, Kyle Stringer. NFL Players/Draft Picks (4): Carr, Crosby, Forsey, T.Jones. CFL Players/Draft Picks (1): Gilligan.

RECORD—He has coached in 143 Division I-A games as a full-time coach, owning a record of 81-61-1 (53-11 in five seasons at Boise State, 26-40-1 in six years at Army, 2-10 at Colorado); he has coached in five bowl games. He also worked 44 games in his various roles at Oregon State.

JEFF PITMAN

Director of Strength & Conditioning

Jeff Pitman is in his second year as Colorado's director of strength and conditioning, having joined the program in May 2006, just ahead of summer conditioning.

He works directly on a day-to-day basis with football, while overseeing the speed, strength and conditioning needs of all 16 CU varsity programs. In just his first year with the Buffaloes, his coaching regimen and techniques, which includes a no frills and no nonsense approach, have made a difference in the overall strength of the football team.

Pitman, 36, came to CU from Boise State, his alma mater, where he spent seven years as the head strength and conditioning coach. He played an integral role in the Broncos emerging as the dominant school in the Western Athletic Conference, winning six league championships in that span. He thus was reunited with former BSU head football coach Dan Hawkins and four of his assistants, all of whom moved on to Colorado in December 2005; the group spent six football seasons together in Boise.

His first full-time strength and coaching position was as an assistant at Montana State University, as he was with the Bobcats from 1995 to 1997; he was in charge of the programs specifically for football, women's skiing and women's track. He then moved on to San Jose State University in the fall of 1997, where he supervised the training programs for all 16 of the Spartan sport teams for the next two years before returning to his alma mater.

He is certified as a strength and conditioning specialist by the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NCSA), and is also certified as a level one club coach by USA Weightlifting.

A three-year letterman at center for Boise State from 1990-92, he originally walked on to the team in 1988, eventually earning a scholarship and becoming a two-year starter at center. He was a member of the Broncos' 1990 team that finished 10-4, advancing to the semi-finals of the Division I-AA playoffs, where the Broncos went down fighting in three overtimes to Nevada.

Dedicated to hard work in the weight room, Pitman was recognized as an NCSA Strength and Conditioning All-America in 1992, one of 10 BSU players in history to win the award.

He graduated from Boise State with a degree in health promotion in 1993, and immediately went to work as a graduate assistant strength and conditioning coach for the University of Minnesota. While coaching for the Gophers, he earned his master's degree in education in the spring of 1995.

Born September 14, 1970 in Melba, Idaho, he grew up on a dairy farm near the Snake River and graduated from Melba High School, where he lettered in football, basketball and track (throws). He is married to the former Gina Muralt, and the couple has two sons, Nicholai (10) and Jacob (7), and a daughter, Isabelle (5).

FOOTBALL SUPPORT STAFF

ROBERT TUCKER
Director of Football Operations

Robert Tucker is in his first year as the director of football recruiting and operations and his second year overall at the University of Colorado, having joined the CU staff in January 2006, continuing his long association with head coach Dan Hawkins.

He was promoted to his current position in the spring of 2007 after serving as the assistant in his first year in Boulder.

Tucker, 33, came to Colorado with Hawkins from Boise State, where he spent five seasons as the Broncos safeties coach and recruiting coordinator. In four of those five seasons, he coached one of his safeties to first-team All-WAC honors, including Quintin Mikell, who was the 2002 Western Athletic Conference Defensive Player of the Year who has gone on to play in the National Football League with the Philadelphia Eagles.

He first joined the Boise State coaching staff in 2000, working as a defensive graduate assistant for the Crucial.com Humanitarian Bowl champions. He was then promoted to full-time status the next season.

Prior to arriving at Boise State, Tucker served as teamwork coordinator at the University of Oregon for the 1999 season (from June to January), spending most of his time with the Ducks specializing in recruiting.

Tucker graduated from Willamette University in 1997 with a degree in psychology, where he played for Hawkins. He earned four letters in football, playing defensive back, and earned NAIA Honorable Mention All-American honors at safety as a senior in 1996.

His first coaching position came at his alma mater, as for the 1997 and 1998 seasons, he was the assistant defensive backs and defensive line coach, the first year under Hawkins and the next for Mark Speckman. In his two years as an assistant coach, Tucker helped Willamette go 20-4, win a conference championship and advance to the NAIA National Championship game in '97.

Following each of those seasons, from January to June, Tucker crossed the Atlantic and was a player/coach for the semi-pro Molosses team in Asnieres of the French Federation of American Football. Tucker led the team to an overall two-year record of 17-6-1 as the team's head coach, including playing in the 1999 French National Championship. He then moved on to Division I-A football for the first time and joined the Oregon program.

While coaching at Boise State, Tucker earned his master's degree in physical education and athletic administration from Idaho State University in 2001.

He was born July 10, 1974 in Tucson, Ariz., and graduated Grant High School (Sacramento, Calif.) in 1993, where lettered in football and baseball. He is single.

ANDY AVALOS
Graduate Assistant (Defense)

Andy Avalos is in his second year as the defensive graduate assistant, joining the Colorado staff in January 2006, shortly after CU hired his college head coach, Dan Hawkins.

He works with most aspects of the defense, but specifically helps linebacker coach Brian Cabral with the outside linebackers.

Avalos, 24, was a teacher and coached football at his prep alma mater, Corona (Calif.) High School, prior to coming to CU.

He graduated with a degree in criminal justice in 2004 from Boise State University, where he lettered four times in football between 2001 and 2004. A three-year starter for the Broncos, Avalos earned All-Western Athletic Conference honors at outside linebacker as a junior and senior. He ended his career fourth all-time in tackles in BSU history with 355, including team-highs of 107 as a sophomore, 113 as a junior and 86 as a senior. He had a 92-yard interception return for a touchdown in BSU's 44-40 loss to No. 10 Louisville in the 2004 Liberty Bowl, a game that Boise State entered undefeated and ranked No. 7 in the nation.

He was born November 5, 1981 in Corona, Calif., and graduated from Corona High School in 2000, where he lettered in football and baseball.

JOE BEVER
Graduate Assistant (Offense)

Joe Bever is in his second year as the offensive graduate assistant, as he joined the Colorado staff in February 2006. He initially served as an administrative intern and then shifted into the offensive graduate assistant role for fall camp.

Bever, 26, came to CU from Boise State University, where he worked as a volunteer for the football program for one year. He joined the BSU staff after working in private business (construction) in Boise for a year. He was the quarterback and running backs coach for St. Peter's College (Jersey City, N.J.) for the 2004 season.

He earned his bachelor's degree in finance in 2003 from Clemson University, where lettered as a senior for the Tigers in 2002. A walk-on member of the football team, he was a reserve quarterback for three seasons. He is enrolled in graduate school, as he will pursue studies in engineering management.

He was born October 23, 1980 in Reedsport, Ore., and graduated from Evergreen High School (Vancouver, Wash.), where he lettered in football and baseball. He is single.

BRAD BEDELL
Offensive Technical Intern

Brad Bedell is in his first year as the offensive technical intern on the Colorado staff, as he returned to his alma mater this past spring after retiring from professional football.

Bedell, 30, wrapped up his pro career for the Houston Texans in 2006, playing in nine games, and then decided to retire in June of this year. His desire to coaching has led him back to CU, where he was an All-American, earning two letters as an offensive guard for the 1998 and 1999 seasons, respectively, under coaches Rick Neuheisel and Gary Barnett.

He saw action in 40 National Football League games, including four starts, playing for the Cleveland Browns (2000-01), the Miami Dolphins (2003), the Green Bay Packers (2004-05) and Houston. He missed the 2002 season recovering from an injury.

At Colorado, he earned first-team All-America honors from the Football Writer's Association of America as a senior in 1999, with the Associated Press selecting him to its second team, which also named him first-team All-Big 12. That season, he had 24 touchdown blocks and was in for 834 plays at guard and on special teams, the second most on the team. He received a medical redshirt for the 1997 season after a neck injury sidelined him following the second game of the season. He started 24 of 26 games in his CU career, grading out at 89 percent over his final two seasons. He was a third-team all-league performer as a junior.

He was a member of two bowl champion teams for the Buffaloes, as CU defeated Oregon 51-43 in the '98 Aloha Bowl and Boston College 62-28 in the '99 Insight.com Bowl. He was a large part of an offense that racked up 113 points and 920 yards on offense in the two wins.

A sociology major at Colorado, he was working toward completing his degree this summer, as he pursued his pro football career immediately after his eligibility expired.

He was born February 12, 1977 in Arcadia, Calif., and graduated from Arcadia High School where he earned honorable mention All-America honors in football. He earned his A.A. degree from Mt. San Antonio College in 1997, as he was a first-team JUCO All-American and was rated as the top junior college offensive lineman and the No. 4 overall JC performer. He is married to the former Jessica Marie.

MARK NOLAN

Assistant Director/Football Operations

Mark Nolan is in his second year as the assistant director for football operations, as he officially joined the Colorado staff in June 2006. His duties have expanded this year, as he initially was involved in mainly the on-campus recruiting program his first season.

Nolan, 34, joined the CU staff from Brophy College Prep in Phoenix, Ariz., where he spent the last four years teaching history and was the school's defensive coordinator and head track coach.

He earned his bachelor's degree in history from Willamette University in 1995, where he lettered four seasons as a defensive back and earning all-conference honors as a junior and senior. He played two seasons under current CU coach Dan Hawkins. He also lettered four times in track (sprints and relays).

He began his coaching career at his alma mater, coaching the defensive line in 1995 and the defensive backs in 1996, both under Hawkins, with one of his players being current CU assistant operations director Robert Tucker that season. He then moved on to Gilbert (Ariz.) High School, where he taught classes (history and physical education) and was the school's assistant varsity coach for football and track from 1997-2001. He then moved on to Brophy.

He was born October 13, 1972 in Aumsville, Ore., and graduated from Cascade High School, where he lettered in football, basketball and track. He is married to the former Aspen Phelps, and they have a daughter, Barrett (4).

JASHON SYKES

Assistant Director

Jashon Sykes is in his second year as a member of the football staff, returning to his alma mater in August 2006. He is the assistant director of on-campus recruiting. He was an administrative assistant his first year, working in recruiting and operations upon leaving professional football.

Sykes, 27, spent the four years prior to his return in the National Football League, signing on as a free agent with the Denver Broncos after his CU career and was on the team's practice squad the 2002 season. He was a member of the team the next two years, seeing primarily special teams action, before finishing up his career with the Washington Redskins.

At Colorado, he finished his career 10th all-time in tackles (330), tied for 16th in quarterback sacks (12?), tied for 12th in tackles for loss (33) and tied for fifth in forced fumbles (7). Interestingly, he has had 14 tackles each time out in three games versus Nebraska for 42 of those 330. As a senior in 2001, he started the first four games of the season, but a herniated disc and subsequent operation ended his season. He decided to forego pursuing a medical redshirt and declared for the NFL draft. He played 238 snaps in the four games, and was the team's leading tackler with 33 at the time of his injury. He had been on the official watch lists for both the Butkus and Lombardi awards.

As a junior (2000), he earned honorable mention all-Big12 honors as he had 111 tackles (78 solo), 13 third down stops, three-and-a-half sacks, four hurries, two pass deflections and interception. He had at least seven tackles in all 11 games, and hit double figures eight times. His sophomore season, he blossomed into one of the nation's top

DONNELL LEOMITI

Defensive Technical Intern

Donnell Leomiti is in his second year as the defensive technical intern, as he assumed the role in March 2005, returning to his alma mater to continue working in the football coaching ranks.

Leomiti, 34, joined CU from Boulder High School, where he coached the linebackers for four years while coaching an after school youth program for the Boulder County School District, which he had done since graduating from CU in 1998. The last two years he worked as a counselor for at-risk minority students and low-income families for the Family Learning Center in Boulder.

He completed his playing career in the Cotton Bowl on New Year's Day 1996, signed as a free agent with the San Francisco but a previous neck injury eventually ruled out his pursuing a pro football career. He returned to CU and finished up his degree in communication in the spring of 1998. He then started coaching, working as an assistant at Denver North High School for two years (1999-2000), also while working his Boulder County job.

Starting out as a receiver at CU, he saw action in 11 games including the Fiesta Bowl as a true freshman in 1992, but was moved to the safety the following year, where he would earn three letters and start at strong safety his junior and senior years. He had 159 career tackles, including 98 as a senior (the third most on the team), along with three interceptions, three fumble recoveries and seven pass deflections. Two of his biggest plays came his junior year (1994): he returned an interception for a touchdown at Missouri and had a key fumble recovery in the fourth quarter at Michigan, a big play in the game now referred to as both "The Miracle in Michigan" and "The Catch."

A native of Santa Ana, Calif., he graduated from Leone High School in Pavaiai, American Samoa, in 1992 where he lettered in football, basketball and baseball. He was a two-time Ashaa League most valuable player on offense, earning the honor his junior and senior years. He is the father of two children, Donnell Jr. (11) and Siliaga (9).

linebackers at CU's new defensive position, "hawk" linebacker, one of two inside positions in the CU scheme. He earned defensive MVP honors in the Insight.com Bowl, when he had nine tackled and returned an interception for a touchdown against Boston College. He earned second-team All-America honors from the Football News, with the Associated Press selecting him first-team All-Big 12. He was selected by his teammates as the Zack Jordan Award winner as CU's most valuable player, and he also won the Dave Jones Award for the most outstanding defensive player as presented by the coaching staff. He led the team and was second in the Big 12 in tackles with 134 (including 82 solo), just the fifth sophomore to lead the Buffs since tackles started being tracked in 1965. He forced seven fumbles, which not only set a school record, but led the nation as well.

He developed rapidly his true freshman year, as he played in all 12 games and started four of the last five, including the Aloha Bowl. He finished seventh on the team in tackles with 52 (31 solo), with 28 in the last four regular season games including 14 at Nebraska; the 52 tackles were the most ever by a true freshman at the time. He was a co-winner of the Lee Willard Award, presented by the coaching staff to the most outstanding freshmen, and The Sporting News selected him as a first-team freshman All-American.

As a high school senior at Serra (Los Angeles), he earned a host of All-America honors, and received the maximum 10 votes in being names to the prestigious Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best-In-West team. He also lettered three times in tracks (sprints) and once in basketball.

Born September 25, 1979 in Los Angeles, Calif., he graduated with a degree in Ethnic Studies from CU in 2002, and is taking graduate courses in Business Administration. He is the father of a 3-year old daughter, Joslyn. As a player, he played with a small bible on the left side of his football pants. It was given to him from his grandmother on her deathbed before he watched her take her last breath, and he thinks about her and that situation before every game.

JEAN ONAGA
Administrative Assistant

Jean Onaga is in her 22nd year with the Colorado football program, and she handles all secretarial duties for the assistant coaches. She graduated from Kapiolani Community College in Honolulu, Hawaii, with a degree in business.

Onaga's first season with the Buffaloes was in 1986, and she is the longest continuous employee in the football department; only five current employees have been associated with the entire athletic department longer than Onaga, who has worked for four head coaches (Bill McCartney, Rick Neuheisel, Gary Barnett and Dan Hawkins). A native of Honolulu, she is married (Loren).

J.T. GALLOWAY
Director of Equipment

J.T. Galloway is in his third year as CU's director of equipment operations, having joined the athletic department on April 4, 2005.

Galloway, 39, oversees the equipments of CU's 16 intercollegiate sports, but his primary day-to-day obligation will be with the Buffalo football program. He is a certified member of the Athletic Equipment Manager's Association (AEMA), a status he attained in 1995 upon entering the profession full-time.

He graduated with a degree in sport management in 1994 from Washington State University, where he worked all four years of his college career as a student employee in the WSU equipment room. He began his professional career as an equipment intern at the University of Virginia in the fall of 1994 and worked there six months. He then moved on to the National Football League's Atlanta Falcons, where he was an assistant equipment manager for the 1995 season.

He returned to the college ranks as the football equipment director at Wake Forest from 1996 to 1998 before heading west to Arizona where he would spend the next six seasons as the associate director of equipment.

Born May 10, 1968 in Columbus, Ohio, Galloway graduated Gaither High School in Tampa, Fla. A sports fanatic, he enjoys all sports, especially golf. J.T. stands for John Thomas. He is married to the former Kelly Christy, a registered nurse, and the couple has two children, Katie (8) and Collin (5).

JAMIE GUY
Director of Sports Video

Jamie Guy is in his fourth year as CU's director of sports video and his seventh year overall on the Colorado staff, as he joined the department in August 2001. He was promoted to his current position in the fall of 2004 after worked just over three years as the assistant director.

Guy, 32, came to CU from the Chicago Enforcers of the now-defunct XFL, where he worked the lone season of the league's existence.

He was selected as the video coordinator of the year for 2005-06 in the Big 12 Conference, as the awards are coordinated and voted by members of the Collegiate Sports Video Association; members of

MEGAN ROGERS
Director of Football Administration

Megan Rogers is in her first year as the director of football administration, having been promoted to the position this past January by head coach Dan Hawkins.

Rogers, 27, also continues to serve in her role as administrative assistant for Hawkins, a role she assumed when he was hired, and she is her fourth year overall as an employee in the football office. She is just the second woman to ever hold the title at Colorado, and likely one of a few to ever occupy the position nationally.

Her responsibilities include organizing all aspects of team travel, serving as the liaison with players' parents and support groups, aiding in the coordination of CU's two major summer football camps as well as several single-day camps, coordinating travel for Hawkins and the coordinators, and serving on various committees in athletics.

In her previous role under former head coach Gary Barnett, she worked closely with both the offensive and defensive coordinators and handled almost all the administrative duties in recruiting.

She graduated from the University of Colorado in 2002 with a degree in psychology, and as an undergraduate, worked five years (1997-2001) as a student equipment manager for the football team.

Rogers was born March 30, 1980 in Denver. She graduated from Cherry Creek High School in Denver, where she lettered in track and was also an athletic trainer. Her father, Frank, earned three letters at CU playing both split end and placekicker from 1963-65.

each conference select the winner for their respective leagues, and the recipients are placed on the national ballot for the overall CSVA award.

He graduated from the University of Cincinnati in 1998 with a bachelor's degree in general studies. As a student, he worked in the Bearcats' sports video office for four years. Prior to entering the sports video profession, he worked as an electrician's apprentice and as a staff manager at Fitworks Fitness.

Born March 18, 1975 in Cincinnati, Ohio, he graduated from Lawrence Central High School (Indianapolis, Ind.) in 1994, where he lettered in track and football. His hobbies include collecting football memorabilia and playing the guitar. He is married to the former Kimberly Ernst.

DAVID PLATI
Associate AD/Sports Information

David Plati is in his 24th year as the athletic department's director of sports information, and his 30th year overall in CU's Sports Information Office. He was promoted to assistant athletic director for media relations on July 1, 1988, and attained associate athletic director status in August 2005.

Plati, 47, was named the 13th full-time sports information in CU history on July 24, 1984, after serving for three years as the assistant SID. The youngest SID in the nation at the time of his hiring, he previously worked as a student assistant and statistician since coming to CU as a freshman in 1978. Only six people have served in the role since 1952, with Plati's tenure in the position the longest in school annals; he is now the dean of SID's in the Big 12 Conference.

His primary responsibilities are with the football, skiing and men's golf programs, though he oversees the sports information efforts for all sports, and at one time or another has personally handled seven sports during his CU career. He has coordinated numerous successful promotional campaigns and also penned a book about the school's 1990 national championship in football. In 2005, the Denver Buff Club recognized him as its "MVB" choice (Most Valuable Buff).

Plati is also an adjunct instructor in CU's School of Journalism, teaching a sports media relations class, and since April 2001 has been CU's representative on the board of directors of the Colorado Chapter of the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame. In 2006, he became a member of the District 7 Screening Committee for the Hall.

While attending CU, Plati served four years as the information director for the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference. He also worked for the Colorado Golf Association and for the Rocky Mountain News.

He spent his senior year in college (1982) as the public relations director with the triple-A Denver Bears Baseball Club of the American Association. He has been a member of the Denver Broncos statistics crew since 1980 (and received game balls from the NFL team for their back-to-back Super Bowl wins). In the 1980s, he worked as a statistician for TBS for NBA telecasts and continues to work freelance for several networks, both television and radio, in a similar capacity. In 2004, he was appointed by major league baseball to serve as one of three official scorers for the Colorado Rockies baseball team.

He has worked as the media relations liaison for the Bolder Boulder 10K since 1987, and also served as a media relations assistant for the Colorado Open Golf Tournament for 12 years (1980-1991). He was the media coordinator for the 1985, 1989 and 1996

NCAA West Regionals, and was the local media coordinator and NCAA liaison for the 1990 Final Four. He also was the Hula Bowl's director of game week communications for four years (1995-98).

He graduated with a bachelor's degree in public relations, along with a minor in geography, from CU in 1982. He was a member of the journalism student council and wrote for The Campus Press.

Born April 19, 1960 in New Rochelle, N.Y., Plati graduated from Woodlands High School (Hartsdale, N.Y.) in 1978, where he lettered in football and golf (and was also the school's SID his senior year). In 1984, he was awarded an "Honorary C" for his service to Colorado athletics. An avid golfer, he won the 2005 Rocky Mountain Golf Writer's Association fourth annual tournament. His younger brother (Mark) was nominated for two Grammy Awards with David Bowie in 1998 (he was a guitarist in Bowie's band for five years), and also engineered the Song-of-the-Year for 1997 (Shawn Colvin's "Sunny Came Home"). He is single.

MIGUEL RUEDA
Head Athletic Trainer

Miguel Rueda is in his second year as the head athletic trainer at Colorado, as he was named to the position on August 1, 2006, just ahead of the start of football camp.

Rueda, 35, came to CU from Fresno State University, where he has been the Director of Sports Medicine since February 2001. At FSU, his primary responsibilities were the care and prevention of injuries for the football program and overseeing all areas of the Fresno State Sports Medicine Program. He has similar duties at Colorado, as he coordinates the needs and staffing for CU's 16 intercollegiate varsity programs.

Ironically, his first football game as Fresno State's head trainer was in Boulder, as the Bulldogs played the Buffaloes in the Black Coaches Association Classic on August 26, 2001; FSU won the game, 24-22, and went on to climb into the nation's top 10, until getting knocked off by Boise State, then coached by CU's new man, Dan Hawkins. The Buffs rebounded from the loss to win the Big 12 title.

Rueda previously had worked two years (1995-97) as a graduate assistant trainer for the Bulldogs while earning his master's degree in exercise physiology.

He had rejoined the Fresno State staff from Towson University, where he served as an assistant athletic trainer from 1998 to 2001; he was the head trainer for football. Prior to Towson, Rueda spent time with the Miami Dolphins of the National Football League in 1997-98 and with Holy Cross in 1994-95. He also has extensive teaching experience, instructing classes ranging from sports medicine administration to basic athletic training courses over the past 10 years.

He received his undergraduate degree in athletic training from Boston University in 1994, and his master's degree from Fresno State in 1997. Rueda is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association, the College Athletic Trainers Society and has American Red Cross CPR and First Aid certification.

He was born November 17, 1971 in San Francisco, graduating from the city's Jay Eugene McAteer High School where he lettered in cross country and track. He and his wife, Andrea, have two sons, Gabriel and Christopher, and a daughter, Isabella.

2007 OUTLOOK

At his season-ending press conference, when asked what grade he would give himself for the season, first-year head coach Dan Hawkins responded with "an F."

After all, the Buffaloes were 2-10, their worst mark in 22 seasons and just the third 10-loss campaign in 117 seasons of inter-collegiate football. The difference between this one and the other two was that the Buffaloes were in every game, with four of the losses by a combined 13 points, including one in triple overtime.

Colorado heard things all season like, "CU is the best 0-6 team in history... Colorado is much better than its 1-9 record," etc., etc., etc. No coach or player anywhere will tell you that is any consolation; all would rather be the worst 6-0 team ever. The feeling was no different in Boulder, even though fans rushed the Folsom Field floor after both wins, decisive verdicts over Texas Tech and Iowa State.

A 19-10 loss to Montana State in the season opener put an immediate damper on Hawkins' first year, as the highly respected coach came to Colorado from Boise State, where he left as the winningest coach in Division I-A over a five-year span. As to what happened, Hawkins and staff spent the entire off-season analyzing every aspect of the program, with the reality that with his resume, expectations might have been higher than they should have been, though no one expected a 2-10 season and the Buffaloes being home come bowl time for just the fifth time since 1984.

"I don't think there was anything that we really discovered because we already had a pretty good handle on what we need to do to get better and why things didn't work out last year," Hawkins said of the winter evaluations. "A lot of things that we did in the off season were just in terms of being a little more demanding, and really emphasizing the finer points of everything from academics to strength and conditioning. Putting the squeeze on the things we know are very important to being a successful person, student and football team. One of the good things is that after winter conditioning, we're stronger all across the board. It's a rebuilding culture, and we're rebuilding confidence as much as anything."

The 10 losses by a total of 112 points in 2006 likely exacerbated the situation, even though the six losses in 2005 were by 162 points and the previous 22 in the program by 472 (21.5 per setback). And though Colorado is realistically in a rebuilding stage as opposed to a reloading one it had been accustomed to for two decades, long-time observers of the program did see several positives, including penalty and turnover counts being reduced.

Hawkins is obviously eager to get year two rolling, and has stayed upbeat and positive. He believes that with a foundation now laid of what his coaching staff expects of the players, along with the usual first-year newlywed issues most incoming staffs experience at new schools now behind them, things will be much different in 2007. He noted several times in and then after spring practice how far ahead he felt his second team was of his first at various junctures, both in practice and conditioning.

"We should be able to expand the entire packages on both offense and defense, because we were able to lay down a baseline of components and now we can build upon those," he said. "The experience factor will also make a difference; when you have to go back to point A, we won't have to tell them what point A is. We'll be able to do a lot of things more creatively on both sides of the football, and be able to add more things into the packages as well."

Now there was a long list of positives when looking back on 2006, many that should help lay the foundation that Hawkins referred to. Among those:

- Turnover Margin. CU finished the year at plus-8, the best number since a plus-13 in 1993; it also tied for the eighth best single-season figure in school history, behind 1956 (+18), 1967 (+17), 1976 (+16), 1993 (+13), 1992 (+12), 1972 (+11) and 1960 (+10). The +0.67 per game average is 17th in the NCAA.
- Colorado committed just 16 turnovers, the fewest since 13 in both 1993 and 1989 (which were 11-game seasons); the 16 are thus the third fewest committed by a Buffalo team over the last 50 seasons. CU's last turnover was a fumble lost with 7:55 left in the second quarter of the Kansas State game, meaning the Buffs finished the last 10-plus quarters (157:55) of the season without a turnover (QB Bernard Jackson was not intercepted in his last 66 passes). CU's quarterbacks threw just 8 interceptions, tied for the 13th lowest total in the last 61 seasons (with the 3.1 INT percentage the seventh lowest in school annals).
- CU had four games with no turnovers, a school season best; the old season high had been three games, which had been done just three times (1956, 1989, 1993).
- Rushing Yards. Colorado rushed for 2,075 yards (172.9 per game), its most since 3,136 in 2002, and its most in any losing season since 1974, when the 5-6 Buffs rushed for 2,441 yards. Three players rushed for over 500 yards, just the 10th time in school history that feat was accomplished (TB Hugh Charles, QB Bernard Jackson and TB Mell Holliday combined for 1,968 yards and averaged 4.9 yards per carry).
- CU allowed 22.3 points per game, the fewest since 1998 (19.1), and the third lowest figure in CU's 11 years in the Big 12 (the other: 18.1 in 1996).
- Linebacker Play. Junior Jordon Dizon and senior Thaddaeus Washington became the first set of linebackers to both post 100-plus tackles in a season since 1994, when Ted Johnson and Matt Russell accomplished the double-triple.
- Field Position. Opponents started 56 of 138 drives at or inside their 20 (40.6%), while not up to the figure in 2005 (49.7), the Buffs had a freshman punter compared to a Ray Guy finalist a year ago. P Matthew DiLallo improved as the season progressed, and his 43.7 average was a school frosh best (he was just the third freshman to ever lead the team in punting, something CU's six All-Americans at the position never did).
- TE Riar Geer. The redshirt freshman tight end became the first frosh, true or redshirt, to lead the Buffaloes for a single season in both receptions and yards, as he finished the year with 24 catches for 261 yards (and 3 TDs). He's just the ninth tight end to lead the team, joining the likes of Jerry Hillebrand, J.V. Cain, Dave Hestera, Jon Embree and Daniel Graham, who was the last to do it in 2001.

TB Hugh Charles

➡ Colorado allowed just six plays from scrimmage of 40 yards or longer (4 pass, 2 rush); that ties the fewest since the 1987 season, when the Buffs surrendered just four (two of each). Over the past 20 years, CU has limited the foe to six three other seasons (1991, 1994, 1995), with the 13 allowed over the last two seasons the third fewest over a two-year span (trailing the 11 over the 1987-88 seasons and 12 over '94 and '95).

➡ Second Down Defense. Though opponents did convert at a 47.8 clip on third down, CU's defense shined on second and short; opponents converted just 23 of 53 times when faced with second and four or less (the same figure for the NFL Denver Broncos, a highly regarded defense, was 39-of-68).

➡ Penalties. Colorado was flagged for 63 penalties, down from 116 in 2005 and its fewest since 1986, when the Buffs were called for 60 infractions. The 559 penalty yards were the fewest since the '88 team had 535 yards marched off on calls.

The Buffaloes return 16 starters, along with six others with significant starting experience in their careers, and 41 lettermen in all from the 2006 squad. So a nucleus is present to build around and the cupboard isn't bare; but depth along the lines is most certainly an issue.

It will take the better part of three recruiting classes to restock the interior lines, as in the interim, CU had only seven offensive and nine defensive linemen on the 2007 spring roster. Help arrives this fall, but many of the rookies will be filling out spots in the two deep, quite likely before all are ready to. Hawkins has said he wants as many as 13-15 offensive linemen at any time, with no less than a dozen defensively, as the plan there is to rotate them in to keep them fresh through four quarters.

Offensively, the Buffs did establish a solid running game last year, ranking 22nd in the nation with a 172.9 yards per game average. CU had three players rush for 500-plus yards, including 665 out of the quarterback position. But that wasn't to say that the Buffs could run the ball down anyone's throat when they needed to, something the coaches would like see the program get back to. Senior Hugh Charles, a Doak Walker Award candidate, is set for a big senior year, and if his commitment in the off-season which led to a great spring practice is any indication, then big things lie ahead for him and the offense.

The quarterback position will be the key to improving a passing game that ranked 116th in the NCAA, as CU averaged just 118.5 yards through the air in 2006. Because the passing game provided little threat, opponents were able to limit the Buffs to just 291.4 yards per game overall on offense, holding CU to 15 points or less eight times. While senior Bernard Jackson made tremendous strides, and rushed for the third-most single-season yards by a quarterback in school history, the job is up for grabs heading into the fall. At the end of spring drills, the race appeared to be down to two between JUCO transfer Nick Nelson and red-shirt frosh Cody Hawkins, while Jackson practiced at wide receiver the final two weeks of practices, though still attended quarterback meetings; he could be used in a "slash" role made famous by former Buff quarterback Kordell Stewart with the Pittsburgh Steelers. As is often the case, all three bring something different to the table and the coaches will have to sort out who can run the offense the most efficient.

Colorado's strength a year ago was its run defense, ranked in the top 15 nationally for much of the season and will likely once again be sturdy this fall. Anchored by tackles George Hypolite and Brandon Nicolas and inside linebacker Jordon Dizon, defense against the run is expected again to be a strong suit for the Buffaloes.

One thing that must improve is the pass defense. While CU did not allow an extraordinary number of big plays, opponents completed 66.9 percent of their passes, which helped lead to nearly a 48 percent third down conversion rate. The secondary is expected to be improved under the second-year leadership of coach Greg Brown, one of the top men in the business at any level, and cornerback Terrence Wheatley and safety Ryan Walters return to lead the group.

The Buffs were inconsistent on special teams last year, and are faced with having to replace two-time All-American Mason Crosby at placekicker. However, senior Kevin Eberhart has patiently waited for his opportunity, and the all-time kick scoring leader in Colorado prep history should be able to shoulder the load. Matt DiLallo had the best freshman season of any punter in school annals, and CU was ranked 31st nationally in net punting; otherwise the Buffaloes struggled in the return game (95th in kickoffs, 104th in punts) as well as in return coverage (72nd in punt, 87th in kickoff), needs that were addressed in the spring and will be again in fall camp. Justin Drescher had a fine true freshman season as the snapper on punts and placements, but three-year holder veteran Nick Holz needs to be replaced.

Colorado once again will play one of the nation's premier schedules, particularly in non-conference play. It's almost a murderer's row in September, as CU opens with in-state rival Colorado State in Denver, then travels to Arizona State before three in a row at Folsom Field: Florida State, Miami-Ohio and the conference opener against Oklahoma.

"I think it's awesome to have the opponents that we have coming to Folsom Field," Hawkins said. "Florida State, Oklahoma and Nebraska have all won national championships in the last decade, so I would think having three programs with that kind of accomplishment all coming to your backyard is a unique circumstance... and opportunity. Then there's Missouri, Kansas and Miami, Ohio also on the home schedule, and I think there is a lot of excitement as well to go back down and play CSU at Invesco (Field at Mile High in Denver). All you have to be is a college football fan and you should want to get in on that. The schedule is loaded with premier opponents."

And Hawkins and company are working to make sure that an opponent can say the same when Colorado comes to their town.

IN-DEPTH LOOK AT THE BUFFS

Offense

Quarterback

VETERANS: Bernard Jackson, Sr. REDSHIRTS: Cody Hawkins, Fr.-RS. JUCO RECRUIT: Nick Nelson, Jr.

Jackson took over the starting role from James Cox in the second game of the 2006 season, and while struggling at times, made vast improvement over the final 11 games of the year. The only thing for certain is that the starting position won't be decided in the spring; Dan Hawkins prefers to let it play out over summer conditioning and the first part of fall camp. It was really a two-horse race in the spring, as the junior college veteran Nelson, who enrolled for classes in January, and Hawkins, who redshirted as a true frosh a year ago but was selected by his peers as the offensive scout player of the year, received most of the scrimmage snaps; Jackson split time at QB and receiver, though attended the signal caller meetings. Nelson led Saddleback Community College to an 11-1 record while throwing for 1,910 yards and along with Jackson brings some game experience to the battle. Jackson was versatile, as he threw for 1,298 yards and ran for the third-most single-season yards (677) by a quarterback in season history, and may very well see time at receiver to utilize his athleticism. Whoever wins the role will be charged with improving an offense that struggled to be consistent last fall, one that score one touchdown or less in seven of 12 games.

Fall Additions: Matt Ballenger (recruit). Key Losses: Cox (graduation).

Running Back / Fullback

VETERANS: Hugh Charles, Sr.; Byron Ellis, Sr.; Kevin Moyd, Soph. (TB); Jake Behrens, Fr.-RS; Maurice Cantrell, Jr.; Samson Jagoras, Sr. (FB); REDSHIRTS: Demetrius Sumler, Fr.-RS; Cory Nabors, Fr.-RS (TB)

CU was 22nd nationally running the ball in '06, averaging a healthy 172.9 yards per game, and it marked just the 10th time in program history three players rushed for at least 500 yards. Still, there is room for improvement; CU was just 28-of-62 on third down rushing the football, and while having 17 plays over 20 yards, the coaching staff would like to see more consistency, especially between the tackles. Charles returns as CU's 21st all-time leading rusher, with 779 yards a year ago, as does Ellis, with the duo to get some competition from Moyd and Sumler. Charles had a great spring and Moyd a solid one, while Sumler opened eyes in practice while redshirting as a frosh. Two talented newcomers will join the fold in the fall.

Fullback Cantrell worked his way into the first-team role a year ago after moving over from inside linebacker, with Jagoras, the original starter, also seeing time over the course of the year. Behrens figures into the mix as well, and with no incoming recruits to add to the position, these three will carry the load in 2007.

Fall Additions: TB Brian Lockridge, TB P.T. Gates (recruits).

Key Losses: Mell Holliday (graduation).

Offensive Line

VETERANS: Edwin Harrison, Sr.; Devin Head, Soph.; Tyler Polumbus, Sr.; Daniel Sanders, Jr. REDSHIRTS: Erick Faatagi, Jr.; Wes Palazzi, Fr.-RS; Keenan Stevens, Fr.-RS

For the second straight spring, the coaches didn't have many bodies to work with, but help is on the way as eight highly touted recruits will join the fold in August. The Buffs lose two players considered the anchors of the line the better part of this decade, guard Brian Daniels and center Mark Fenton, who started seven seasons and 76 games between them. In the meantime, there were just six healthy bodies for the spring with one player (Faatagi) who participated only on a limited basis. While that will make practice challenging for the coaches, valuable reps will be gained by redshirts Palazzi and Stevens, who have never seen game action, and Head, who played 55 snaps last year, all but one in the opener when he subbed in for an injured Sanders. Harrison and Polumbus are the only tackles on the roster, though Head could slide over from guard to the position with his size. Sanders and Stevens saw action at center as well as guard, while Faatagi practiced at guard a little more than expected as he finished up rehab from knee surgery. Come fall, several of the incoming frosh will fill out the two-deep by necessity, with the possibility that one or more could work their way on to the first-team, most notably Ryan Miller, considered one of the top OL recruits in the nation.

Fall Additions: Ethan Adkins, Matthew Bahr, Blake Behrens, Shawn Daniels, Mike Iltis, Kai Maiava, Ryan Miller, Sione Tau (recruits). Key Losses: Daniels, Fenton, C Bryce MacMartin, OG/T Jack Tipton (graduation); OT Paul Backowski, OT Jeremy Hauck (quit).

Receiver

VETERANS: Alvin Barnett, Sr.; Cha'pelle Brown, Soph.; Cody Crawford, Jr.; Stephone Robinson, Sr.; Dusty Sprague, Sr.; Patrick Williams, Jr.; Chase McBride, Sr.; Jarrell Yates, Soph. REDSHIRTS: Cameron Ham, Fr.-RS; Michael Kachmer, Soph.; Scotty McKnight, Fr.-RS (—denotes switched positions).

No locks here, either at the X or Z positions, as the coaches will be looking for at least two "go-to" guys to emerge in the spring and fall camp. Barnett led all the wideouts with 21 catches a year ago (10 in the final four games), but he, along with Williams (19), Crawford (15, all but two in the final five games), Sprague (11), Robinson (2) and Yates (2) combined for just 70 receptions for a shade over 13 yards per, with just three touchdowns. Hawkins' Boise State teams were known for stretching the field, averaging around 75-80 pass plays a season over 20 yards, and that has to improve between the quarterback and receiver play; CU had just 18 all last year, just 13 from the receiver position. Brown comes over from cornerback where he saw significant action as a frosh (350 snaps), so he'll add some speed to the troops; McKnight, a walk-on, received high praise in practices and could be a factor, but he suffered a broken ankle the first day of drills and missed all of spring. Three recruits arrive in the fall and they could make an impact if the veterans don't answer the bell.

Fall Additions: Kendrick Celestine, Markques Simas, Josh Smith (recruits). Key Losses: Blake Mackey (graduation).

Tight End

VETERANS: Patrick Devenny, Soph.; Tyson DeVree, Sr.; Riar Geer, Soph.; Joe Sanders, Sr. REDSHIRTS: Nate Solder, Fr.-RS (—denotes switched positions).

Geer emerged as the go-to guy among all receivers, becoming the first freshman (true or redshirt) to lead CU in receiving (24 catches for 261 yards, 3 TDs). DeVree was expected to be that guy as a highly-regarded transfer from Western Michigan, but he was side-tracked early on due to injury and never got into any kind of groove; he could be a diamond in the rough. Devenny moved to tight end last spring but returned to quarterback due to the depth situation, and is now back at TE, with Sanders moving over from inside linebacker to the position he was recruited to CU. He had a tremendous spring and looks like he can be a factor at the position in the fall. Solder is one the coaches want to get on the field as they liked him in practice.

Fall Additions: None (recruit Devan Johnson is scheduled for January enrollment). Key Losses: Paul Creighton, Dan Goettsch (graduation).

Defense

Defensive Front

VETERANS: Alonzo Barrett, Sr.; Maurice Lucas, Jr. (DE); Jason Brace, Soph.; George Hypolite, Jr., Taj Kaynor, Soph., Brandon Nicolas, Jr. (DT). REDSHIRTS: Marquez Herrod, Fr-RS (DE); Eric Lawson, Fr-RS (DT). JUCO RECRUIT: Drew Hudgins, Jr. (DE).

The loss to graduation by ends Abraham Wright (11½ sacks) and Walter Boye-Doe hit this area hard, as only two returning players have game experience at the position: Lucas, who started the last half of his freshman year, and Barrett; they played 311 snaps a year ago but had just one sack between them. JUCO transfer Hudgins will immediately bolster the position, and the coaches liked what they saw in practice from Herrod a year ago. At tackle, starters Hypolite and Nicolas return, so the Buffs are more than solid on the first unit. Reserves Brace and Kaynor also return, and they have some game action under their belts, while Lawson is another redshirt the coaches liked in practices. The key here is once there are enough bodies, the coaches want to be able to run in up to 10 players per game to keep people fresh; they utilized only seven in that capacity a year ago.

Fall Additions: Conrad Obi, Christopher Perri, Lagrone Shields (recruits; a fourth, Eugene Goree, is currently slated for January enrollment). Key Losses: Walter Boye-Doe, Abraham Wright, Alex Ligon, Marcus Jones (graduation).

Inside Linebacker

VETERANS: Jordon Dizon, Sr.; Michael Sipili, Soph.; Marcus Burton, Jr.; R.J. Brown, Jr.; Jeff Smart, Soph.; Bryan Stengel, Soph. TRANSFER: Jake Duren, Soph.

The Buffs had a solid 1-2 punch in Dizon and Thaddaeus Washington a year ago, with Dizon recording 137 tackles, the most by a Buff in nine years, as he was everywhere; he also had the third-most third down stops in school history with 17. He leads several returnees at the position, but Washington, a tough competitor and big hitter, has to be replaced. Figure on Sipili being a lead candidate for that distinction, as he made a pair of starts in '06 and the coaches are very high on his all-around game. Don't count out Burton, who has plenty of game experience, or Duren, a Northern Colorado transfer. Smart was in for a few game plays as well, and this is a position where you count out no one since it's tutored by linebacker coaching great Brian Cabral.

Fall Additions: Tyler Ahles (recruit). Key Losses: Jason Ackerman, Washington (graduation).

Outside Linebacker

VETERANS: Brad Jones, Jr.; REDSHIRT: B.J. Beatty, Fr-RS; SPRING RECRUIT: Josh Hartigan, Fr.

Jones was the third-leading tackler (72) last season, though only had one for a loss (a half-sack); thus the coaches will be exploring ways to get him into the backfield more. Last year's backup, Joe Sanders, only saw 36 snaps in games and switched back to his original tight end position. Beatty impressed in practice and figures to crack the two-deep and subsequent playing time, while Hartigan has enrolled at CU after graduating high school in December and will get extra reps under his belt.

Fall Additions: none. Key Losses: Ben Carpenter, Chad Cusworth (graduation); Sanders (to offense).

Secondary

VETERANS: Terrence Wheatley, Sr.; Gardner McKay, Jr. (CB); Ben Burney, Jr. (CB/S); Lionel Harris, Sr.; Ryan Walters, Jr.; Joel Adams, Jr. (S). GRAYSHIRTS: Jonathan Hawkins, Fr. (CB). TRANSFERS: Daniel Dykes, Jr. REDSHIRTS: Jalil Brown, Fr-RS; Jimmy Smith, Fr-RS (CB). WALK-ONS: Bret Smith, Fr-RS (S).

The group has several key veterans and some talented performers who have yet to play a down in a CU uniform; there should be enough leadership to help the "rookies" ease on in. Wheatley, an All-Big 12 selection by the coaches a year ago, figures to be a lock for one of the cornerback positions; he led the team with five interceptions in 2006. The other spot is wide open, with the graduation of Lorenzo Sims and Terry Washington, who split 12 starts last season. Burney, who made two starts at safety in '06, has swung between the two spots but will get a serious look at corner. McKay will have his chance to emerge, after playing mostly special teams a year ago (he saw 66 defensive snaps). Two of the top frosh redshirts from last fall were cornerbacks: Brown and Smith; thus, the coaches could afford to switch Cha'pelle Brown to receiver. January enrollee Hawkins, a member of the '06 recruiting class, bolsters the group. Walters likely has one spot all but locked up, as he gained a reputation as one of the team's fiercest hitters. The other spot will have some competition, with Harris one of the favorites for playing time as he stepped in for an injured J.J. Billingsley for six starts last year and did just fine. Dykes, an Idaho transfer, will figure into the mix, while Adams, who saw special teams duty a year ago after earning two letters in skiing, is now concentrating solely on football. In addition, one player who will have to sit out the fall after transferring is on hand to provide some practice depth, Kyle Black (Air Force).

Fall Additions: Anthony Perkins, Lamont Smith, Nate Vaiomounga, Anthony Wright (recruits). Key Losses: Billingsley, Sims, Terry Washington, Dominique Brooks, Vance Washington (graduation); Brown (to offense).

Kicking Game / Special Teams

VETERAN PERSONNEL: PK Kevin Eberhart, Sr.; P Matt DiLallo, Soph.; LS Justin Drescher, Soph. TRANSFER: P Tom Suazo, Jr.; SQUAD MEMBERS: LS Austin Bisnow, Fr-RS. SPRING WALK-ON: PK Jim Parra, Fr. (plus several return men).

It's no secret that CU has to replace two-time All-America place-kicker Mason Crosby, but Eberhart had more than sound credentials when he arrived; he just fell victim to being a member of the same class as one of college football's all-time greatest kickers. He has a strong leg as well, and did handle kickoff chores for a time as a freshman; he got a look at punter during the spring as well and could figure into that mix as well. DiLallo quietly had the best season by any freshman punter in school history, and was ranked in the nation's top 20 all season; he could very well arrive on the national scene this fall. There's not much depth at either position, so Parra and Suazo are going to get more than a fair share of reps in the practice which will benefit them down the road. Drescher handled all snaps for placements and punts a year ago and was near flawless in doing so. CU will have to find a new holder, as Nick Holz handled the chores for three years, and the return men, as usual, won't be firmed up until fall.

Fall Additions: none. Key Losses: PK Crosby, P Isaac Garden, H Holz (graduation).

THE PLAYERS

30

JOEL ADAMS, FS

5-11, 195, Jr., 1L
Steamboat Springs, Colo.
(Steamboat)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Jr.)—Enters the fall listed third at free safety. He had four tackles (all solo) and a pass deflection in the four full spring scrimmages.

2006 (Soph.)—He saw action in the final nine games of the season, all on special teams duty. He had two solo tackles as a member of the kick coverage units.

2005 (Fr.)—He did not see any action after joining the team as a walk-on for August drills; he was already enrolled at Colorado, as he was a member of the varsity ski team. Thus, his collegiate “clock” had started for the 2004 fall semester, so once he joined the football team, he had four years to play four, without a redshirt season for football. He practiced all fall at safety, and on three occasions was awarded the Scout Team Defense Award for his efforts leading up to the Colorado State, Kansas and Nebraska games. He rejoined the ski team after the Champs Sports Bowl, though he practiced both sports in December.

SKIING—Lettered twice in skiing as a freshman and sophomore (2005, 2006) before deciding to solely concentrate on football collegiately. He was a member of CU's national championship team as a sophomore in 2006. He had four top 20 finishes on the winter, with a best of 11th in the giant slalom in the Alaska Invitational (which was held at Park City, Utah); his top slalom finish was 17th in Western State's invite. He was ranked 24th in the giant slalom and 26th in the slalom in the west, but did not qualify to ski at the NCAA meet. In 2005, he was the lone member of the CU men's alpine team to qualify for the NCAA's, finishing 19th in the slalom and 22nd in the giant slalom. He had three top 10 finishes in 12 races on the year, all in the GS, with his best a fifth place effort at the New Mexico Invitational, followed by a seventh place showing in the Utah Invitational and 10th place in the Alaska meet; his best effort in the slalom was 12th in Utah. He skied for the Steamboat Springs Ski Club for 10 years, four of those on Team Colorado, and also spent one year skiing in Park City, Utah. In 2001 he won the International Whistler Cup at 15-years-old (the best 15-and-under skiers in the world) and qualified for the U.S. Development Team, but declined the opportunity because he wanted to continue playing prep football. In 2004 he turned in a fifth place finish in the Mammoth Spring Series against competition that included U.S. Ski Team members. He decided to concentrate solely on football following the 2006 pigskin season and did not return to the ski team, but by earning a letter in the former in '06, he became the first athlete in school history to letter in the two-sport combo of football and skiing (and just the second to attempt it along with Jim Hoeschler, who did so in the late 1960s).

HIGH SCHOOL—He earned four letters in football, as he was Steamboat's starting quarterback for three years and was the captain of the 2002 team. He holds Steamboat's single-game passing yards record and in a one game he passed for a touchdown, ran for a second and returned an interception for yet another, also a school first.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in International Affairs at Colorado, as he is following in his father's footsteps and studying international business.

PERSONAL—Born January 6, 1985 in Steamboat Springs. His hobbies include playing golf and spending time outdoors. He never considered any other college than CU, his childhood favorite from the beginning. Though his collegiate skiing days are over, he has aspirations of participating in the sport in the X-Games someday.

When the quarterback position became depleted due to injury and transition, he was moved back to the spot from tight end, where he had moved to prior to spring practices. He had settled in well at tight end, but with CU down to just one active signal caller, he would end the year number two on the depth chart. 2005 (Fr.)—Redshirted; he practiced the entire fall at quarterback. He was the Scout Team Offense Award winner for the Kansas game.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, SuperPrep named him to its All-Far West squad (ranked as the No. 88 overall player in California), while Rivals.com tabbed him the No. 14 quarterback in the state and named him a postseason honorable mention all-state performer. He was also the all-area MVP and Metro League Offensive MVP, en route to earning second-team all-section quarterback honors. Playing in the Sierra Foothills League his junior season, he earned all-area quarterback notice, was a first-team all-league honoree and was named his team’s most improved player. As a senior he set nine school records, including the most passing yards (267) and completions (17) in a game, the most completions (127) and attempts (212) in a season, and the most completions (222), attempts (381), yards (3,706), total yards (4,048) and touchdowns passes (43) in a career. His 43.7 average was 5.4 yards better than the previous school record by a freshman. He earned CU Athlete-of-the-Week honors for his efforts in the Baylor game, as he had a 51.8 average for four punts, including a pair inside-the-20; his last punt of the game, a 63-yard rocket, came near the end of regulation with an 11-man rush as the contest was set to go into overtime. He won personal punting battles against the opposing punter nine out of 10 times (he had just one punt the other two occasions).

JORDON DIZON, ILB
6-0, 225, Sr., 3L
Waimea, Hawai'i (Waimea)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—CU's starting inside "will" linebacker, selected by his teammates as CU's defensive captain for the 2007 season. A first-team All-Big 12 Conference preseason pick by Athlon, Lindy's Big 12 Football and Street & Smith's (second-team by The Sporting News and Phil Steele's College Football). Nationalchamps.net named him an honorable mention preseason All-American. Lindy's ranked him as the No. 9 inside linebacker in the nation, and he is one of 48 players at the position on the Football Writer's All-America checklist. He is also one of 42 candidates on the official preseason watch list for the Ronnie Lott Award and one of 65 official nominees for the Chuck Bednarik Award. The coaches selected him as the recipient of the Eddie Crowder Award, recognizing his outstanding leadership during spring ball. He enters his senior season as the nation's fourth active leading tackler (280); that ranks him 17th all-time at Colorado, with his 173 solo count 20th on that list.

2006 (Jr.)—He started 11 games and played in all 12 (came in after the first series at Missouri), as he earned second-team All-Big 12 Conference honors from the Associated Press (the league coaches tabbed him honorable mention); the San Antonio Express-News recognized him on its first team, with two other regional papers selecting him second-team. He earned first-team All-Colorado honors from the state chapter of the National Football Foundation, which also selected him as the state's player of the week for the Nebraska game, when he had a career-high 19 tackles, with nine solo and two for losses. On the year, he racked up 137 tackles (80 solo), the most by a Buff in nine years (1997, when Ryan Sutter had 170) and the highest count by a linebacker since Matt Russell had the same number when he won the Butkus Award in 1996. His 17 third down stops on the season were just one shy of the school record, as Chad Brown had 18 in 1992, a number equaled by Brian Iwuh in 2005. He also added two hurries, two chasedowns (near sacks), recovered two fumbles, forced one fumble, a pass deflection and two touchdown saves. The 19 tackles he had against NU tied for the most by a Buff in a single game since 1999, and he had 10 or more tackles in eight of 12 games on the year. He had 16 against Texas Tech (with a season high 11 solo), and 15 each in the Colorado State and Oklahoma games. He received the team's Tom McMahon Award, given for dedication and work ethic. He was on the regular season watch list for the Dick Butkus Award (one of 65 candidates).

2005 (Soph.)—He played in all 13 games including the Champs Sports Bowl (12 starts, he deferred to hometown senior Akarika Dawn in the Big 12 title game). There was no sophomore jinx for him in following up his tremendous freshman year as he earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors from the league coaches, as he tied for fifth on the team in tackles with 61 (42 solo) in 475 snaps from scrimmage. He had seven tackles for losses, including three quarterback sacks, along with five third down stops, four hurries, three quarterback chasedowns (near sacks) and a pass deflection. He had six tackles in five games, and had five stops in another five games; against Kansas and versus Texas in the Big 12 title game, he posted a season-best six solo stops. Against Missouri, he had five tackles, including a pair of quarterback sacks, and he was CU's defensive lineman of the week in the Kansas State game when he posted six total tackles and a sack. He had four tackles, all solo, against Clemson in the bowl game. On special teams, he had two tackles, one inside-the-20, for three points. In the preseason, Street & Smith's selected him as a first-team All-Big 12 Conference performer.

2004 (Fr.)—He enjoyed one of the finest seasons by a true freshman in school history, as he was CU's first true frosh to ever be recognized with the conference's Defensive Newcomer of the Year (Associated Press) and the Defensive Freshman of the Year (Big 12 Coaches) awards. The Sporting News and Rivals.com selected him as a second-team Freshman All-American, he earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors from the AP, and TSN also selected him to its Freshman All-Big 12 team. Dizon led all freshmen in the conference in tackles with 82 (51 solo), which also established a CU true freshman record as he bettered the old total by some 15 stops (it was the second most tackles posted by a frosh, red-shirt or true, missing a new mark by just four). He led the team in tackles from game one through game eight, eventually finishing third overall, easily the highest ever by a true freshman at CU (two others had previously finished seventh). He also had six tackles for loss, including one sack (against Texas), seven third down stops, four passes broken up, two touchdown saves, a forced fumble and one recovery. He had two big plays out of the gate, both of his touchdown saves: in the opener against Colorado State, he stuffed former Buff Marcus Houston at the 1-yard line on a second-and-goal run with less than 30 seconds remaining in a 27-24 Buff victory, and a week later at Washington State, he tackled quarterback Alex Brink at the 2, forcing a fumble that teammate Matt McChesney recovered with five seconds to go to preserve the 20-12 win. He had eight tackles in the opener (6 solo, along with a caused interception), and his 13 (9 solo) against WSU were the second most in a single-game by a CU true freshman. He had 10 stops (7 solo) against Texas and nine versus Missouri as he had at least four tackles in every game, five-plus in 10 games and six or more in eight contests. On special teams duty, he racked up seven points on the strength of four knockdown blocks on returns and two assisted tackles, one inside-the-20. When he reported to camp, the coaches had no idea what position he would play; they thought running back or safety would be his first home, but five days into drills after a trial at linebacker, it was evident that he was something special at the position. He would become the first true freshman to start a season opener at inside linebacker in school history, and he went on to start 11 games including the Houston Bowl (he played in all 13), tied for the most starts ever by a true freshman at Colorado. In the bowl win over UTEP, he had three solo tackles and a fumble recovery, the latter coming on the Miner's first possession of the second half and led to a CU field goal. He won the Lee Willard Award, presented by the coaches, as the team's most outstanding freshman, only the third inside linebacker to ever win the honor.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he was a Prep Football Report and PrepStar All-West regional team member, earning second-team all-state and Kauai Interscholastic Federation (KIF) All-Star honors. PFR ranked him as the No. 65 player in the region and the third ranked running back, calling him "potentially the top fullback on the west coast," while Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 8 running back prospect nationally. He earned second-team all-state honors both as a sophomore and junior, when he was also selected as the KIF most valuable player. He was injured most of the regular season his senior year, rushing once for a 12 yard touchdown run but catching nine passes for 250 yards and three scores in just over two games (he played in four preseason games and rushed for about 600 yards). As a junior, he rushed 150 times for 1,157 yards and 13 touchdowns, with a long of 84, while catching 15 passes for 175 yards. He started at linebacker on defense and was in on 75 tackles. He also handled some of the punting chores in high school, and in the state semifinal as a junior, he pinned four punts inside-the-10 yardline. Top games: in a 55-0 win over Kapaa as a junior, he rushed for 37 times for 376 yards and five touchdowns; in a 42-35 win over Hawaii Prep Academy as a senior, he had 40 rushes for 315 yards and five scores; and in a win over Woodbridge his senior year, he had 33 carries for 275 yards and four TDs. Waimea was 6-2 his senior year and 6-1 his junior and sophomore seasons under coach Liko Pereira (not including preseason games), losing in the state semifinals all three seasons. He also lettered four times in basketball (forward), was a three-time Player of the Year/Island (KIF), as well as a three-time honorable mention all-state performer. He also lettered three times in track (sprints, the 100-meter KIF champion as a junior), and once in soccer.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in Economics at Colorado. He earned second-team Academic All-Big 12 team honors as a junior. He was an honor roll member every quarter in high school, with his grade point average always at 3.5 or higher.

JUSTIN DRESCHER, SN
 6-1, 230, Soph., 1L
 Southlake, Texas (Carroll)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Once again expected to handle the short and long snapping chores, as he took every snap at both as a true freshman. The Iron Buffalo Award winner for the specialists, as he was the choice for the honor bestowed on the player at each position who represents hard work, dedication, toughness and total poundage in the weight room.

2006 (Fr.)—He was recruited to Colorado solely as a snapper, and he was given the shot to win the position as a true freshman. He wound up playing in all 12 games, and was the only player to snap on placements (47 snaps) as well as punts (57), thus making all 104 special team snaps. He also made two tackles (one solo) on punt coverage after running downfield following the snap. Did not practice at any other position.

HIGH SCHOOL—He earned second-team All-District 5-5A honors as a senior, when he also was ranked as the No. 6 long snapper in the nation by Chris Rubio, who ranks the top 12 in the country at annual competition every January in Las Vegas. He started all 16 of his school's games at offensive (right) guard as a senior, registering 25 pancake and nine touchdown blocks, while allowing just one quarterback sack and being called for just three penalties (two holding, one false start). He helped block for the Texas player of the year, quarterback Greg McElroy, as Southlake dominated most opponents on the line of scrimmage. He started four games from scrimmage as a junior, but over the course of his 32 games on the varsity, he snapped every extra point attempt, field goal and punt with just one bad snap out of well over 100. As a senior, his top production games, a combination of individual game grades and offensive team goals achieved, came against Katy in the state title game, versus Irving MacArthur in the second round of the playoffs, and in a regular season battle of unbeaten against Colleyville Heritage. Under coach Todd Dodge, Southlake posted back-to-back 16-0 records in his two years on the varsity, claiming the Texas 5A state championship both years (in addition to being named the mythical national champions both seasons by USA Today). He also lettered once in baseball (right-handed pitcher, first base), doing so his senior year; Southlake had the longest win streak in the state's 5A ranks at 32 games that year.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in Business Management at Colorado. He owned a 3.8 grade point average in high school, and was a member of the National Honor Society. As a senior, he was named to the first-team academic all-state squad.

PERSONAL—Born January 1, 1988 in Colorado Springs, Colo. His hobbies include golf, most sports and video games. His father (Jay) grew up in Holyoke, Colo., and attended both Dodge City Community College and CU; an all-conference guard in junior college, his CU career in 1982-83 was cut short due to injuries. KEVIN EBERHART, PK

Broomfield, Colo. (Broomfield)

AT COLORADO—This Season (Sr.)—Will finally get his opportunity to shine as CU's placekicker, as he has patiently waited his chance, backing up All-American Mason Crosby the last two seasons. Also a quality backup punter, as he averaged 41.1 yards on 17 punts in the main spring scrimmages.

2006 (Jr.)—He dressed for all 12 games, but did not see any game action. He missed most of spring drills after straining a quad muscle in an early practice.

2005 (Soph.-RS)—He did not see any game action, though was listed second on the depth chart behind consensus All-American Mason Crosby. He was 100 percent for the season after he missed spring practice with a knee injury, one that required arthroscopic surgery in mid-April.

2004 (Soph.)—Redshirted; did not see any action. He nursed a couple of injuries over the course of the season and it was decided to save a year of eligibility. He batted 1.000 so-to-speak in the three main spring scrimmages, making all four PAT kicks as well as all three field goal tries, including a spring-best 52 yards by all the kickers.

2003 (Fr.)—He saw action in five games, becoming just the third placekicker in CU history to play as a true freshman (he kicked off to start the season opener; fellow frosh Mason Crosby didn't play until CU's first PAT attempt). He was CU's regular kickoff man the first half of the season, as he had 24 kickoffs, nine going for touchbacks (four through the end zone); the average starting yardline for the opponent was the 26, inflated by over three yards due to one touchdown return. He made his only PAT kick on the season (against Washington State), but missed on his lone two field goal attempts (22 and 42 yards at Florida State, both missing just wide right). He was CU's special teams player of the week for the UCLA game, as he kicked off four times, three for touchbacks (two through the end zone), with the one that was returned taken only to the 10-yard line. He graduated from high school in December '02, and chose to enroll at CU for the spring semester. He participated in spring drills, making 2-of-3 field goals (25, 31 yards) in the three main scrimmages.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned first-team All-Colorado (Denver Post, Rocky Mountain News), all-state (4A), all-region (Boulder Camera) and All-Skyline League honors. Prep Football Report and SuperPrep both named him to their All-Midland teams (the top placekicker regionally in both; PFR also called him one of the nation's top punters), while Rivals.com rated him as the No. 24 kicker in the nation. He was a second-team all-league performer at his scrimmage positions, receiver and strong safety. He was also all-state and all-league at both kicker and punter as a sophomore and junior. He finished his career as Colorado's all-time state leader in points by kicking (255) and field goals made (36), along with tying the record for the most career extra points made (147). As a senior, he made 10-of-15 field goals, including a 57-yard kick against Monarch that was the sixth longest in Colorado prep history. He also converted 28-of-29 PAT kicks, and owned a 43.6 average on 30 punts. He not only handled the placekicking and punting chores, but played receiver on offense (15 catches for 60 yards and a TD) and strong safety on defense (98 tackles, 66 solo, with 12 for losses and four sacks; he also had three passes broken up, three hurries and two forced fumbles). As a junior, he made 7-of-12 field goals (55 long) along with 61-of-67 PAT kicks. He was in on 50 tackles on defense (30 solo), with two pass deflections. One of just a handful of players in state history to make two field goals of 50-yards or longer in the same season, his top career game came against Monarch as a senior when he nailed the 57-yard three-pointer; he was in on 23 tackles (18 solo), with a forced fumble, one PBU and a second field goal from 35 yards out. A 32-yard field goal against Monarch his sophomore year gave Broomfield a two-point win and clinched the Skyline title. Broomfield was 8-3 his senior year, 13-1 his junior season (league champs, state runner-up) and 10-3 his sophomore year (league titleists) under coach Gary Davies. He also played basketball as a freshman.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in Aerospace Engineering at Colorado (bioastronautics; wants to work for NASA or Ball Aerospace as an engineer after graduation). He made the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll his first semester in college (spring 2003). A consistent member of the "A" honor roll throughout high school (3.733 grade point), he was one of 11 scholar-athletes in Colorado for 2002 as selected by the Colorado Chapter National Football Foundation/College Hall of Fame.

AT COLORADO: This Season (Jr.-RS)—Expected to be 100 percent following knee surgery last fall after it was determined he would redshirt. He participated in spring drills on a limited basis, though was doing a bit more toward the end of the session. He has shed some 30 pounds since he arrived at Colorado.

2006 (Jr.)—Redshirted; did not see any action as he had knee surgery soon after his arrival and the determination that he would redshirt. He enrolled at Colorado for summer classes and had three years to play two in eligibility.

EL CAMINO JUNIOR COLLEGE (2004, 2005/Fr., Soph.)—He played two seasons at El Camino (Torrance, Calif.), earning honorable mention All-American honors as a sophomore at offensive guard. In half (six) of his team's games, he graded out better than 86 percent by the coaches in film review. He made 40 pancake blocks on the year and allowed only one sack. As a freshman, he did not start and played sparingly. His top two games came as a sophomore: versus Riverside, he allowed zero quarterback sacks and graded out to 93 percent, as his team averaged 6.5 yards per rush in a 56-20 win. Against Santa Ana, he allowed no sacks and graded out to 92 percent, as his team surpassed both 200 yards rushing and passing in the victory. Under coach Jon Featherstone, El Camino went 11-1 his sophomore year and 8-3 his freshman season. He did not sign with a college out of high school and enrolled in junior college.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he was named first-team All-Southern Region, all-city and all-district, along with being named Dorsey's most valuable player; that followed up a junior year when he earned first-team all-city honors on offense and second-team all-city honors on defense. As a senior, he recorded 59 pancake blocks on the year without allowing any sacks (playing offensive guard). RIAR GEER, TE

6-3, 245, Soph., 1L

Grand Junction, Colo.
(Fruita-Monument)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Enters the fall atop the depth chart at tight end.

2006 (Fr.-RS)—He earned second-team Freshman All-America honors by The Sporting News and Rivals.com, with third-team mention from collegefootballnews.com; TSN selected him as a first-team Freshman All-Big 12 team member. He earned second-team All-Colorado accolades as selected by the state's chapter of the National Football Foundation, and was the recipient of the Lee Willard Award for having the most outstanding freshman season (true or redshirt) on the team. He became the first freshman, true or redshirt, to ever lead Colorado in receiving as he caught 24 passes for 261 yards and three touchdowns (all three were actually team bests). The 24 receptions were the most by a freshman tight end in school history, besting the old mark of 20 (Brody Heffner Liddiard, 1996). He was the first tight end to lead the Buffs in receiving since Daniel Graham did so in 2001, and just the 10th to do so since 1963. In playing in all 12 games, including nine starts, he caught at least one pass in 10 games, with his top game in receptions and yards coming at Georgia, when he hauled in seven for 71. His first career touchdown was a 10-yard effort that sent the Baylor game into the second overtime; he scored TDs against Texas Tech and Nebraska. He earned 15 first downs (five on third down), had 13 catches of 10 yards or more and three of 20 or longer, with his longest on the year a 28-yard scoring grab versus Tech. He also played all 47 snaps on the field goal/PAT unit on special teams. He added about 12 pounds of muscle to his frame while redshirting.

2005 (Fr.)—Redshirted; he practiced the entire fall at tight end. He developed nicely at the position, as he never played tight end in high school but had the kind of frame where the coaches felt he could become a natural.

HIGH SCHOOL—He had a unique position combination, playing quarterback and defensive line his senior year, while also serving as his team's punter. He was first-team all-state (5A) and an All-Colorado selection a tight end by the Denver Post, although he played the position sparingly. The Rocky Mountain News also named him to its first-team all-state and All-Colorado squads as a punter. BERNARD JACKSON, QB/WR

Corona, Calif. (Santiago)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—The choice by his teammates as CU's offensive captain for the 2007 season. Enters the fall listed third both at quarterback as well as the "X" receiver position, as he will likely see action at both spots as the coaches want to take full advantage of his athletic abilities; he may very well figure in the mix returning kicks, as he had a 32.0 yard average for kickoff returns in the spring game. He took the majority of his snaps in spring scrimmages at receiver, but when he lined up at quarterback, he was a deadly running the football (nine for 82, with a 37-yard touchdown run in the spring game). He was the Iron Buffalo Award winner for the quarterbacks, as he was the selection for the honor for the player at each position who represents hard work, dedication, toughness and total poundage in the weight room. He enters his senior season ranked 23rd all-time in passing yards (1,357) and 68th in rushing yards (690); he also brings in the 10th longest active streak in the NCAA with 66 passes without an interception.

2006 (Jr.)—He played in all 12 games and started the final 11 games of the year, as he was promoted into the role for the Colorado State game. He completed 108-of-219 passes for 1,298 yards, with seven touchdowns and seven interceptions, while rushing for 677 yards and another seven scores, averaging 4.4 yards per carry. When eliminating quarterback sacks, his true rushing jumped to 832 yards and 6.6 per attempt. His 677 net rushing yards were the third most ever in a single season by a CU quarterback, trailing only Darian Hagan (1,004 in 1989) and Bobby Anderson (788 in 2006); his 6.6 true average after the deduction of sacks tied for the second best figure behind Kordell Stewart (7.1 in 1993, with a matching 6.6 in 1994). He ended the season with 66 consecutive passes without an interception (just two in his last 112 throws), and while it took him 107 passes to record his first touchdown pass, he had seven in his last 113 on the year. While his quarterback rating for the year was just 103.3, it was only 85.0 until his first TD throw but 120.5 afterwards (57-of-113, 738 yards, 7 TDs, 3 INT). His completion percentage and rating were also affected by his throwing away 21 passes out of bounds to avoid being sacked. His seven rushing touchdowns covered just 76 yards, with 62 coming on one burst (against Kansas State). His top rushing game was against Kansas State (17-105, 2 TDs), his top passing effort was against Iowa State (19-13-0, 200 yards, 2 TDs, 0 INT), with his most total offense coming against the Cyclones (269). He earned CU Athlete-of-the-Week honors for his efforts in the KSU game, with 250 yards total offense and three scores (145 yards on 10-of-18 passing, 1 TD, no interceptions, in addition to his rushing listed above). He had six 100-yard passing games, and rushed for 50 or more yards on eight occasions. He was the recipient of the Hang Tough Award, presented to the player who overcame the most adversity; he had to deal with being thrust into the starting quarterback role with little experience while also being faced with family members with serious health issues.

2005 (Soph.)—He had entered the fall third on the depth chart at quarterback, but was tried at multiple positions to try and get his talent on the field. He saw his first game action at Miami, returning a kickoff for 25 yards, and the following game, he played tailback for the first time in his career at Oklahoma State in the fourth quarter, rushing three times for eight yards. The next game, he lined up at both tailback and receiver against Texas A&M, with one carry for three yards. He won the Scout Team Offense Award for the A&M game, as selected by the coaching staff for his impersonation of the Aggies' versatile quarterback Reggie McNeal. He saw spot action in the Kansas, Kansas State and Missouri games but did not see the field the remainder of the year, despite ending the year listed third at both quarterback and tailback. He posted solid numbers in the three full spring scrimmages, completing 14-of-28 passes for 161 yards and three touchdowns (no interceptions), while dazzling on-lookers with his running, as he led all ball carriers with 180 yards on 19 tries (9.5 per). He had a 78-yard touchdown run in the second scrum.

2004 (Fr.-RS)—He saw action in six games, as he was moved to wide receiver and punt returner from quarterback two weeks into the season. In his first collegiate game, he suffered a dislocated elbow when tackled trying to return a punt and missed the next three games. He did not have any receptions on the season, but did run one reverse for three yards and netted minus-1 yard on his lone punt return try. He had entered the fall listed fifth at quarterback, but with a logjam ahead of him, the coaches wanted to get him on the field to utilize his talent in some fashion. He was 9-of-22 for 84 yards in CU's three main spring scrimmages.

2003 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any action but practiced the entire year at quarterback. He was the Scout Team Offense Award winner for two games, Kansas and Missouri.

As a captain, he was his team's most valuable player and offensive player of the year for a second straight time his senior year; as a junior, he garnered all-league first-team and all-county honorable mention honors. A true dual-threat quarterback, he rushed 160 times for 1,032 yards and 14 scores, with a long run of 65 yards, while completing 82-of-162 passes (50.6 percent) for 1,314 yards and 15 touchdowns, with just six interceptions. As a junior, he rushed 70 times for 660 yards and four touchdowns, with a long of 55. He completed 50 percent of his passes (65-of-130) for 1,042 yards and 11 touchdowns, tossing just four interceptions to compliment his rushing stats. He saw limited action as a wide receiver his sophomore season. Top career games included a playoff win over San Bernardino his senior year, when he completed 4-of-10 passes for 246 yards (a gaudy 61.5 yards per pass) and three touchdowns. He also rushed eight times for 100 yards and two scores, one for 65 yards. In a 35-14 win over Placoma Valley the same year, he was 6-of-12 passing for 200 yards and two scores, and added 60 yards rushing on five attempts. Santiago was 9-3 his senior season (losing in the CIF quarterfinals), 9-3 his junior year (losing in the quarterfinals once again) and 4-6 his sophomore year under coach Steve Mitchell. He also played baseball and basketball as a freshman.

He brings the longest starting streak on the team into the season (13 games).

2006 (Jr.)—He started all 12 games at left offensive tackle, as he was just one of four players on the team to start every game. In addition, he was the only player on offense to play every snap (715), which was second on the team to Terrence Wheatley on defense (776). He missed spring drills, as he was under going rehabilitation following surgery on January 10 to relieve a chronic shoulder condition, but was 100 percent for fall camp. He had bulked up by some 15 pounds from his playing weight as a sophomore.

2005 (Soph.)—He played in all 13 games, including starts in the first two (Colorado State, New Mexico State) and the Champs Sports Bowl. He was hampered in the middle of the year a bit due to an ankle sprain. In the regular season, he played 311 snaps from scrimmage, along with another 56 on the field goal/PAT unit on special teams, grading out as the third best lineman on the team with a 2.57 average on a 0-4 point per play system. He did not allow a quarterback sack, allowed a team low three pressures, and was called for just two penalties in racking up 12 knockdown blocks and six "Perfect 4" plays. His best game grade was 2.77 versus Missouri. He had a solid spring, despite battling a chronic shoulder injury on which he had surgery to repair following spring practice.

2004 (Fr.-RS)—He saw action in three games on offense and in 10 overall counting his participation on the field goal/PAT unit on special teams. He had 21 plays from scrimmage on offense, earning a season grade of 86.7 percent as he racked up 18 plus plays. He had one knockdown block with a high game grade of 88.9 against North Texas. He played 29 additional snaps on special teams.

2003 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced all season on the offensive line, mainly at tackle. He weighed 245 on signing day, but had bulked up to 270 by fall camp.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned SuperPrep All-American and all-Midlands honors, while Prep Football Report and PrepStar named him to their first-team all-Midlands squads. PrepStar also named him to its pre-season all-Midlands team. SuperPrep tabbed him the No. 42 offensive lineman in the country (the No. 30 overall player in the Midlands), with Prep Football Report selecting him as the No. 16 player in the Midlands (the fifth offensive lineman). Rivals.com selected him as the No. 58 tackle in the nation (and the No. 6 player in Colorado.) He was named first-team All-Colorado and all-state (5A) by the Denver Post, as he also garnered all-state second team honors from the Rocky Mountain News. He also received first-team all-Centennial League honors on his way to being voted his team's most inspirational player. As a junior, he earned second-team all-state honors (Rocky Mountain News) and first-team all-league accolades. As a senior, he blocked for a 1,200-yard rusher, as he allowed no sacks, just four pressures and racked up 78 domination blocks and 12 touchdown blocks. As a junior, he plowed the way for a pair of 1,000-yard rushers, as he recorded 75 domination blocks, 14 touchdown blocks, and allowed only one sack. He had 55 domination and eight touchdown blocks as a sophomore, allowing just three sacks. Top career games included a 21-14 win over Mullen his junior year, when he allowed zero sacks, had seven domination blocks and threw a key block on the game winning touchdown run. In a win against Bear Creek his senior season, he once again allowed no sacks or quarterback pressures, as he recorded a career-high 15 domination blocks and two touchdown blocks. Cherry Creek was 6-4 his senior year, 9-3 his junior season (losing to Mullen in the state semifinals) and 5-5 as a sophomore under coach Rocky Martin. He lettered in basketball twice as a center, and also played baseball.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in Business Management at Colorado. He was named first-team academic All-Big 12 as both a sophomore and junior. An honor roll student in high school, he owned a 3.1 GPA as a prep and scored a 1210 on the SAT.

PERSONAL—He was born April 10, 1985 in Denver. His hobbies include playing basketball, golf, video games, the outdoors and tinkering with computers. He is also an avid-churchgoer and a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Two members of his family played sports at CU: Father (Tad) lettered in football, basketball and golf (1965-66), and an uncle (Gary Polumbus) lettered three years in golf and twice made it to the NCAA Championships. His father had 14 career receptions at CU... out of 15 passes thrown to him. A sister (Heather) played tennis for the University of San Diego, and a grandfather (Jim Richey) was on the track team at Kansas.

the football, as he had six fumbles in his 35 touches. He was selected a preseason honorable mention All-American by Nationalchamps.net, with CBS SportsLine.com naming him to its first-team All-Big 12 squad (he was a second-team choice by Athlon and The Sporting News, the latter ranking him as the No. 9 return specialist in the nation).

2005 (Soph.)—He played in all 13 games including the Champs Sports Bowl, in every one on special teams and in seven on offense, as he moved from cornerback back to wide receiver in practice prior to the Miami game in a move designed to get a little more speed at the position. He earned second-team all-Big 12 honors from the league coaches at kick returner, as they had more appreciation for what he did in the return game than the casual observer. While his punt return average was 9.9 yards for 25 returns, and he did return one 81 yards against Kansas for a touchdown, the Buffs called the unit the "punt block" team and seldom set up for a return, leaving him to often fend for himself along with those times when he would snare a ball in traffic rather than letting it hit and bounce, salvaging better field position. He also returned 18 kickoffs for an 18.2 average, ran three reverses for 35 yards and caught six passes for 61 yards (the bulk of those came against Missouri, when he caught five for 50 yards). In the bowl game versus Clemson, he returned two punts for 20 yards and three kickoffs for 44 yards, including a 25-yard effort that was CU's second longest play of the game (all phases). He was CU's special teams player of the week on two occasions, versus New Mexico State and Kansas, also being selected as CU's athlete of the week for all sports for the latter, when he had 124 total yards on just three returns. He also earned honorable mention All-Colorado team honors at kick returner from the state's chapter of the National Football Foundation.

2004 (Fr.-RS)—He earned second-team all-Big 12 honors at kick return specialist from the league coaches, as he was eighth in the conference in punt returns and 10th in kickoff returns. He played in all 13 games on special teams and in two on defense (seven snaps, recording a solo tackle and a pass deflection). He returned 35 punts for 269 yards for a 7.7 average and a touchdown; however, the average was misleading as he often caught balls in traffic without signaling for a fair catch just so he could pickup even a single yard to help with field position (14 of his returns were in this fashion for a net 13 yards; he averaged 12.2 yards on the other 21 returns). The 35 returns were the third most punt returns for a single-season in school history and the most since 1992. He also had 15 kickoff returns for 269 yards (a 17.9 average) with a long of 27. He tied for sixth in special team points with eight on the strength of three solo tackles, two fumble recoveries, a forced fumble, a touchdown save and a first downfield credit. He was the Big 12 Special Teams Player of the Week (as well as CU's) for the Kansas game, when he had 98 return yards, including his first career punt return for a touchdown; his 48-yard sprint for a score put CU ahead for good late in the third quarter in the 30-21 win. He had two returns (for 2 yards) in the bowl win over UTEP. He moved from wide receiver to cornerback during fall camp to bolster the depth in the secondary. He missed most of spring practice after suffering a hamstring pull the third day of drills.

2003 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced all season at wide receiver and returned kicks on scout team duty. He was the Scout Team Offense Award winner for the Kansas State game.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned all-Midlands honors from PrepStar, Prep Football Report and SuperPrep, as PFR ranked him as the No. 18 player in the region (the second receiver), and SuperPrep tabbing him No. 36 regionally (and as the third WR). Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 27 receiver in the nation, and called him "arguably the top prospect in Colorado." He also garnered all-Colorado (all classes) and all-state (5A) honors from both the Denver Post and Rocky Mountain News. A two-time first-team all-Centennial League pick, he was also first team all-Colorado and all-state as a junior. A four-year starter at wide receiver, as a senior, he caught 35 passes for 896 yards and eight scores, averaging 25.6 yards per catch, and including his kick return yardage, he accounted for over 1,600 all-purpose yards despite missing the better part of four games with a sprained ankle. As a junior, he led the state in receiving with 73 catches for 1,230 yards and 10 touchdowns, while returning four kicks (two punts, two kickoffs) for touchdowns. He averaged over 18 yards per punt return and 30-plus yards on kickoff returns. He caught 20 passes his sophomore year, six for scores, and he had 19 receptions as a freshman. He saw some brief time on defense as a junior (safety/cornerback), making around 25 tackles in four games. Mullen posted a 40-11 record during his time there; the Mustangs were 10-2 his senior year and 9-4 his junior season under coach Jay Madden, and were 11-2 his sophomore year (reaching the state semis) and 10-3 his fresh-

On offense, he caught two passes for one yard, and ran three reverses for a net minus-13 yards. He uncharacteristically had trouble hanging on to

DANIEL SANDERS, OL
 6-3, 305, Jr., 2L
 Vista, Calif. (El Camino)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Jr.)—He could very well wind up at either guard or center, as he saw action at both during the spring. He is one of 46 players on the official preseason watch list for the Dave Rimington Award, which honors the nation's top center.

2006 (Soph.)—He started 11 games, missing the season opener with Montana State due to a hamstring injury. He played all but six snaps the remainder of the year after the opener, as he was in for 655 on the season, the third most on the team. He allowed the fewest sacks (1) and pressures (3) of all the offensive linemen. He added another 37 snaps on CU's field goal/PAT unit. He bulked up some 20 pounds over his playing weight of 285-290 as a redshirt frosh.

2005 (Fr.-RS)—He played in 10 games, including four starts, missing two games with a partially torn hamstring in the middle of the year (Texas, Kansas). He also missed the Champs Sports Bowl against Clemson due to a severe knee sprain he suffered December 16 in bowl practices; the same injury hampered him a bit late in the year but he played through it. The Sporting News selected him to its Freshman All-Big 12 team. He played in nine games on offense, seeing action for 420 snaps, along with another 46 snaps on the field goal/PAT unit on special teams. He graded out to 2.49 for the season on a 0-4 point per play scale, with a high game grade of 2.74 versus Missouri. In getting his feet wet so-to-speak collegiately, he had two knockdown blocks, two touchdown blocks (tying for the team lead), he allowed five pressures and three sacks and was called for one penalty.

2004 (Fr.)—Redshirted; he did not see any action but practiced as an offensive lineman the entire fall. He was the Scout Team Offense Award winner for the Texas A&M game as selected by the coaching staff.

HIGH SCHOOL—A three-year letterman, he played all three positions on the offensive line during his prep career. He played both guard and center as a senior, when he led his team with 112 pancake blocks, as well as in cut blocks and big hits by an offensive lineman. He did not allow a quarterback sack, and the only penalty he was called for was an illegal procedure for rolling the ball over to grab the laces to snap it. As a junior, he played tackle in starting the five games he played in, but he missed seven others with a broken bone in his foot. He played guard as a sophomore, ascending into the starting lineup for the last three games of the year. Top games his senior year came in a 31-24 win over Valley Center, when he had 15 pancakes and three touchdown blocks in helping his team rush for 430 yards, and in a 29-28 loss to Carlsbad, when he switched off between center and guard the entire game in piling up 14 pancakes. El Camino was 3-7 his senior year, 6-6 his junior season and 7-4 his sophomore campaign under coach Herb Meyer. He lettered four times in track, participating in throws (career best of 50-1 in the shot put and 130-0 in the discus). He was seventh in the CIF meet in the shot put as a junior.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in Ethnic Studies at Colorado. A two-time member of the San Diego Union-Tribune All-Academic team as a junior and senior as well as a consistent member of the honor roll in high school with a 3.21 grade point average.

PERSONAL—He was born February 3, 1986 in Oceanside, Calif. Hobbies include playing basketball, working out and going to the beach. A cousin (Kurt Rubin) played football at Cal-Poly San Luis Obispo.

JOE SANDERS, TE
 6-3, 235, Sr., 2L
 Nashville, Tenn. (Hillsboro)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—He returned to tight end, the position he was originally recruited to CU, and had an instant impact at the position and enters the fall listed second on the depth chart. He was the Iron Buffalo Award winner for the tight ends, as he was the selection for the honor for the player at each position who represents hard work, dedication, toughness and total poundage in the weight room.

2006 (Jr.)—He saw action in all 12 games on special teams and in three on defense. He was in for 36 snaps from scrimmage, and posted four tackles (one solo), while he racked up five stops on special teams (three solo, two assists for five special team points). During the spring, he returned to outside linebacker, where he had finished up his redshirt freshman season.

2005 (Soph.)—He saw action in 10 games (the first 10 of the season), mainly on special teams, though he did see scrimmage action for 26 plays at inside linebacker. He was in on one solo tackle, with a third down stop and a pass deflection, the latter of which caused an interception in the Kansas game. On special teams duty, he had two unassisted tackles and a knockdown block for a total of three special team points. He had a good spring, with eight tackles (three for losses) and a fumble recovery in the three full scrimmages. He ran the fifth fastest 40-yard dash time on the team (4.52) in spring conditioning tests.

2004 (Fr.-RS)—He played in all 13 games including the Houston Bowl (no starts), seven on defense and in all on special teams. In 74 snaps from scrimmage, he had nine tackles (five solo, one for a loss) and an interception, one of the biggest plays of the year for the Buffs. Subbing for a nicked up Brian Iwuh, he played 36 snaps at Washington State, where with 10 minutes left and CU ahead 10-6, he made his first career interception and returned it 51 yards for a touchdown, what proved to be the winning points in CU's 20-12 victory. He was one of five finalists on Sept. 11 for the ESPN/Pontiac Game Changing Play of the Week for his interception and ensuing TD return. He also had three tackles in that game, and matched that total the following week against North Texas. He didn't post any stats in the bowl game, seeing mostly special teams duty in the win over UTEP. He switched to the outside from the inside during fall camp, after entering August drills as a mike 'backer. He moved from tight end to inside linebacker about midway into spring drills, and impressed the coaches enough to where the switch was made permanent. In two scrimmages on defense, he had six tackles (three solo), a fumble recovery and an interception, the latter coming in the spring game.

2003 (Fr.)—He was projected as a tight end in his true freshman year in college, but shoulder surgery prevented him from taking the practice field the entire fall. He was injured in the practices leading up to the Tennessee-Kentucky All-Star game, and underwent shoulder surgery in July.

HIGH SCHOOL—A standout at both tight end and linebacker, lettering four times during his career. As a senior, he earned PrepStar All-Southeast honors at tight end and was tabbed the No. 5 player in Tennessee, while Rivals.com ranked him the No. 34 tight end in the country. His junior year, he was also all-state, all-Midstate, all-region and all-city fist-teams at both positions, and he garnered all-region and all-city honorable mention honors during his sophomore year. On defense, he added nine tackles (one for loss), two sacks and one forced fumble. That same year, in a 19-13 win over Smyrna, he had two catches for 60 yards. On defense, he added nine tackles (two for losses), one sack, one pass deflection and a game-clinching interception that was tipped by teammate Chris Russell on a desperation pass to the endzone. His senior season, in a win over Overton, he had three receptions for 85 yards and one score, in addition to 14 tackles (three for losses), one sack and one pass break up. Under coach Ron Aydelott, Hillsboro compiled an impressive 50-6 record during his career, as it won its region all four years. Hillsboro was 14-1 his senior year (falling short in the state championship game a second straight year to Maryville, 29-26), 14-1 his junior season (Maryville won it, 34-27), 13-1 his sophomore year (losing in the state semifinals to Memphis East) and 9-3 his freshman season. He lettered three times in basketball, as he earned first-team all-region (11-5A) honors at power forward his junior year, averaging 13 points, eight rebounds and three assists a game. He also lettered once in track (sprints and hurdles).

MARKQUES SIMAS, WR

6-2, 195, Fr., HS

San Diego, Calif. (Mira Mesa)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—He is projected at wide receiver as a true freshman in college.

HIGH SCHOOL—A SuperPrep All-American and All-Far West performer as a senior, as the publication ranked him as the No. 24 overall player in the region (the third best receiver); he was also an SP preseason AA pick, ranked as the ninth best receiver in the nation ahead of his senior year. He was also rated among the top 20 receivers in the nation by Rivals.com and Scout.com. A three-year letterman in football, he was named both first-team All-Section CIF and All-Eastern League on offense

(he was a second-team All-League choice on defense at cornerback). At wide receiver, he caught 40 passes for 778 yards and 19 touchdowns as a senior, while collecting three interceptions on defense. Playing only offense as a junior, he was named first-team All-Eastern League, second-team All-Section CIF and was tabbed an All-State Underclassman. DUSTY SPRAGUE, WR

Holyoke, Colo. (Holyoke)

He was the recipient of the inaugural Greg Biekert Award following spring practices, as the coaches bestowed the honor to the player with the most attention to detail. He was a preseason fourth-team All-Big 12 selection by Phil Steele's College Football. He is 19th all-time in receptions (76) and is 22nd in receiving yards (925) at Colorado.

2006 (Jr.)—He played in all 12 games, with two starts, but didn't enjoy the same kind of production he did his first two seasons. He still caught 11 passes for 179 yards, averaging a team-best 16.3 yards per reception. He had seven grabs of 10 yards or longer, with two of 20 or better, with a season and career-long of 63 (at Missouri; it was CU's longest play from scrimmage for the season). He had three catches for 33 yards at Georgia, two for 85 in the Missouri game, and two for 20 against Texas Tech. On the season, he caught 22 passes for 278 yards (12.6 per) and a touchdown; the 278 yards were the fourth most ever by a CU freshman. In the overtime loss at Texas A&M, he accomplished something of note: he caught eight passes for 101 yards, becoming only the second freshman (true or redshirt) to have a 100-yard receiving game in Colorado history (the only other was by Phil Savoy in 1994, when he caught six passes for 113 yards against Oklahoma State). He was one of four players on the team to start all 12 games, playing the most snaps from scrimmage, offense or defense, by any player with 776. He tied for fifth on the team in tackles with 57 (46 solo) and led the team in interceptions (5), passes broken up (11) and touchdown saves (4) while being second in third down stops (11). He also had four tackles for loss (including one-and-a-half quarterback sacks), two hurries, two fumble recoveries, a forced fumble, a chasedown (near sack) and caused an interception. His top tackle game was against Texas Tech, when he had a career-high nine, including five solo and both of his sacks; he had six tackles on three other occasions, versus Georgia, Baylor and Nebraska (all solo stops in the latter). He had five solo tackles, three passes broken up and an interception at Missouri (with a second interception nullified by replay though the ruling was questionable, claiming he didn't have control of the ball which appeared otherwise), and he had a two-pick game against Baylor. His other thefts came against Arizona State and Kansas. On special teams duty, he earned five points on the strength of three tackles (one inside-the-20) and a forced fair catch. He was back at 100 percent, as he overcame three different wrist surgeries; some thought his career could be over but he worked hard in rehabilitation and emerged as one of the top defensive backs in the conference. He participated at full speed in spring drills, with two interceptions (one for a 47-yard touchdown) in full scrimmage action.

2005 (Jr.-RS)—He missed all of spring drills following wrist surgery in February, but his chronic problems continued and underwent additional surgery in August, forcing him to miss the entire season. He had a red-shirt year available so he did not lose a year of eligibility. He had garnered some preseason All-Big 12 honors at both cornerback (third-team from Phil Steele's College Football) as well as kickoff return specialist (second-team from Huskers Illustrated and third-team from Athlon).

He played 535 snaps from scrimmage in posting 33 tackles (27 solo), with five third down stops and three passes broken up. He was second on the team in interceptions with four, making all over the last five games of the regular season (he ranked seventh in the Big 12 and 51st in the NCAA in picks). The first of his career he made memorable, as he returned it 37 yards for a touchdown against Texas, becoming the 12th Buffalo since 1992 to return his first pick for a score. He also had four tackles in that game (all solo), one of six occasions he had four or more in a game. He had six (each unassisted) in the win over Kansas State, and also had six (five solo) with a pick in the victory at Kansas. The coaching staff twice honored him as CU's defensive back of the week (for the Texas and Kansas games). On special teams, he was a dangerous return man, as he averaged 22.0 yards for 19 kickoff returns, including a 59-yard effort against Washington State and 43-yarder in the bowl against UTEP; he was fourth in the Big 12 and 53rd in the NCAA. He also earned six special team points on the strength of three tackles (one inside-the-20), a downed punt and a knockdown block. In the bowl win, he had four tackles, four pass deflections (a CU bowl record) and a third down stop. He played 268 snaps at cornerback, registering 24 tackles (19 solo), five pass deflections and two touchdown saves. His first start against Baylor was historical as with the other starting cornerback being redshirt frosh Sammy Joseph, it marked the first time in CU history that a pair of freshmen started at the position in the same game (not to mention two starting at least one game in the same season). He posted his season high with eight tackles (six solo) against the Bears, and he also had five tackles (all solo) with two pass deflections at Kansas State. He tied for fourth in special team points with seven, on the strength of five tackles, one inside-the-20, and a downed punt.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, Rivals.com tabbed him the No. 56 cornerback in the nation, as he earned all-state honorable mention honors, all-district (9-5A) first-team honors and was named to the Dallas Morning News all-area first-team as a cornerback and receiver. He was also named the Plano Star Collin County MVP, and during his junior year, he received all-district second team honors at receiver and first-team accolades at kick returner. As a senior, he was in on 82 tackles (three for loss), along with making five interceptions, nine pass deflections, one forced fumble and one fumble recovery. 2006 IN REVIEW

MONTANA STATE 19 COLORADO 10

Game One; September 2, 2006

BOULDER — Jeff Hastings connected on four field goals, the last a 41-yard effort with just 2:58 remaining to basically end any Colorado rally, as Montana State defeated the Buffaloes 19-10 in the first game for new CU head coach Dan Hawkins.

Montana State, ranked No. 22 in the I-AA national poll, hung around in the first half by playing solid defense and then outscored CU 13-0 after halftime to leave town with the win, its first over a Division I team since 1984. It was Colorado's first-ever game against a non-Division I team since the divisional setup was created in 1978.

Mason Crosby's 24-yard field goal opened the scoring, as not only did he give CU a 3-0 lead, he became Colorado's all-time leading kick scorer in the process. Hastings came back with 35- and 44-yard efforts to give MSU a 6-3 edge a minute into the second quarter. At that point, it seemed to light a fire under the Buffaloes, who answered with a 12-play, 74-yard drive capped by a 1-yard touchdown plunge by quarterback James Cox. CU would take that 10-6 lead into the lockerroom.

It stood to reason that CU would pull away in the second half, but no one told Montana State, as the Bobcats did not allow another first down until 11 minutes remained in the game. In the meantime, Cory Carpenter led MSU on a 7-play, 58-yard drive that ended with a 10-yard touchdown pass to Michael Jefferson, and the Bobcats were ahead to stay at 13-10.

While CU struggled offensively, the defense hung in there with at two goal line stands, stopping MSU on a 4th-and-goal from the 1 the first time and the second time holding the Bobcats to a 19-yard Hastings field goal. That 3-pointer made the score 16-10 with 5:12 to go; on the ensuing kick-off, Stephone Robinson fumbled at the Buff 26 and MSU recovered, setting the stage for Hastings' fourth kick that sealed the upset.

CU managed just 12 first downs and 216 yards on offense, its fewest in a season opener since 1979. Montana State, which ran 70 plays, or 16 more than the Buffs, amassed 288, though just 50 came on the ground on 35 tries.

NOTES—The loss ended a run of 20 season openers CU had won when scoring first... Crosby also tied Jeremy Aldrich for the most field goals made in a CU career with 48; he had broke the tie with Aldrich to assume all-time kick scorer status... MSU held CU to just 48 yards on 22 plays once the Buffs crossed the 50... Cox hit Patrick Williams with a 42-yard pass on CU's first offensive play of the game, the longest first play of the year in school history... MSU's 288 yards on offense marked the 11th time in 20 years the opponent failed to reach 300 in the season opener against Colorado.

COLORADO STATE 14 COLORADO 10

Game Two; September 9, 2006

DENVER — Caleb Hanie ran for one touchdown and passed for another, and it was enough for Colorado State as defense ruled the day in the Rams 14-10 victory over Colorado in the Qwest Rocky Mountain Showdown presented by Dr Pepper.

CU saw its three-game winning streak in the series snapped, though early on it appeared that CSU might be in for a long afternoon after the Buffaloes marched 65 yards with the opening kickoff and took a 7-0 lead just five minutes into the game.

Bernard Jackson, making his first start at quarterback, picked up two first downs on the drive with runs of 10 and 14 yards, and scored the touchdown himself on a 3-yard third down run. Tailback Byron Ellis got Buffs started, as he carried the first two plays for 20 yards to drive the Buffs into CSU territory.

The Rams tied the score two possessions later, as Hanie matched Jackson with a 3-yard scoring run, that effort capping a 71-yard drive. Early in the second quarter, the Buffs converted the only turnover of the game into a Mason Crosby field goal, as his boot from 40 yards out also have CU its last lead of the day at 10-7.

No one knew at the time, but when Hanie hit Kory Sperry with a 5-yard pass in the back of the end zone with 3:48 on the clock, the day's scoring would come to an end. But the Rams made the lead stand in winning for just the 19th time in the 78-game series.

Hanie played the largest role in the win, as he completed his first 14 passes and finished 20-of-23 for 233 yards, with Johnny Walker hauling in 10 of those balls for 158 yards.

CU had its struggles on offense for the second straight game, especially in the second half, when the Buffs earned just two first downs and had 28 yards on offense. Though one score away from tying or taking the lead, Colorado did not cross its 41-yard line on any of its final three possessions and had just 146 yards for the game. CSU couldn't do a thing running the football, as the Rams had just 15 net rushing yards and had only 248 overall as well.

NOTES—Matt DiLallo's 73-yard punt to open the second quarter was the longest in school history by a freshman... Crosby became CU's all-time leader in field goals made with 49, but a 61-yard effort he drilled in the third quarter was wiped off the board when the officials allowed CSU a timeout at the very last second before the kick... DE Abraham Wright had the first three-sack game by a Buff in exactly two years... The last five games in the CU-CSU series have been decided by a combined 22 points; that is the second closest quintet of games with any school in Colorado history, topped only by the five Nebraska games between 1996 and 2000 being decided by 15 total points.

ARIZONA STATE 21 COLORADO 3

Game Three; September 16, 2006

BOULDER — Hugh Charles rushed for 109 yards but was the only real offensive highlight for Colorado as the Buffaloes slowly succumbed to No. 22 Arizona State, 21-3.

ASU quarterback Rudy Carpenter threw for 248 yards and two touchdowns as the Sun Devils overcame two early fumbles and a 3-0 deficit to win the first game ever played between the schools from neighboring states.

Mason Crosby scored the only points on the night for the Buffs after Arizona State turned the ball over on the third play of the game. George Hypolite recovered a Shaun DeWitty fumble at the Arizona State 17, and Crosby nailed a 29-yarder after CU moved the ball just five yards. It was one of four Arizona State turnovers in the game, and the only one Colorado would convert into points.

The Sun Devils bounced back and drove to the Buff 2, but lost possession when Carpenter fumbled the ball on the run and it hit the pylon on its way out of bounds. On their next drive though, the Sun Devils did get the ball into the end zone as Ryan Torain capped a 10-play, 71-yard drive that put ASU ahead for good at 7-3. Carpenter then hooked up with Chis McGaha on an 18-yard TD pass to extend the lead to 14-3 when ASU got the ball back after a CU punt, the score set up by a 48-yard return by Terry Richardson.

The schools then stopped each other on the next 15 possessions combined, including the very next drive when CU marched to the ASU 2 where quarterback Bernard Jackson fumbled as he made his way to the goal line with the Sun Devils' Josh Barrett recovering the ball. Carpenter threw his second TD pass, this one to Zach Miller, to close the scoring with 1:33 left after ASU recovered a fumbled punt return try by Cha'pelle Brown at the Buff 20.

CU could not get untracked for a third straight time on offense, and failed to score in the second half for the third game in a row. The Buff defense held its own, limiting the potent ASU passing attack to just 10 plays of 10 or more yards (and just three of 20 or longer). The Sun Devils had 294 yards at halftime but mustered just 136 after intermission.

NOTES—The game was reunion between head coaches Dan Hawkins (CU) and Dirk Koetter (ASU); Koetter hired Hawkins at Boise State in 1998 and Hawkins replaced him as head coach when he moved on to Arizona State after the 2000 season... TBS televised the game to a national audience... After ASU took a 14-3 lead, it would run just 16 plays in plus territory for a net 39 yards, most of that coming on the last cosmetic touchdown drive... The loss ended a six-game home winning streak in night games for the Buffaloes and marked just the 11th time in 117 seasons a CU team had opened a season 0-3.

GEORGIA 14 COLORADO 13

Game Four; September 23, 2006

ATHENS, Ga. — Backup quarterback Joe Cox connected with tight end Martrez Milner on a 20-yard touchdown with just 46 seconds remaining to rally No. 9 Georgia to a 14-13 win over the upset-minded Colorado Buffaloes.

CU, in search of its first win for new head coach Dan Hawkins led the contest for exactly 48 minutes, building a 13-0 lead in silencing the 92,746 in attendance at UGA's Sanford Stadium for most of the afternoon. But once Cox entered the game, the Bulldogs came alive and were finally able to move the ball against a stout Colorado defense.

He took over late in the third quarter and directed UGA deep into CU territory, where the Buffs responded with the first of two fourth down stops inside the red zone. But on the next series, Cox threw a 23-yard touchdown pass to Brannan Southerland to get the Bulldogs on the board with 9:11 remaining.

The Buffs had a chance to put the game away on the next series, and seemed to be in business after Bernard Jackson completed a 14-yard pass on third down to Alvin Barnett to the CU 44. But on the next play, tailback Hugh Charles ran hard for nine yards but lost the ball, with Jeff Owns recovering for UGA near midfield.

UGA earned a first down at the CU 18 after just two plays, but the Colorado defense again rose to the challenge. Ryan Walters threw Kregg Lumpkin for a 3-yard loss on 3rd-and-one at the CU 9, followed by Abraham Wright knocking down Cox's pass on fourth down. But UGA forced CU into punting with 2:29 left, setting up the winning scoring drive.

CU had methodically built its lead, getting on the board with 3:14 left in the first quarter on a 26-yard Mason Crosby field goal. Then early in the second quarter, the Buffs put together its most explosive offensive drive of the season, marching 63 yards in just four plays. Jackson hit Dusty Sprague for 16 yards and followed it up with a 28-yard run to the UGA 19. He then completed an 18-yard pass to Hugh Charles who took it down to the 1, where Jackson took it over for a 10-0 lead.

Crosby added a 36-yard field goal early in the third quarter after George Hypolite sacked Georgia starting QB Matthew Stafford, forcing and recovering a fumble at the UGA 19.

Colorado posted season offensive bests in every major category, yards (313), rushing yards (173), passing yards (140), first downs (17) and time of possession (34:09). Defensively, the Buffs limited Georgia to only 54 yards on the ground, but the Bulldogs passed for 230, most in the fourth quarter when making their comeback.

NOTES—CU's live buffalo mascot, Ralphie IV, made the trip and performed before the third largest crowd to ever see a Colorado football team play (and the biggest to ever watch Ralphie)... Colorado gained 159 yards in the first quarter (to UGA's 22); Georgia had 156 in the fourth (to CU' 41)... Crosby had a 26-yard field goal blocked after CU marched 68 yards to the UGA 9 on the first possession of the game.

MISSOURI 28 COLORADO 13

Game Five; September 30, 2006

COLUMBIA, Mo. — Chase Daniel threw four touchdown passes as he led Missouri to its first 5-0 start in 25 years as the Tigers kept the Colorado Buffaloes winless on the season with a 28-13 victory.

It was another case of coulda-shoulda-woulda for CU, as the Buffs turned in their finest offensive performance of the year, but struggles in the red zone put a damper on their point production. Colorado had just one touchdown on five trips inside the Missouri 20, and scored a total of six points on two field goals the other four times.

Missouri came into the game with the nation's No. 1 ranked defense, but CU shredded the Tigers for 154 yards in the first quarter alone. However, Mizzou rolled up 148 yards of its own in the first stanza as Daniel threw a pair of short touchdown passes to Chase Coffman that sandwiched a 32-yard Mason Crosby field goal for a 14-3 MU lead. Crosby added a 36-yard kick midway through the second quarter to pull CU to within 14-6. But two easy scoring chances deep in Mizzou territory came up empty, as one pass sailed high and another bounced off a facemask.

Late in the first half, CU punter Matt DiLallo couldn't handle a high snap and he was tackled at his own 14, where six plays later Daniel threw his third TD pass, this one to Martin Rucker just 11 seconds before intermission. Down 21-6, many in attendance had CU pegged for dead, but the Buffs went deep on the first play of the second half, as Bernard Jackson connected with Dusty Sprague on a 63-yard pass play to the Tiger 2. A facemask penalty cut that distance in half and Jackson scored himself from a yard out to cut the deficit to 21-13 just 47 seconds into the third quarter.

CU seemingly had thwarted an MU drive about eight minutes later, but the officials both on the field and in the replay booth ruled against an interception by Terrence Wheatley. Mizzou then mounted an 8-play, 52-yard drive capped by Daniel's last TD pass, a 9-yard toss to Jared Perry to close the day's scoring.

Colorado rushed for 183 yards on a Tiger defense that had allowed less than 43 the first four games of the year, and limited a potent MU rushing attack to just 100 yards on 40 tries. But Missouri came up with the big play when needed, usually on third down, as the Tigers converted 11-of-18 times to break the Buffs spirit.

NOTES—Crosby's second quarter field goal propelled him past Eric Bieniemy as he became CU's all-time leading scorer; he ended the game with 256 points, Bieniemy had 254 between 1987-90... Jackson had a career-high 283 yards of total offense, including bests of 190 through the air and 93 on the ground... CU had eight plays of 20 yards or longer after having just five in the first four games combined... The loss was Colorado's ninth in a row, and its 12th straight setback to a ranked team; it was just the third time in school history the Buffs opened a season with an 0-5 mark.

BAYLOR 34 COLORADO 31 (3 OT)

Game Six; October 7, 2006

BOULDER — Joe Pawelek's interception in the end zone in the third overtime ended Colorado's hopes for a rally, as well as for its first win of the season, as Baylor defeated the Buffaloes, 34-31. It was the 10th straight loss for CU dating back to the 2005 season, tying the school record for consecutive defeats.

CU had tied the game at 17-17 with 4:13 remaining in regulation on a 9-yard touchdown run by Byron Ellis, as the 12-play, 80-yard drive swung momentum back to the Buffaloes, who stopped the Bears cold on their next series. But Baylor did the same to the Buffs, as CU couldn't move the ball out beyond its 30 in the final two minutes in hopes of setting up a game winning field goal, thus the stage was set for overtime.

Colorado won the overtime toss and elected to play defense, and the Bears struck first, taking six plays to move 25 yards with Paul Mosley scoring his second touchdown of the day in putting BU ahead, 24-17. CU had forced the Bears into a first-and-goal from the 19-yard line, but a pass interference call gave them a first down at the 11. Colorado answered in four plays, as Bernard Jackson threw his first touchdown pass of the year (and his career), finding Riar Geer in the center of the end zone on the 10-yard play.

In the second extra session, lightning struck for the Buffaloes as Hugh Charles ripped through a big hole on the left side and ran 25 yards for a 31-24 CU lead right in front of the student section. Baylor earned a first down at the CU 13, and after a Mosley run set up a 2nd-and-7, Shawn Bell threw two straight incompletions leading to fourth down. Bell seemingly had forever to find a receiver, and eventually found Trent Shelton by himself for the touchdown to tie the game for the fourth time.

The Bears came back in the third OT and converted a 3rd-and-14 to get the 8-yard line, but the Buff defense stiffened, forcing a 22-yard field goal by Ryan Havens. On CU's first play, Charles was stopped at the line of scrimmage and then Jackson picked up four. Jackson then dropped back and tried to get the ball in the end zone to Tyson DeVree, but Pawelek read the play and picked off the ball, preserving the win for Baylor, just its second in 41 tries on the road in Big 12 play.

NOTES—Colorado rushed for 276 yards in the game, but gained just 75 through the air; it was the most on the ground by the Buffs since picking up 331 against Iowa State in 2002... CU's 31 points were the most since its last victory, a 41-12 triumph over Missouri in the eighth game of the 2005 season.

COLORADO 30 TEXAS TECH 6

Game Seven, October 14, 2006

BOULDER — Bernard Jackson threw for two touchdowns and ran for a third with All-American Mason Crosby adding three field goals including a couple of long-range bombs as Colorado ended a 10-game losing streak with a dominant 30-6 victory over Texas Tech.

The Buffaloes had a decisive edge in all three phases of the game — offense, defense and special teams — but excelled particularly on defense in shutting down the Red Raiders explosive passing attack. CU limited Tech to 245 yards through the air, 105 below its season average, and a 104.2 rating, over 40 points shy of its number coming in. The Buffaloes pitched a shutout until 9:04 remained in the game, when the Red Raiders got on the board largely due to a 54-yard pass play where CU missed two tackles. Colorado also did not commit a penalty for the fourth time in its history, the first time since Sept. 21, 1985.

CU scored on its first possession for the sixth time in seven games, but this time never looked back. Jackson piloted a five-play, 65-yard drive, capped with a 28-yard TD pass to tight end Riar Geer. The lead grew to 14-0 on the first possession of the second quarter, as Jackson hit a streaking Jarrell Yates in the corner of the end zone from 29 yards out; Jackson had a 35-yard run earlier in the drive. Crosby then added field goals of 56 and 26 yards, the former the second longest in the nation in 2006 and the latter with just five seconds left before the half to bump the lead up to 20-0.

Crosby connected from 53 yards in the third quarter, set up by a Hugh Charles 35 yard run, and then Jackson closed the scoring on a 1-yard run following a failed Tech onside kick attempt after its score.

Charles finished with 119 yards on the ground, as the Buffs topped 200 yards rushing in consecutive games for the first time since late 2002, with Jackson accounting for 205 yards total offense. Defensively, many players shined for the Buffaloes. Ryan Walters made the first two interceptions of his career, linebacker Jordon Dizon recorded a career-high 16 tackles (11 solo), with end Abraham Wright making a key fourth down sack in the first half when Tech was bidding to slice CU's two-TD lead in half.

Tech had just 276 yards overall, and only 31 rushing on 15 attempts. CU allowed TTU just five plays in plus territory all game, including two for losses one being Wright's sack, and an interception.

NOTES—Colorado ran 40 of its 65 plays in plus territory (for 201 yards)... Halftime ceremonies included introducing CU's sixth class inducted into its Athletic Hall of Fame, and a special tribute for Bobby Anderson, who will be CU's fourth College Football Hall of Fame inductee this December.

OKLAHOMA 24 COLORADO 3

Game Eight, October 21, 2006

NORMAN, Okla. — Allen Patrick rushed for 110 yards and a touchdown subbing for injured Heisman candidate Adrian Peterson to lead No. 20 Oklahoma to a 24-3 win over Colorado.

Allen, only the second player to gain 100 yards against the Buffaloes in 21 games, needed 35 carries to get the yards, as CU's linebackers made him earn every one. With the temperature in the 40s all game with stiff winds in the 20-25 mile an hour range all evening, whichever team could establish the run when it was with the wind on offense would have the advantage, and it went to the Sooners.

The Buffaloes were handcuffed from the start on offense; going against the wind in the first quarter, CU had just one first down 26 yards of offense while the Sooners built a 10-0 lead. Paul Thompson and Manuel Johnson hooked up on a three-yard touchdown pass to cap a 12-play, 61-yard effort the first time OU had the ball. OU also used good clock management at the end of the quarter, using two timeouts to assure a field goal attempt with the wind; Garret Hartley connected from 46 yards out with just four seconds left in the stanza and the Sooners had a two-score edge.

That would cap the scoring for the next two quarters. CU had the ball in Sooner territory twice, with Bernard Jackson intercepted by Zach Latimer to end one drive. The other ended with aide of the wind, which blew a Mason Crosby 56-yard field goal attempt wide left. OU had just one real scoring threat in the span, but its first possession of the second half against the wind died on an incomplete fourth down pass at the CU 29.

CU's defense forced OU to punt from its own 20 late in the third quarter, and seemingly would get the ball in great field position to mount a last run at the Sooners. But Stephone Robinson fumbled the punt and the Sooners recovered at their own 46 and proceeded to go 54 yards in 12 plays for the clinching touchdown. The Buffs did get on the board with a 39-yard field goal from Crosby to pull back to within 17-3 with 6:13 left, but OU recovered the onside kick try to squelch the comeback. The Sooners added a cosmetic touchdown with 17 seconds remaining to inflate the final score.

CU had just 113 yards on offense, running only 44 plays to 75 by the Sooners as OU controlled the clock. Thaddaeus Washington recorded a career-high 19 tackles with Jordan Dizon matching his career best with 15 as Colorado's linebacker play shined in the contest. Washington also added four third down stops.

NOTES—Colorado had just 46 yards, also on 44 plays, the last time the two teams met, which was in the 2004 Big 12 title game in Kansas City... OU averaged just 2.8 yards on 55 first and second plays, but converted 9-of-18 third down tries in gaining 119 on the down.

KANSAS 20 COLORADO 15

Game Nine, October 28, 2006

LAWRENCE, Kan. — Trailing 9-0 at halftime, the Kansas coaches decided to pull the redshirt off quarterback Todd Reesing, and the decision proved to be a good one as the Jayhawks utilized the true freshman's talents in rallying for a 20-15 win over the Colorado Buffaloes.

Three Mason Crosby field goals, from 37, 26 and 32 yards, enabled CU to build a 9-0 lead at halftime. The Jayhawk defense stiffened each time the Buffs approached their goal line, and the turning point may have come on CU's first second half possession. Lionel Harris intercepted Reesing at the Kansas 40 to set CU up with a short field, but KU stopped Bernard Jackson cold on a 4th-and-1 try from its 14 to take over on downs, ending the threat.

Two series later, Kansas got on the board thanks to a pair of big plays. Reesing hit Jake Sharp with a 42-yard pass to the Colorado 34, and after a pass interference penalty on Harris set the 'Hawks up with a first down at the CU 22, Reesing hit Jon Cornish in the flat for what turned into a 22-yard touchdown. With the lead down to 9-7, the Buffs appeared poised to answer, marching to the KU 25. But on third down Jackson was intercepted by Aqib Talib, who returned to pick 59 yards to the CU 24. Four plays later, Reesing took it in from three yards out to give KU the lead it would not relinquish.

Reesing engineered another TD drive on KU's next possession, connecting with Derek Fine on a 5-yard scoring pass producing a 20-9 Jayhawk lead (Kansas inexplicably went for and missed a two-point try). The Buffs moved to their 44 but were intercepted on a halfback pass play, and all KU literally had to do was run out the clock. Driving to the Buff 7, Reesing was hit hard by Brandon Nicolas, with the resulting fumble scooped up by Ryan Walters, who returned it 95 yards for a touchdown. CU's two-point try went in and out of the hands of Alvin Barnett and the KU lead remained at five.

An onside kick try by the Buffs failed, but the defense did hold KU to three plays and out. The Buffs had just 59 seconds and no timeouts to work with and could not earn a first down. A 61-yard pass play at the end of the game was even wiped out as Jackson was over the line of scrimmage, mirroring the way the second half had gone for Colorado.

CU forced four turnovers, but could muster just 256 yards on offense in losing to Kansas for the first time since 2000.

NOTES—The loss marked just the 15th time since 1976, but the second time this season, that CU could not hold on to a two-score lead (out of 219 occasions)... James Cox' career came to a premature ending when he suffered a broken thumb in the second quarter... CU dropped to 0-4 on the road, in danger of going winless away from home for the first time since 1984.

KANSAS STATE 34 COLORADO 21

Game Ten, November 4, 2006

10

BOULDER — Josh Freeman completed 22-of-26 passes for 251 yards and two touchdowns, earning Big 12 Offensive player of the week honors in the process, to lead Kansas State to a 34-21 win over Colorado.

The win enabled the Wildcats to become bowl-eligible for the first time since it won the Big 12 title in 2003, while the Buffaloes fell to 1-9 for just the third time in their history, having dropped 13 of their last 14 games.

After a scoreless first quarter, Kansas State posted 17 unanswered points in the second to force Colorado to play from behind the remainder of the game. KSU had worked to the three-score lead on the strength of a 10-play, 66-yard touchdown drive, capped by a 15-yard run by Leon Patton, and two significantly shorter drives. The Wildcats moved to a 14-0 lead three plays after recovering a Stephone Robinson fumble at the CU 16, as Yamon Figurs caught a 9-yard TD pass from Freeman. K-State added a Jeff Snodgrass 46-yard field goal with just one second left in the half.

Despite just 64 yards in the first half, the Buffs still put up a fight and offensively had their best half of the season, scoring 21 points while gaining 306 yards after halftime, but it wouldn't be enough. CU couldn't punch it into the end zone on its first possession of the second half, driving from its 14 to a first-and-goal at the KSU 3, where eventually a fourth down run by quarterback Bernard Jackson came up short at the KSU 1.

The next time CU had the ball, the Buffs did crack the scoreboard, marching 64 yards in six plays, highlighted by a 40-yard run by Mell Holliday and a 3-yard touchdown run by Jackson. Snodgrass nailed a 27-yard field goal after a couple of big plays by the Wildcats to run the KSU lead back up to 20-7, and Jackson personally answered right back with a 62-yard run for a score to cut it to 20-14, the closest the Buffs would come. Just 91 seconds later, Jordy Nelson took a Freeman pass and scored on a 74-yard play, 73 of the yards coming after the catch as he eluded no less than three would-be tacklers.

Jackson connected with tight end Tyson DeVree on a fourth down, 1-yard touchdown pass to close the scoring for the Buffs, but it followed the last KSU score, a Figurs 30-yard run on a reverse that put the Wildcats up by 20. Those plays capped a wild fourth quarter, which saw the teams combine for 31 points and 332 yards.

NOTES—CU dropped to 1-9 for just the third time in its history... The Buffs wore all black uniforms for the second time in 2006... This was just the 20th time in CU's 220-game scoring streak the Buffs waited to extend the streak until the second half... Jackson rushed for 105 yards, his first career 100-yard game.

COLORADO 33 IOWA STATE 16

Game Eleven, November 11, 2006

11

BOULDER — Bernard Jackson threw two touchdown passes and ran for a third as Colorado concluded its home schedule and sent 23 seniors out with a 33-16 win over Iowa State.

Jackson completed 13-of-19 passes for 200 yards and the two scores, the first a 26-yard laser to Alvin Barnett starting a run of seven consecutive drives the Buffs scored on. It was by far Colorado's best offensive game of the year, as CU rolled up a season-high 463 yards on offense.

Mell Holliday rushed for 126 yards, setting up four of the Buff scores in logging a team season-high in single game yards. Two of those were Mason Crosby field goals, as the senior All-American kicked four in the game, the fourth time in his career and the second time against the Cyclones.

With CU jumping to a 30-7 lead after scoring 23 consecutive points one Iowa State tied the score at 7-7, one of the most exciting moments of the game came when Crosby attempted a 65-yard field goal in the fourth quarter, but the try came up less than a yard short.

But there was plenty of excitement en route to that moment, as Crosby made kicks of 47, 38, 41 and 42 yards sandwiched around two other CU touchdowns. Jackson scored on a 5-yard run midway through the second quarter to cap a 15-play, 95-yard drive, CU's longest of the season, which put the Buffs ahead 17-7. Jackson then threw his second scoring pass, this one to Patrick Williams from 39 yards out after the Buffs took possession on a punt, with that score building the Buffalo lead to 30-7 with 5:06 left in the third quarter.

Iowa State played the game just three days after learning its head coach, Dan McCarney, was forced to step down at the end of the season. The Cyclones matched CU's first score on their first possession, marching 86 yards in 10 plays with Bret Meyer and Jon Davis hooking up on a 21-yard touchdown pass. Other than a field goal as the third quarter expired, the only other ISU score came following Crosby's long field goal miss.

NOTES—CU ran 39 plays in plus territory for 233 yards; ISU had just 20 for 102... The Buffs averaged 9.0 yards on 25 first down plays... CU had 314 yards in the first half, easily a season best for a half... CU wore all black for the third time in 2006... The first quarter took just 31 minutes in real time to play... ISU started seven of its 10 drives inside or at its 20-yard line.

NEBRASKA 37 COLORADO 14

Game Twelve, November 24, 2006

12

LINCOLN, Neb. — Zac Taylor threw for 249 yards and two touchdown passes as No. 23 Nebraska had to use a lot of trickery in winning its ninth game of the season as the Cornhuskers ended a disappointing season for Colorado in dispatching the Buffaloes, 37-14.

In a classic “the final score did not indicate how close the game was,” the Huskers snapped a 14-14 tie late in the third quarter thanks to a pass interference call on CU on a halfback pass, and then stole any remaining momentum from the Buffaloes with a safety to open the fourth quarter and then a successful field goal fake five minutes into the period that led to a touchdown. When the blitz was over, NU put 16 points on the scoreboard in less than 10 minutes to take control of the game.

After forcing CU to punt on its first possession, NU’s Major Culbert got a piece of the ball on Matt DiLallo’s kick, the ball rolling 26 yards to set the Huskers up at their own 42. Taylor threw his first TD pass of the day to Terrence Nunn some 10 plays later, the drive aided by an alleged face mask on CU’s Abraham Wright which replays showed not to be the case. The call nullified a third down sack and kept the drive alive.

But the Buffaloes bounced right back and marched 75 yards in six plays to tie the score, with Bernard Jackson connecting with Riar Geer on a 14-yard touchdown pass. Nebraska took a 14-7 lead into halftime, as with just over four minutes left in the second quarter, Joe Ganz lined up where the field goal kicker normally would, took the snap, and then hit defensive end Barry Turner with a 29-yard TD throw, as the play totally fooled the Buffs.

Nebraska was driving to open the second half, but Lionel Harris forced Brandon Jackson to fumble at the CU 19, where Thaddaeus Washington recovered and returned it to the 29. Four plays later, Mell Holliday broke free for a 45-yard run that tied the game for the final time, as the Huskers would score the last 23 points of the game, the final seven coming on a cosmetic TD run with just 23 seconds left.

Jordon Dizon had a career-high 19 tackles for the Buffaloes, who saw NU run 76 plays to just their 54.

NOTES— The loss dropped CU to 2-10 on the season, just the third 10-loss campaign in 117 years at the school... It was CU’s 14th straight loss to a ranked team... Holliday played his high school ball in Omaha but was denied the chance to walk-on at Nebraska, so his TD run was some “sweet revenge.”

A NOTE TO OUR FANS AND LETTERMEN ABOUT

MEDIA GUIDES: NCAA legislation (April 2005) limited media guides for all sports to a maximum of 208 pages; this meant at Colorado that we had to cut 284 pages from the previous publication to conform to the new limitation. Most of that came from our in-depth history and records section, which we feel was second-to-none in the nation. Many schools along with CU that labored to pay great tribute to their histories and alumni were unfairly penalized due to those who were wasteful. We at Colorado, along with all other schools in the Big 12 Conference, did not agree with the legislation, but for the immediate future, there are no changes on the horizon. Hopefully, schools one day will be able to return to recording and presenting their history as they desire without these ridiculous limitations. In the interim, please visit www.CUBuffs.com for additional information on our past; the players and accomplishments of our past may have been erased from this publication by the NCAA mandate, but you can find them on-line. — David Plati

ALL-CENTURY TEAM

The University of Colorado selected an "All-Century Football Team," as public balloting in 1989 tabbed 11 All-Americans among the top 25 selected to the 100-year squad.

Over 6,200 ballots were received in the public selection process, with over 150,000 votes cast from those ballots. Former CU players pared a list of 881 lettermen down to 118, which were in turn presented to the public for the final team selection.

Byron "Whizzer" White, the U.S. Supreme Court Justice who was CU's first All-American (1937), received 5,812 of a possible 6,265 votes. Bobby Anderson, who starred at both quarterback and tailback between 1967 and 1969, was the second leading vote-getter with 5,636, and two-way-star Joe Romig, who led CU to its first outright Big Eight Championship in 1961, was third with 5,145. White (#24), Anderson (#11) and Romig (#67) are the only Buffs to ever have their numbers retired.

One other player topped the 5,000 vote mark, as flashy Cliff Branch, whose name still frequently appears in the CU record book and who played a big part in the Buffs' No. 3 national ranking of 1971, captured 5,111 votes. The player with the fifth most votes, 3,989, was the only active Buff at the time to make the top 25, tailback Eric Bieniemy (a junior in 1989).

Joining White, Anderson and Romig as All-Americans on the century squad were Dick Anderson ('67), Pete Brock ('75), Mark Haynes ('79), Dave Logan ('75), Herb Orvis ('71) and Bob Stransky ('57).

Four players in the early years of CU football made the team, led by Walt Franklin, who played center and end between 1917 and 1921. Back Lee Willard ('21), Judge Hatfield Chilson ('25) and guard Bill McGlone ('26) round out the quartet which represents the formative seasons of CU football, when the team was known as the "Silver and Gold."

Other familiar names on the team include Hale Irwin, who starred at defensive back in the mid-60's but gained his fame on the PGA Tour; John Stearns, another pivotal player of the 1971 team who went on to be a star catcher with the New York Mets; Dave Logan, a veteran of 10-plus NFL seasons and current sportstalk celebrity in Denver; Carroll

John Wooten

John Stearns

Hardy, who played in the early 1950's and is the only man ever to pinch-hit for Ted Williams; and John Wooten, one of the first African-American players at CU who has spent several years in the scouting departments of the NFL Dallas Cowboys and Philadelphia Eagles.

Listed below are the 25 members of the University of Colorado All-Century (1890-1989) Football Team, selected by lettermen and the public over a three-month voting period. Another 28 players were selected to an honorable mention team:

RETIRED NUMBERS

#24 BYRON "WHIZZER" WHITE

Colorado's first All-American and one of the greatest students in the history of the school, Byron (Whizzer) White, retired as a justice of the Supreme Court in March, 1993, after serving 31 years on the nation's high court.

White made all the All-America teams after a brilliant 1937 season in which he led CU to an 8-0 record and Cotton Bowl bid as he set national records with 1,121 rushing yards and 122 points. Those marks, erased nationally only after colleges went to 10- and 11-game schedules, set CU records.

White was a Phi Beta Kappa, Rhodes Scholar, two-time All-Pro halfback with Pittsburgh and Detroit, leading graduate of the Yale Law School in 1946, decorated naval intelligence officer in World War II, leading Denver attorney, and deputy attorney general for the United States. White is a member of the NFL Hall-of-Fame, the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall-of-Fame, the GTE Academic Hall-of-Fame, the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference Hall-of-Fame, and was selected to CU's "All-Century Team." In 1998, he was the first inductee into CU's Athletic Hall-of-Fame. He passed away at the age of 84 on April 15, 2002.

#67 JOE ROMIG

Romig, a two-time All-American selection, is a member of the Big Eight Hall-of-Fame and the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame. Now a senior research associate in radio physics in Boulder, Romig was the Buffs' 1961 team captain and the United Press International Lineman of the year. Romig had no peers as a linebacker, as he ranged far and fiercely from his middle linebacker position behind a four-man line. Fast and strong, he was consistently in on most of CU's tackles.

Offensively, Romig developed into an excellent straight-ahead and pulling blocker. Like White, he was an inspirational leader gifted with extraordinary physical and mental abilities.

Romig was a tremendous student, logging straight A's in his last six semesters and building a 3.9 grade-point average. He was also a Danforth and Woodrow Wilson Scholar. A Rhodes Scholar, Joe received his master's degree in physics at Oxford University in England and a doctorate in physics at Colorado in 1975. He is a member of the GTE Academic Hall-of-Fame and was selected to CU's "All-Century Team." In 1999, he was part of the second class to be inducted into CU's Athletic Hall-of-Fame.

#11 BOBBY ANDERSON

Anderson set 18 single-game, single-season and career marks during his three-season career with the Buffs along with earning All-Big Eight and All-American honors.

A professional player with Denver (the team's No. 1 draft choice), Washington and New England, Anderson started his CU career as a quarterback but switched to tailback for the third game of his senior season (1969). In his career, he rushed for 2,729 yards and had over 5,000 yards in total offense.

Anderson concluded his Colorado career with a 254-yard rushing effort in the 1969 Liberty Bowl as the Buffs beat Alabama 47-33. He currently is a Denver-area businessman, and has worked over two decades for KOA-Radio handling pre- and post-game shows as well as sideline reporting on the CU Football Network. He is a member of CU's "All-Century Team." In 1999, he received the prestigious University Medal, awarded to those who have performed outstanding service to or for the University. In December 2006, he was the fourth Buffalo to be inducted into the College Football Hall-of-Fame.

THE NATIONAL PLAY-OF-THE-YEAR

In 1992, Nu Skin International and CoSIDA started sponsorship of "The National Play-of-the-Year," honoring the most outstanding play annually in college football. Notre Dame won the inaugural honor in 1992, but the University of Colorado won for both the 1993 and 1994 seasons. Here's a closer look at CU's winning plays:

1993 (October 16; Colorado 27, Oklahoma 10)—Lamont Warren throws a 34-yard touchdown pass to Charles Johnson on the halfback option play. What made it special? Warren slipped on the slick artificial surface as he threw the ball, and some 40 yards later in the end zone, Johnson made the catch on the ground after he was interfered with. The play defied imagination, and is truly appreciated when looked at in slow motion.

1994 (September 24; Colorado 27, Michigan 26)—College football's play of the decade, this effort also won an "Espy" from ESPN for the play of the year in all of sports for 1994. As time expired, Kordell Stewart throws a 64-yard touchdown pass to Michael Westbrook, who made the catch after a Blake Anderson deflection. CU had trailed, 26-14, with under four minutes remaining, and trailed by five with 15 seconds left on its own 15-yard line after stopping Michigan on defense.

ALL-TIME LETTERMEN

Throughout the years, various standards have been used to determine who has been awarded letters at CU (as well as at every school in the nation, as all set their own criteria). From the 1930s until the late 1970s, letters were awarded based on a player seeing action in at least half of the quarters played by CU in a particular season. In recent times, criteria have ranged from a minimum of 100 plays in a season or possessing a special skill (the Bill McCartney Era) to playing at least one snap in at least one game (Rick Neuheisel Era). Under Gary Barnett, the Buffs returned to the criteria that McCartney first instituted, and Dan Hawkins has similar criteria. In addition, it has been a standing policy since 1982 to award letters to all seniors in the program, regardless of playing time.

Jersey numbers, heights and weights are generally those listed in CU publications (or other sources) in the player's final letter-winning year. Positions are listed in the terminology of the era in which the letterman played; if more than one position is listed, then that player saw substantial game time at those positions. Hometowns are usually the place from which the player came to CU, followed by the high school and any previous institution, be it a junior or senior college.

There are 1,781 known football lettermen at the University of Colorado, but information prior to 1940 is limited at best and thus some holes do exist. The list below was researched and expanded with the help of the late CU athletic historian Fred Casotti in 1999; if you have additional information on yourself or someone on this list, please call the Sports Information Office at 303/492-5626.

MEDIA INFORMATION

MEDIA CREDENTIALS for covering athletic events at the University of Colorado can be obtained by writing the Sports Information Office two weeks in advance of the scheduled contest. Requests which are approved will either be mailed or left at the will call window (located in the ticket building adjacent to Gate 6, just off Colorado Avenue). Coverage of all CU athletic events dictate approval of press credentials for Colorado media outlets; radio and television stations must cover practice and/or get postgame and postpractice tape on a regular basis to qualify for credentials.

PHOTOGRAPHER CREDENTIALS will be issued only to officially recognized media outlets and/or individuals on special assignment. Only working photographers will be allowed on the sidelines. Photographers must have their passes displayed at all times on the sidelines, and must remain outside the 25-yard lines on both sides of the field. A limit of 25 field photo passes will be permitted for members of the media which cover the visiting team.

FAX SERVICE is available on a first-come, first-served basis. Please contact the Sports Information Office either in advance or on the day of the game.

TELEPHONE SERVICES are available through Qwest Communications, but it is advised that you make your arrangements at least one week in advance of the game. To order a phone line, contact Laura Salava with Qwest at 800/301-9220 (FAX: 800/705-3307) for installation. The address of the press box when asked is 2005 Colorado Avenue. Qwest provides a line only; you must make arrangements for your own telephone set. Note: Please check with Sports Information on your telephone needs: there are six ethernet connections, seven courtesy lines in the press box after the game (four available for in-game use), along with wireless Internet access in the pressbox.

VISITING RADIO personnel desiring to broadcast athletic events from the University of Colorado should contact the Sports Information Office at the earliest possible date to request permission to broadcast. The station is responsible for making its own arrangements with Qwest (Laura Salava, 800/301-9220). Qwest will contact CU for booth assignment. Spotters and/or statisticians are available upon request (please request at least 72 hours before the event).

PRESS BOX SERVICES include play-by-play and statistical highlights at the end of each period. Full statistical facts and figures along with quotes from coaches and players will be available following the contest. The media will be escorted to the locker rooms following the event for postgame interviews. Coach Hawkins' postgame press conference can also be heard over the audio system in the press box for those media members who can't make it down to the lockerroom after the game. An informal luncheon will be served in the press box starting two hours prior to kickoff.

HANDICAP ACCESS is available via elevator to the Folsom Field press box facility at the north end of Balch Fieldhouse.

A "NO SMOKING" POLICY is in effect at Folsom Field, including the press box, to conform with CU policy concerning smoking on campus. Those members of the media who do smoke will be directed to those areas of the stadium where smoking is permitted.

PARKING passes are limited. The media must request parking along with their credentials request. Media outlets covering the University of Colorado on a regular basis will have first priority.

FOLSOM FIELD is located in the University of Colorado campus at the corner of Colorado Avenue and Folsom Street. Driving time from Denver International Airport is approximately 50 minutes via the Denver-Boulder Turnpike (U.S. 36). The Press Box is located on the west side of the stadium, and the entrance for the media is on the west side of the field adjacent to Gate 1. The press box phone numbers are 303/492-5626 and 303/492-3209.
